Georgia Mob Gluts Hatred by Murdering Frank British Transport and 1,000 Men Sunk by U-Boat

LEO M. FRANK'S BODY DANGLES FROM A TREE

Armed Band That Abducted Him From
Milledgeville Prison Took Him
100 Miles and Lynched Him

BULLETIN.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 17.—It is believed Frank's body arrived in Atlanta between 12 and 1 o'clock today but that could not be verified. The undertakers engaged to meet the automobile bearing the body at the outskirts of the city, refused to affirm or deny that they had arranged to take it.

Marietta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Leo M. Frank, serving a life term for the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl, and who was taken from the prison farm at Milledgeville last night, was lynched two miles east of here today by the armed party which took him.

Frank's body was found hanging to a tree where the mob had lynched him.

Frank was brought 100 miles from the prison farm to a point almost within sight of the former home of Mary Phagan. No shots were fired.

Frank's body, barefooted and clad only in prison trousers and shirt, was found at 8:30 o'clock this morning. It is believed he was lynched about daylight.

Several automobiles, well loaded, left here in the direction of Milledgeville last night. After the return of some of the machines today, officers started out on the road which they believed the automobiles had traveled. They had gone only two miles when they saw the body of Frank hanging from a tree.

News that the body had been found spread rapidly and within a short time hundreds of persons were crowding to the scene. No immediate effort was made to cut the body down, as Sheriff Hicks was not in town and the coroner took no action.

LAST MINUTE NEWS

New York, Aug. 17.—President R. B. Ward, of the Brooklyn Federal League club announced today that he had received and accepted the formal resignation of Lee Magee as manager of the Brooklyn team, which is playing in Pittsburgh. Magee, who has been ailing for a few days, will continue to play at second base. His contract with the club still has two years to run and Magee's chief reason for resigning is that he cannot do justice to the club in the capacity of player and manager. Mr. Ward said Magee's successor would be announced in a few days.

TROPICAL STORM IS STILL RAGING HIGH

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 17.—The general offices of the Atchinson, Topeka & Santa Fe railway here today received a report from the agent at Wallis, Texas, the nearest point to Galveston, with which the local officials were able to communicate, that the storm was still raging there, while the wind had a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour. Orders have been sent to all repair men and work crews on the southern division to start at once for the storm territory.

GREAT ROCK KILLS SEVERAL IN TRAIN

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 17.—The smoker and baggage car of a passenger train on the Coal River branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad were crushed today by a heavy rock as the train was passing through Pinacle tunnel, near McCorkle, W. Va. J. C. Fennimore, a wealthy coal operator, of Huntington; Jack Turley, of Alum Creek, W. Va.; J. G. Plymale, of Gallipolis, Ohio, the news vendor, whose name has not been ascertained, and another unidentified man, were killed, and twenty or more passengers were injured. Great trains were

But Germany is Asked to State Future Policy
of Naval War.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The American reply to Germany's last note on the sinking of the American sailing ship, William P. Frye, made public here today by the state department, accepts the proposal that damages be fixed by a mixed commission and that the disputed treaty provisions be submitted to arbitration at The Hague, but calls on Germany for a statement, meanwhile, as to whether she intends to conduct her future naval operations in accordance with her interpretation of the Prussian-American treaty or those of the United States.

The note is regarded as putting the noted case well on the way to a settlement. It is addressed by Secretary Lansing to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin.

No Difference of Opinion.

In its concluding paragraphs the note contains the following:
"There can be no difference of opinion between the two governments as to the desirability of having this question of the true intent and meaning of their treaty stipulations determined without delay, and to that end the government of the United States proposes that the alternative suggestion of the imperial German government also be adopted, so that this question of treaty interpretation can be submitted forthwith for arbitration, pursuant to article 39 of The Hague convention for the pacific settlement of international disputes. In this way the question of interpretation can be settled and it will be observed that the only change made in the plan proposed by the imperial Government is that in-

DON EASLEY HURT IN SHALLOW DIVE

He Plunges Head Foremost
Into Three Feet of Water
at Lake James.

C. Don Easley, of Geraldine street, is suffering from a terribly lacerated head as the result of diving into less than three feet of water at Lake James. Easley is an athlete, and an expert swimmer, but he misjudged the depth of the water at the end of a Lake James pier and went in head foremost. The bottom was stony and a jagged wound all the way to the skull was cut across the top of his head. It required several stitches to close the laceration.

EIGHT LOCAL MEN QUALIFY FOR SHOOT

THIEVES STEAL AUTO OF C. L. BORNSCHNEIN

Was Taken from the Garage
Time During Night.

When C. L. Bornschein, of the Wayne Coterie and manager of the Coco-Cola Bottling works on Maumee avenue, went to the garage at the rear of his residence Tuesday morning for his Hupmobile roadster he found the garage empty and no auto in sight. Thieves entered the garage some time during the night and made well their escape.

Mr. Bornschein put the machine in the building at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening and did not discover his loss until about 7:30 Tuesday morning, so that the party who took possession of the auto may have an eight or ten-hour start on the authorities.

The roadster is a Model K of this year's make and bore the license number 29,588, Indiana, 1915. It was painted black and had a red running gear. The police were notified immediately after Mr. Bornschein discovered his loss and are putting forth all efforts to restore the stolen property and bring the thief or thieves to justice.

POSTPONE WOMEN'S DAY CELEBRATION

Manager C. H. Williams, of Robison park, announced late Tuesday afternoon that Women's day has been postponed till Thursday owing to the predictions of cold and clouds Wednesday. Provided it is not warm and sunny Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the celebration will be postponed again until next Wednesday. Manager Williams states that he will hold this celebration on a bright and sunny day this year, or not hold it at all.

REAL ESTATE MEN MEET THIS EVENING

Instead of the regular weekly noon day meeting the members of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange will meet this evening at the Commercial club at 6:30 o'clock. WOULD STOP WAR EXPORTS

Protest is Made in Resolutions Adopted at the Peace Meeting.

STRICT NEUTRALITY URGED BY SPEAKERS

Henry Vollmer and Patrick
ring Addresses.

As a protest against the exportation of munitions of war to the belligerent nations now engaged in the most gigantic conflict in the world's history, a "peace and neutrality" meeting was held Monday evening at the New Palace theater. Resolutions were adopted calling upon the president of the United States to establish an embargo and stirring addresses were delivered by Patrick O'Donnell of Chicago, and Representative Henry Vollmer, of Davenport, Iowa, urging the strictest kind of neutrality to prevent all possibilities of this great country becoming embroiled in the trouble.

Patrick O'Donnell declared that the much discussed and much criticized German militarism is nothing in comparison with English navalism, which he characterized as the greatest menace with which the world has to contend.

Freedom Through the Kaiser.
When the war is over, when the last story is told, if the naval power of Britain is reduced to the naval power of the United States, the world will be given freedom and it will come through the German Kaiser, he declared. He said that Ireland was a good example that England doesn't go to war for a small people, and that if she

TWO LOCAL CONCERNS ARE INCORPORATED

Two Fort Wayne companies filed incorporation papers with the county clerk Tuesday, each being incorporated in the sum of $10,000. The Fort Wayne Bill Posting company is incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing, selling and renting bill boards and stands and for erecting, maintaining and using the same. The stock is divided into two hundred shares at $50 a share. The directors are W. B. Merrill, Anna G. Merrill and T. H. Merrill.

The Fuhrman Auto company is incorporated for the purpose of buying, selling and repairing automobiles, gasolene tractors, automobile parts and accessories. The stock is divided into one hundred shares at $100 each. The directors are William J. Fuhrman, George DeWald and Clifford Beall.

GIVEN A DAY'S TIME TO CUT WEEDS ON LOT

Four property owners of Fort Wayne appeared in the city court before Judge Kerr Tuesday morning on charges of failure to cut the weeds on their premises. Two of them reported that the weeds had already been cut while the other two were given until Wednesday morning to remove them from their lots.

They were told that if they would not comply with this order that an affidavit would be sworn against them and a fine imposed. They promised to have their property freed from weeds by this evening if they had to do overalls and do it themselves.

Michael Baltes and Carl Weber reported that the weeds had been removed while William J. Hess and A. J. Schorr were given one day's time to have it done. The failure on their part to comply with the order before this was due in one case because he was absent from the city, while the other was under the impression that it had been done as he had given orders for the cutting of same.

STULTS CLOSES DEAL FOR BUSINESS LOTS

Arthur W. Stults has closed a deal for the business property at 119-121 West Main street, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stults, and eventually to be sold to the city of Fort Wayne.

BRITAIN LOSES FIRST TROOPS ON TRANSPORT

Torpedo of Teuton Submarine Sends Down
Royal Edward and 1,000 Men for Dardanelles.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The British transport, Royal Edward, conveying troops to the Dardanelles, was sunk by a submarine in the Aegean sea last Saturday. Probably 1,000 men were lost.

The sinking statement announcing the sinking enumerates a total of 1,620 persons on board the Royal Edward and adds that according to the information about 600 were saved.

Nearly 1,400 of those the transport carried were troops, while the crew numbered 220.

Advices from Athens say King Constantine accepted the resignation of the Gonaris cabinet and M. Z. Venezelos was invited to consult with the king today.

Activity is increasing along the Austro-Italian front according to the latest official reports. Rome claims progress in the Sexten region in the Bacherbach and Botch valleys and in the Monte Nero zone. Vienna declares Italian attacks at various points along the line failed.

Turkish reports on the Dardanelles operations declare attacks by newly landed troops of the entente allies have been repulsed.

The Germans have won a new and important success at Kovno, Berlin reports today, capturing the forts that lie between the Niemen river and Giesia, two and one-half miles to the south of Kovno proper.

Much war material, including 240 cannon and 4,500 prisoners, were taken in the Kovno operations, the German statement announced.

Additional inroads were made on the defenses of Novogorodsk where three forts have been captured. At this fortress 2,400 prisoners, 19 cannon and other material were taken.

Further progress by the armies of Prince Leopold of Bavaria and Field Marshal von Mackensen, pressing toward Brest-Litovsk, is reported.

CYCLONE'S HAVOC IN SOUTHERN HAITI

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Sunday, Aug. 15.—(Delayed in transmission.)—A violent cyclone has devastated the entire southern side of the Haitian republic. There have been numerous victims in the towns along the coast.

The town of Aux Cayes, 92 miles southwest of Port Au Prince and with a population of 25,000, suffered particularly. The towns of Grandville and Pettiteville were destroyed. In the interior heavy floods are reported. The coffee crop has been in part destroyed.

All communication by telegraph or cable with the devastated districts has been interrupted.

TWO LOCAL RECRUITS ACCEPTED FOR NAVY

Two recruits for service in Uncle Sam's navy sent to Indianapolis last week from the Fort Wayne recruiting station in the federal building were accepted. They were a son of seven and a daughter of five.

GAIN OF RATE IS ONLY TEMPORARY

Five Million Gold Rushed
Fails to Brace.

New York, Aug. 17.—The slight improvement in foreign exchange rates gained in yesterday's late rally was wiped out at the opening of the exchange market today. Pounds sterling again touched the bottom quotation of 4.64; francs made a new low record, 6.64 cents under yesterday's quotation and Italian lire seven cents under the closing figure of yesterday and six cents below the previous low record.

As on yesterday, the exchange markets were in condition of demoralization. Quotations issued simultaneously by leading banking houses showed variations of a cent to a cent and a half on sterling with corresponding discrepancies in francs and liras. In the chaotic condition of the market it was impossible to ascertain these quotations represented mere offerings or actual business.

British Gold Fails to Help.

Nearly five million dollars in foreign gold coin reached Wall street during the forenoon from Ottawa for the account of Great Britain. At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., to whom the gold was consigned, it was said that no further consignments from Ottawa had been arranged for or were expected in the near future.

The arrival of this gold, however, failed to deflect the rate upward, the sum being but a small fraction of the bills which American manufacturers and shippers of war munitions and other supplies are pressing against buyers abroad.

CONFERRING WITH GENERAL MANAGER

Executive Board of Wabash
to St. Louis.

James A. Lechler, Wabash machinist, received instructions to go to St. Louis to attend a meeting of the executive board of the Wabash federation of unions with General Superintendent S. E. Cotter, which is being held in the latter's office today. Mr. Lechler is a member of the executive board and has attended two or more similar meetings during the past three or four months. He did not divulge the character of the business to be handled today, but it concerns matters of interest to the shop employees, it is believed. Mr. Lechler left on train No. 3 for St. Louis last night and may not return until the latter part of the week.

SAFEGUARDING PATRONS.

Pennsylvania Eliminates Danger of Spreading Disease.

The efforts of the Pennsylvania railroad to insure that no person with even a tendency toward a communicable disease shall have anything to do with serving food on its trains and in its restaurants have had results. A quarterly report just made to the company of an examination made of all the Pullman employees who serve food in buffet Pullman cars on the Pennsylvania railroad, shows that not a single one of the sixty-five employees was found to have any trace of a communicable disease.

The Pennsylvania railroad, in January, 1913, established a rule to have a physical examination made of all dining car and restaurant employees every three months. Later it was ordered that these examinations should be held every thirty days. Now the rule is to examine every one of these employees at least every thirty days.

These examinations cover every employee who has anything whatsoever to do with the preparation or serving of food. Dishwashers, kitchen helpers, cooks and waiters, both white and colored, must undergo a rigid examination and only a 100 per cent. report on their physical condition will permit their remaining in the service.

If a Pennsylvania railroad dining car or restaurant employee becomes disabled through any cause, he is not permitted to return to work until he receives a "certificate of ability" from one of the company's doctors. In order to safeguard the service with every possible precaution, there are provided at "lay-over points" for dining car stewards, waiters and cooks, special lodgings with clean linens, clean beds, and every sanitary protection. These rooms receive regular, careful and minute inspection.

The Pennsylvania railroad is applying to its dining car service the principles of safety which it is enforcing in every department. In its restaurants and dining cars it is endeavoring through the exercise of every sanitary measure, to safeguard the health of passengers and its employees.

THE LAST SOCIAL.

Friendship Division Announces Tea Party for Tomorrow.

The last of a series of most pleasant social events given at the hall, 1018 Calhoun street, under the auspices of Friendship division, No. 18, Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, will be the tea Wednesday afternoon. The members and friends who will attend are requested to bring their fancy work. The committee in whose hands has been placed the arrangements for the tea are Mesdames L. Jones, Mills, Yerrick, Smith, Thomas, T. McCarthy, Trimble, Craft, Kruse Hughes and Nipper. This series of teas has been enjoyed by a large number of the members of the auxiliary and friends and a big attendance is predicted for tomorrow.

NEW CREW LIST.

Improved Freight Movement Causes Increase in Crews.

The improvement in the freight business on the Pennsylvania which began a week or ten days ago, has reached a point where it has been necessary to increase the number of engine crews. Consequently, Freight Firemen I. A. Herber, E. G. Ludwig, D. Sheffer, W. F. Spicer and C. C. Niles have been advanced to the extra passenger firemen list and C. P. Lake, L. F. Wood, O. L. Leedy and F. W. Brent have been "set up" to extra engines.

LOST END OF FINGER.

Assistant Foreman Harry Cashdollar, of the assembly room at the Fort Wayne Electric works, had the end of the second finger of his right hand crushed this morning, when it was caught between the jam and a door at his home.

LOST AMONG THE COTTAGES.

A Wabash employee handed the Sentinel reporter the following item this morning: "Barney Mohl, who was spending his vacation at Rome City, became lost amidst the cottages one night as he was returning to his cottage after a visit with a friend. After wandering about over an hour, it became apparent to him that if he was to reach his bed that night it would be by the assistance of others. Acting accordingly, he set up a yell, which soon brought out all the occupants of the cottages thereabouts and one of the party, recognizing Mr. Mohl, conducted him to the door of his cottage and peace and quietude soon reigned over the scene."

SPECIAL FOR SETTLERS.

The annual meeting of old settlers in eastern and central Indiana will be held at Ridgeville tomorrow and will be attended by hundreds of people from the towns in that territory. On account of the regular train schedule giving adequate service southbound in the late afternoon, the company has arranged to run a special train from Ridgeville to Richmond to take the people from that territory home. It will leave Fort Wayne at 3 o'clock.

BOUGHT FINE TEAM.

Dr. J. Sion Smith, representing the B. & F. Foundry and Machine works, went to Mayville yesterday and purchased two fine draft horses for use at the foundry. Each of the horses is eighteen and a quarter hands high and weighs 1,700 pounds and cost in the neighborhood of $250. One animal was purchased from Mr. Lenx and the other from Mr. Harding, farmers residing near Mayville.

ON FIRST OFFICIAL TRIP.

Division Operator R. G. Jones, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, is out on the Fort Wayne-Grand Rapids end of the division on his first inspection trip in his new capacity. He accompanied Supt. R. H. Hudson over the line.

PRICE REMAINS AT 25 CENTS.

The proposition to boost the price of a haircut to thirty-five cents was voted down by the Barbers' union last night. The vote stood fifty-seven against the proposition and forty-eight for it. The proposition was hotly contested.

RECEIVES CUT BACK OF EAR.

As he was welding a sledge in the Pennsylvania boiler shop yesterday it came off the handle and struck L. J. Cornelle on the head, inflicting a wound back of the ear. The unfortunate man will be unable to work for several days.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Engineer H. A. Bricker, of the G. & I., is taking a lay off to look after some private business. Alfred Meyers, of the Pennsylvania tin shop, has gone to Crooked Lake to spend a few days. Engineer Otto Rost, of the Pennsylvania, left yesterday for Iowa to visit relatives a few days. George Schwartz, a Wabash fireman, is spending a few days fishing at Rome City.

Emil Gellert, a draftsman at the Bass shops, has gone to Lima to spend the first half of his vacation week. Boilermaker Ed Seibold, of the Wabash shops, and his wife, have returned from a visit in Chicago.

Division Engineer W. S. Dames, of the Wabash, was in the city a short time this morning.

Mrs. Nettie N. King, stenographer for E. A. Barnes, factory superintendent of the Fort Wayne Electric works, entered upon a two weeks' vacation yesterday. Louis Russell has completed a vacation spent at Rome City and has resumed work in the Pennsylvania boiler shop.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. O'Day and son will spend the latter part of the week at Chicago. Mr. O'Day is a Pennsylvania machinist.

Thomas J. O'Reilly, apprentice to the Wabash blacksmiths' shop for several days. Yesterday he had one of his hands severely cut.

Tank Repairer F. J. Gronau, of the Pennsylvania shops, sustained an injury to his neck a few days ago and has been unable to work since. C. A. Scott and A. D. Heine, who had been on the sick list, resumed work at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning. C. W. Stoll and W. G. Teilmeyer, who had been sick, resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

C. L. Horner, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, is making arrangements for a visit with friends in Chicago the last of the week.

O. C. Wright, assistant engineer of motive power of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, returned this morning from a business trip to Altoona, Pa.

William F. Melching, employment agent at the Fort Wayne Electric works, accompanied by his family, went to Lake George last night to spend a two weeks' vacation.

Division Operator J. F. Betts, of the G. & I., started upon a two weeks' vacation yesterday. He will spend the time quietly, possibly making a trip to the lakes the latter part of the vacation term.

Carl E. Roembke, of Captain Stoll's office, is taking a ten days' trip east and will visit police departments at a number of cities on the Pennsylvania lines.

S. Burlage was taken ill while at work in the Pennsylvania storeroom this morning and had to go home. Joseph English, of the same department, is also sick and off duty.

Wabash engine 2043, which received repairs in the local shops during the past week, was given into the hands of the "engine tamer" this morning, to be tested for valve motion.

G. F. Belschneit, of the Pennsylvania boiler shop, who was off duty with an injured eye, showed up for work this morning. J. Budrick, the electric worker, who was sick, also reported for work at the boiler shop this morning.

General Foreman M. S. Willson, of the testing department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, is on duty again after spending a vacation with his son at Beckville, O. Raymond Hoffman had charge of the department during the absence of Mr. Willson.

P. Richardson, assistant chief clerk at the Pennsylvania motive power office, has resumed that duty after a vacation spent in part at Monroe, Mich. Jacob Reiber and W. E. Blessing, clerks in the same department, entered upon their vacation this morning.

The annual old settlers' meeting at Columbia City is on and among the Fort Wayne people who are attending it are Mrs. F. E. More and Miss Ruth More, wife and daughter of Motive Power Inspector F. E. More, of the Pennsylvania.

Everette Mikesell, for some time employed as fireman at the Lutheran hospital, has resigned and this morning took employment as a helper at the Pennsylvania boiler shop. George Yingling, formerly of the Rolling Mills, has also taken employment with Foreman B. F. Sarver at the boiler shop.

C. M. South, assistant to Vice-President J. J. Turner, of the Pennsylvania, and his family, who had been spending a week or two at a resort in Michigan, passed through the city last night en route home. They made the trip in Mr. Turner's private car, which from this city to Pittsburg was a part of train 36.

James E. Gouran, one of the veteran commercial agents for the Wabash railway system with headquarters at Peoria, Ill., and well known among older railroad men of the city, is dead of paralysis at St. Francis hospital in Peoria. He was stricken ten days ago and sank rapidly to the end. For fifty years he had been engaged in railroad work.

Engineer and Mrs. Theodore Titus will leave Thursday on a visit to St. Louis. On their return home they will prepare for attending the annual family reunion of the Harrison Rowe families at Indian Lake, two and a half miles from Vicksburg, Mich. This reunion will be held September 1 and will be attended by over 100 people.

The Fort Wayne Building Trades council last night made one election cover two events—delegates to the Indiana State Building Trades council and the Indiana State Federation of Labor—by electing one set of men for each. They are: Dan Long, of the sheet metal workers; C. O. Kreckman, painters; Charles Krider, carpenters; Robert Boltz, plumbers; Miss Elizabeth Maloney, general organizer of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers, attended the council and delivered an address.

clerical position in the office of the superintendent of construction. But now Roberts has got a "regular" job, washing prisoners' clothes.

Roberts' laundry was not done up to suit his one day and he complained to the laundry superintendent. "Do you think it could be done any better?" the laundry man asked him. "I'd think anybody could do better work than this," the ex-mayor retorted.

So the jail superintendent very kindly transferred Roberts to the wash tub and another prisoner who wasn't particular about his linen has the clerical position.

JUBILEE YEAR OF THE GRAND REVIEW

Great Spectacle of 1865 to Be Repeated at G. A.
R. Encampment.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—In the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the grand review which is one of the principal features of the forthcoming annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in Washington, September 27 to October 3, forty thousand marchers will pass in line before the president of the United States and his cabinet. This was the announcement made today by Col. George A. Bosley, of Boston, the national chief of staff, who is here making arrangements for the event.

The grand review of the victorious veterans of the civil war, which occurred in Washington immediately following the close of the great struggle was one of the most spectacular military incidents in the history of the world. It was the most impressive pageant which had ever occurred in warfare up to that time, and elaborate preparations have been made to honor the old soldiers to commemorate it at their coming encampment. The line of march will be from the capital to the white house along historic Pennsylvania avenue which today presents a vastly different appearance from what it was a half century ago when the returning warriors passed in grand review before President Johnson, his cabinet and the general staff of the army. It will rival any inaugural parade which the city has ever witnessed.

The greater portion of the marchers will be veterans of the blue, most of whom participated in the march fifty years ago, but it will also include those who belonged to various army corps which did not take part in the concluding event of the civil war. Among the veterans will be the Sons of Veterans and kindred organizations as well as troops from the regular army, members of the marine corps, sailors from battleships, cadets, and independent military bodies as well as civilian escorts.

Washington citizens have perfected all arrangements for entertaining and housing the large number of veterans and their families as well as the great number of visitors who are coming here to participate in or witness the event.

M'COMB COMPLETES HIS ANNUAL REPORT

D. O. McComb, superintendent of the schools of Allen county, has completed his annual report for the state board of education, showing the amount received from the county auditor in January, 1915, was $46,197.49, while the amount the township received from the auditor in July, 1915, was $51,871.53. The report shows that the amount of funds on hand July 31, 1914, was $82,557.75 and the transfers received from the tuition fund, $5,085.03. Anatomik SHOES support your weight. The muscles being relieved of the strain, there is a rapid cessation of the foot-ache and rheumatic-like pains that so often follow the wearing of ordinary shoes.

The scientifically constructed bottom of the Anatomik shoe receives the thrust of the body weight, which thrust, in ordinary shoes, comes upon the soft upper of the shoe, so that the ankle turns in and the muscles are strained.

Flat foot and other foot troubles are caused by the wearing of ordinary shoes; they are prevented and cured by the use of Anatomik shoes. You will at once see the reason for this if you will read the Anatomik booklet to be had at our store.

Anatomik shoes were invented by an orthopedic surgeon to overcome the defects of ordinary shoes. He did not give his ideas to the shoe-man and tell him to work them out, but he fashioned out the last he wanted with his own hands. This last conforms to the anatomy of the foot; it is not shaped like the manufacturer thinks the foot ought to be; it differs from the ordinary last in many particulars, and the shoes made on the lasts are "different" shoes—so different that every wearer of ordinary shoes owes it to himself to try on a pair of Anatomiks to see how different they are—not in appearance, but in foot comfort. This costs nothing; we are anxious to show them.

If you have the least suggestion of foot trouble, if you get tired easily, you will be glad to know how quickly you can get relief.

Made for men, women and children, and sold only at our store. Anatomik Shoes are the most imitated shoes in the world. But the imitations imitate only enough to deceive. The Anatomik booklet tells why only the real Anatomik Shoes can satisfy your feet. The trade-mark shown here is in every pair of Anatomik Shoes.

COMMISSIONERS LET TWO ROAD CONTRACTS

Bourbon Silo Will Be Constructed at the County Farm.

The county commissioners Tuesday morning awarded the contract for the construction of the Duker road in Maudslow township to F. H. Fuelling, whose bid was $4,500. The road is 5.115 feet in length. The other bids submitted were as follows: Michael Crow, $4,953; Mustard Bros., $5,203.80; J. C. O'Connor, $4,898; Ellison & Co., $4,586.

The commissioners have taken under consideration the bids submitted for the new Corbin road in Perry township. Allison Fulton was the lowest bidder, but the commissioners wish to investigate to ascertain whether he has sufficient equipment with which to do the work. The next lowest bidder was J. C. O'Connor and Sons, whom the commissioners know are fully equipped. The following bids were submitted: Michael Crow, $13,810; A. J. Chevillon, $13,824; F. H. Fuelling, $13,800; Allison Fulton, $12,300; C. W. Eling, $13,130; Ellison and Co., $13,378; W. S. Gordon and Son, $12,989; Henry Adkins, $13,000; J. C. O'Connor and Sons, $12,385.

The contract for a triple walled silo to be constructed at the county farm was awarded to the Jockel-Schulz company. A Bourbon silo made at Bourbon, Ind., will be erected. The other bidders were the Saginaw Silo company, Indiana Silo company, Heim Cement Products company, Adam and Schlebecker and C. H. Harting.

Charging abandonment Glenn Poince, a cashier at Hunterdon, filed suit Tuesday in the superior court through her attorney, Claren P. Squires, asking for a divorce from George I. Poince. She says that she was married to Poince on May 23, 1913, and that three years ago he abandoned her, during which time he has not contributed one cent toward her support. She alleges that by reason of his conduct he has destroyed the love she once had for him and that it would be impossible for her to again live with him. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name. There are no children.

MARRIED INSANE MAN.

Such Is Charge Made in Case Filed by Josephine Barrackman.

Declaring that she was married to a man whose mental equilibrium was badly impaired, a fact that she did not discover until later, Mrs. Josephine Barrackman has filed suit in the superior court asking that her marriage to Henry A. Thorpe, which was solemnized on October 1, 1913, be annulled. At the time the holy bonds of matrimony were entered into she says that she was in ignorance of Thorpe's condition and that he was not capable of entering into a marriage contract. The suit was filed for the plaintiff through Attorneys Heaton and Heaton.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY.

Allen Hursh, recorder for Allen county, observed his fifty-third birthday anniversary Monday. There was no special celebration. In former years, Mr. Hursh and George Lindemuth, now captain of game deputies, whose birthday is on the 15th, to celebrate together.

CHARGES EXTREME CRUELTY.

Charging extreme cruelty and drunkenness, Eliza Thompson has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Charles J. Thompson. The couple were married in 1908. Mrs. Thompson is represented by Attorney Claren P. Squires.

JUDGMENT IS GRANTED.

In the case brought by Fred Kreibaum against William F. Keller and Maria Keller Judge Tupper Tuesday awarded the plaintiff a judgment for $128.16, alleged to be due on a note and ordered the mortgage foreclosed and property sold.

NOTES OF THE COURTS.

In the case brought by James T. Johnson against the Big Four Fruit company for the appointment of a receiver, Sol A. Wood was Tuesday morning appointed as special judge. Suit to foreclose a mechanic's lien for the collection of $100 was filed in the circuit court Tuesday, by Paul Mott against Adolph Biederman, Ida B. McKee and her husband. Mott is represented by Attorney Robert B. Dreibeil.

Sarah Boyer filed suit Tuesday in the circuit court against Joseph H. Hisey for $100 alleged to be due on a note. Edward A. McConnell, guardian of the estate of Gus McDonnell, a minor, filed suit Tuesday in the circuit court against the German-American Trust company for possession of funds amounting to $500, belonging to the estate of the deceased. The case was filed by Attorneys Arthur W. Parry and W. A. Wagner.

AWAITING REPLIES
FROM THE MEXICANSNone Have Been Received on the Pan-American Appeal.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Responses to the Pan-American appeal calling upon the Mexican factions to settle their civil strife still were being awaited by administration officials today. No replies had reached the state department early today, although Gens. Carranza and Villa have received the communications.

That Carranza will make an unfavorable response to the appeal on the ground that foreign intervention would be unwelcome to the Mexican people, is the belief of his representatives. His friends claim he already has brought peace to a large part of Mexico; that he is in full control of the territory; that he is restoring order and that after the removal of the capital to Mexico City he will consent to confer with the warring factions. In other quarters, however, it was said that he might agree on a conference based on proportionate representations.

Secretary Daniels has ordered the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire en route to southern waters, to proceed immediately to Vera Cruz, where they are due to arrive Wednesday, to replace the gunboats Marietta and the Sacramento. The Marietta has been ordered to Progresso.

Secretary Daniels explained that no further alarming reports had come from Vera Cruz and no trouble was looked for.

FIVE SHIPS TO TAKE
RELIEF TO BELGIUM

New York, Aug. 17.—The commission for relief in Belgium announced today that it has chartered five additional steamships to carry supplies from America to the Belgians. These together with those previously chartered, make a fleet of eight steamships in all, flying the flag of the commission. The new ships chartered are the Andreas, the Mohacfield, the Crios, the Oostdijk and the Otto Sverdrup. All these steamships are of the larger type of freighters with cargo capacity of 8,000 to 9,000 tons each. They are now in European waters on their way to American ports for cargoes.

THE POPE'S HUMANE
EFFORTS SUCCEED

Rome, Aug. 17.—Difficulties preventing the accomplishment of the pope's plan to exchange interned civilians of non-military age, says the Osservatore Romano, have been surmounted. The British government having agreed to treat submarine prisoners the same as other prisoners and the German government having discontinued special treatment of British officers, the Holy See renewed its appeal to Germany to carry out the agreement already made. On August 5, the German ministry telegraphed from Luga a favorable reply, which was transmitted to the British secretary of state by the Austrian ambassador. The pope thanked the pope for his humane action.

does she does not go for humanitarian purposes.

The speaker ridiculed the argument that England is in the present conflict because she thought the neutrality of Belgium had been violated.

Few Questions Are Asked.
"Why did she for seven years make alliances with Russia and France and why did she offer to assist France in any undertaking?"

The speaker pointed out that if England has such great concern for the welfare of the people of Belgium she would open the Belgium ports to American products to be paid for by German money and to be used to feed the starving in Belgium. He declared that English battleships are standing between the Belgian people and the wheat fields of America.

"Germany is willing to feed them and to care for them, but she cannot do it with the supplies cut off," he said. He said that England did not think so much of Belgium a few years ago when the Congo atrocities were committed.

In conclusion he said: "O, Master of Men! fill our hearts with the humanity of Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, McKinley, give us power to empty the outgoing ships of their instruments."

RESOLUTIONS ASK FOR EMBARGO ON EXPORTATION OF MUNITIONS OF WAR.

Resolutions calling upon the president of the United States to prevent the shipment of munitions of war to the belligerent countries in Europe were passed Monday evening at the Peace and neutrality meeting at the New Palace theater. The resolutions adopted are as follows:

To His Excellency, the President of the United States:
Realizing that it is supreme importance to the highest executive officer of the United States of North America to be directly informed as to the sentiments of the American people concerning the grave issues now confronting our national course, and knowing that such expressions of popular opinion will be welcome to your excellency, we, American citizens in mass meeting assembled, crave permission to comply with our duty and with the wishes which your excellency undoubtedly entertains, in laying before you for your consideration the following public declaration of our opinion regarding the questions involved:

1. Unflinching loyalty to the American flag and to the principles for which it stands, creates in us the firm conviction that the honor, dignity and prestige of our country among the nations of the world can be upheld and safeguarded in no better way than by strictly and persistently adhering to the maintenance of peace with all the belligerent countries in the present great war and by observing a policy of perfect neutrality in word and deed.

2. We take the liberty of heartily commending your excellency for the willingness to act as mediator between the countries at war, and we sincerely hope that such services will be successful in putting an end to the inhuman plan of starving millions of non-combatant men, of women and children on land, as well as to the cruel practice of killing innocent travelers.

3. We take the liberty of heartily commending your excellency for the willingness to act as mediator between the countries at war, and we sincerely hope that such services will be successful in putting an end to the inhuman plan of starving millions of non-combatant men, of women and children on land, as well as to the cruel practice of killing innocent travelers.

4. We take the liberty of heartily commending your excellency for the willingness to act as mediator between the countries at war, and we sincerely hope that such services will be successful in putting an end to the inhuman plan of starving millions of non-combatant men, of women and children on land, as well as to the cruel practice of killing innocent travelers.

4. Believing that the United States for the sake of humanity should at the present time strain every effort to bring about peace among the nations at war, believing that we should hasten the end, and not support the continuation of the terrible struggle in the old world, we view with great concern, awe with pain and shame, the deplorable fact that citizens of the United States are furnishing arms and ammunition to the nations at war. While we know that neutral nations furnish arms to belligerents and that, according to the customary interpretation of international law, such countries do not legally lose their neutral character, we most emphatically protest against the view that international agreements compel the United States to indirectly assist in the prolongation of the present war by permitting the manufacture and exportation of war munitions for any one of the belligerent countries. Though, according to international law, the official neutrality of a nation is not violated if its private citizens engage in such nefarious traffic, our country, the champion of peace, should not hide behind such technical subterfuge, but rather should we utilize the golden opportunity afforded now to aid in the making of a higher and better international law and thus assist not only in ending more speedily the present horrible conflict, but in building more surely for permanent peace in the future.

5. We might also call attention to the fact that this cruel commercial transaction brings pecuniary advantage to a few, while the end of the war would vastly increase the prosperity of all our citizens, but for the present we wish to emphasize our conviction that not the demands of self interest, but the pure light of great humanitarian principles, should determine the attitude of our beloved country. The American flag must not be stained with the blood of any foreign nation; the Stars and Stripes must not assist in making widows and orphans; Columbia shall stand for peace, for justice and fairness, and for love toward every nation on earth.

We most sincerely ask, therefore, "that the government of the United States place an embargo on the exportation of arms and munitions of war, thus giving the world an exhibition of practical wisdom, of humanity, of spirit and of the complete possible fulfillment of perfect neutrality—a neutrality that asserts itself not only for peace, but against war."

Schone and Ankenbruck, Old Undertaking Establishment Adds
Auto Hearse and Ambulance to Its Big Livery Equipment

THE AUTO AMBULANCE.

The Ankenbruck Livery company's auto flower carrier is also a sixty-horsepower specially built Winton. This new style of vehicle is one of the latest developments of this kind, and is a splendid addition to the company's livery equipment. Six new hacks are also in service and those who call for them for wedding and funeral services, do so for their cleanliness, and the smart looking horses of white and black. The ambulance service is handled directly by the livery management, and either horse-drawn ambulance or the motor car can be secured.

THE AUTO HEARSE.

This new auto hearse, of the Schone & Ankenbruck firm, marks the progress in the undertaking profession of this old establishment. It is a car made especially for the purpose by the Winton Motor Car company, the body being mounted on a special 154-inch wheelbase chassis. The outer sides are covered draperies, and the interior is built entirely of solid mahogany. These cars, manufactured by the Winton Motor Car company, are the best in America.

ANOTHER INACTIVE DAY FOR MARKETS

The small shower of Monday night did not seem to have much effect on the condition of the harvest fields very much for very few farmers were seen at the market Tuesday morning and as a result the receipts were very light. The city scalemaster weighed but a few loads of grain and hay, of which number eight were hay and one was corn. The price of corn went up 1 cent, the load bringing 86c a bushel. Hay brought from $7.50 to $11 a ton.

The oats demand was not met as not a single load was weighed at the city scales. The new oats is of a poor quality and dealers in grain are only offering 38c a bushel while the old grain is still selling at 55c a bushel. Since the supply of old oats is nearly exhausted it is possible that the price will take a big jump downward soon on the local markets. Although wheat weakened at the big trade centers, the local millers are holding their prices the same, two of them offering $1 a bushel and another one holding his price 2 cents higher. The quality of the wheat this year is exceptionally good. Live stock market quotations remain unchanged as did all other prices on produce.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Storms over a wide area and a forecast of more, led to a decided advance today in the prices of wheat. On the other hand a fresh decline in sterling exchange counted somewhat against the bulls. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2c off to 1 1/2c up, with September at $1.04 1/2, to $1.05 1/2, and December at $1.04 1/2, to $1.05, were followed by material gains all around and then a moderate setback.
The close was strong, with September at $1.05 1/2, and December $1.05 1/2, an advance of 1/2c to 1 1/2c net. Corn swayed with wheat. After opening 1/2c to 1/4c higher, with September at 7 1/2c to 7 3/4c and December at 6 3/4c, the market scored further gains before beginning to react.
The close was a steady at 1/2c to 3/4c net gain, with September at 7 1/2c and December 6 3/4c 6 1/2c.
Less favorable weather brought about a sharp upturn in oats.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 17.—Wild trading in the war shares was resumed at the outset today with "wide" openings in Studebaker, which repeated yesterday's high price of 120, American Can and Westinghouse. Other issues of the same class, including Crucible Steel, General Electric, Pressed Steel Car and various secondary Industrials and equipments rose two to four points. U. S. Steel opened with a sale of 9,000 shares, soon touching 77, its best price since 1913.

Bethlehem Steel was almost the sole exception to the rising tendency among the specialties, soon losing over four points. Before the end of the half hour recessions from the high level were general. Studebaker losing all its rise and more. Railways, particularly Canadian Pacific, were lower.

The furious activity of the opening was maintained throughout the early session, the first hour's transactions aggregating 350,000 shares, a record for some months. One-third of the trading was in United States Steel, Westinghouse, Can, Crucible and Studebaker. The latter broke three points under yesterday's final figure, and Bethlehem Steel showed increased heaviness. In the main, however, prices were well sustained despite enormous profit-taking. There was considerable "future" or foreign selling of bonds, a logical result of the further weakness in exchange rates.

Specalties continued to rule the market while representative shares lost ground. The closing was irregular.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

DODGING THE DRY VOTE.

Two Men Seek to Open Saloons at Edge of Hartford City.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 17.—Fred Nicolson and Thomas Well-known, saloon keepers who were forced out of business by the recent local option election here, have published notice of their intention to apply for licenses to operate saloons in Licking township, just outside of the corporation limits. The township is "wet" territory, but has never had saloons. The applications will be heard at the September meeting of the county commissioners and is expected to precipitate another bitter fight. It is likely that the "drys" will seek remonstrances rather than to petition for an election.

PAROLED MAN IN HOC.

WOMAN'S DAY

Do go with me to Robinson Park, For on Woman's Day there'll be a great lark. The funniest sight you'll ever see Is the Hard Times Parade, it seems to me. There are women tall and women lean, While some are the fattest you've ever seen. Some are all dressed in tatters and rags, And some, like gypsies, in gay colored tags. In sheer delight you'll stand aghast At sight of the Parade as it meanders past. From the Indian squaw and the wild Zulu To the "Goddess of Liberty" in red, white and blue. All shades and all colors you'll see on that day. You'll have a good time, so do go, I pray. But the grandest sight that one could behold Is the reverence bestowed on the wrinkled and old; Flowers for the living, instead of the dead. Regardless of station or how they are bred. Do homage then to the day of all days, All work and no pleasure I'm sure never pays. Put on an old gown and a discarded shoe; When the judges come round, their choice may be you. Aug. 14, 17. working at South Milford, in Lagrange county, since he was paroled from the state penal farm about ten days ago, and he says that he is willing to pay whatever is right for the support of his child but that during the past year while confined in Jeffersonville and the state penal farm, he was unable to earn any money and thus could not contribute to the support of the wife or child. Myers was sent up for three years for wife desertion.

FOUR HURT IN AUTO SMASH.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 17.—Four were injured, one probably fatally, in an automobile accident, which occurred a mile and a half east of Etna Green, when an automobile driven by Willard Jones of Etna Green crashed into a buggy, throwing the occupants of the rig forcibly to the ground. The buggy was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Upton Deam, who reside near Etna Green; Mrs. Ed Lepper, a daughter, from Culver, Ind., and her six-month-old baby. The infant was probably fatally injured. Mrs. Deam is believed to have sustained internal injuries.

WAS BORN IN FORT WAYNE.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 17.—Frank Lamp, who was born in Fort Wayne sixty-eight years ago and came to Rome City in early youth, is dead at his home there from a complication of diseases. Several years ago he was injured quite severely when he was dragged by a cow. He never fully recovered from the injuries sustained. A week ago he was taken bedfast and gradually his condition became weaker. His wife died seven years ago and two sons and a daughter survive.

RURAL CARRIER KILLED.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 17.—John Rhine, 82 years old, a veteran rural carrier out of the Montpelier postoffice, was killed instantly yesterday when the automobile in which he was covering his route was struck by an Indianapolis-bound interurban car at a crossing a mile north of Montpelier. As a result of his death he will receive $2,000 from the government under a new postal ruling. He was an officer in the State Association of Rural Carriers.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Mark 6:45-56.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before him to Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing: for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out:

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them to the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For they considered not the miracle of the loaves; for their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Genesareth, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

Georgia's Infamy Complete

The spirit of mob law that from the beginning of the Frank case was the close attendant and, indeed, the complement of the civil law in Georgia has proceeded to a logical conclusion. Leo M. Frank has been lynched. Georgia's infamy is complete. Extract the essence of the whole affair and consider it apart from the sensational and abhorrent circumstances that mark the climax, and there is the spirit of the mob dominating both public opinion and the administration of justice. Leo M. Frank had never had justice. That he did not meet a death of ignominy on a gibbet of the law was due to the revolt of one courageous man's mind against a widespread feeling of primitive truculence, racial bigotry and vengeful hatred that threatened the state of which he was governor with ineffaceable shame and imperishable infamy. In the face of a public sentiment he knew would condemn him, Governor Slaton commuted the death penalty in Frank's case to life imprisonment. That was but a minimum of mercy measured against the prejudice and partiality that marked the Hebrew's trial and the grave material doubts that hedged about his conviction. Georgia should have been thankful that her executive's courage had spared the commonwealth the infamy of having hurried before the law to an execution of extreme judgment a man more than possibly innocent. That the state penitentiary could be invaded and a prisoner abducted and carried away one hundred miles to be lynched by a mob shows clearly the mob's confidence in the approval of public opinion no less than a knowledge that its hateful enterprise, astounding in its audacity, was practicable and promising of success. Leo M. Frank was but one man and, apart from the circumstances of his accusation, conviction and death, of no surpassing consequence to society, but of all the men in Georgia her people by murder have struck out the life of that man whom she least could spare and whose passing will in those things most precious to a people of freedom and enlightenment cost her dearest.

A Flood Does Harm to Everybody

The citizen who excuses his failure to sign a flood-prevention petition in the fact that he lives on high ground and is in no peril of floods imagines a vain thing. While it is true that a rampage of the rivers may never drive him and his near and dear to reside for a season on the ridgepole, he cannot escape the consequences of disastrous floods. When high water maroons the city, closes its factories, blockades its railways, paralyzes its industry and strikes its labor to idleness, all business feels the stroke. Everybody—some more and some not so much, but nevertheless everybody—is touched by the ruthless hand of disaster. Even were it not so, the community as a community owes a sufficient measure of protection to industry and business and to those whose fate has placed them within reach of the great tides that now and then sweep through this city. To tolerate preventable disaster that hurts everybody in some degree is a great and immoral stupidity. It means waste, loss, suffering. In other words, sign the petition to create a flood-prevention district and let the great and good work of flood prevention go forward.

Austria is again baiting the Serbians. What happened in the earlier days of the great conflict may be repeated. King Karageorgevitch and his veterans proved themselves more than handy at the bloody game and in due course expelled the invaders after thrashing them to chaff. Old King Kari is not in all respects the greatest monarch nor the nicest man on a throne, but he sure is a fine old fighter. With bigger guns and German help, Austria may make out better in this later essay to conquer the Serbians, but she will hate to foot up the score when it shall have been accomplished.

It will be fine and proper to extend to young Birdboy Smith such a welcome as is due to the homecoming of the native son who has achieved distinction so great and so honorable. But let us receive him in a more generous and appreciative spirit than merely that he has advertised this city by having hailed from it. That is merely incidental and moreover is sordid. Art Smith is a celebrity with a fame that spreads the world around. Let his home city so acclaim and so receive him.

Twelve or fifteen thousand people jammed themselves into the little city of Rockville, in the southern part of this state to listen to an address by Prof. William Howard Taft, who may be recalled as a sometime president of this republic. That is as large a crowd as even the doughty Colonel Roosevelt himself could have drawn. They do come back.

MILITARY EDUCATION

(Kansas City Star.)
We are told by a writer for Collier's Weekly that what America must do is not to rely upon summer camps to train officers, or fancy we can make good volunteer officers out of the graduates of every military academy, but should depend upon a regularly organized, generously supported and more or less federally controlled militia or reserve army for the salvation of the nation in time of peril. The advice as to the final dependence for national defense is undoubtedly sound.

But Lucien Howe, Sc. D., member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England and a professor in the University of Buffalo, N. Y., points out in a recent pamphlet that a judicious system of education similar to that of Switzerland would not only provide the country with defense, but would turn out a far healthier, more normal bunch of young men and women than our colleges are now producing.

He lays special emphasis upon the physical benefit which school children and young men and women in colleges would gain were they instructed in hygiene and made to build up their bodies as soldiers are. He gives warning figures, as to the number of students from grammar school to college who come out perhaps with minds improved but frequently with bodies impaired. And the mind, of course, cannot go more than so far without a healthy body.

Dr. Howe would have the health of school children under federal supervision—a government health department, perhaps under the control of the war department. It would discover defects in time to remedy and frequently eradicate them.

After pointing out the physical benefits of various military drills and the increased efficiency in doing all sorts of things which the man with military education gains, Dr. Howe closes with this stimulating paragraph:

"We must recall the second fundamental object of education—the cultivation of self-control and the capacity for self-sacrifice. * * * They are, par excellence, a soldier's virtues."

Our schools, he concludes, do not at present develop self-control and self-sacrifice as well and completely as they might. Military education, he believes, would do it and at the same time we need it in no danger of falling into militarism. A proper military system develops very many virtues that are of the greatest value whether in peace or war. A military system allowed to run rampant develops grave faults. But the military virtues of a properly controlled system are not easily acquired elsewhere.

MARINE MAURAUDING.

(Toledo Blade.)

Failure of Germany to starve England and of England to starve Germany by the unjustifiable sea warfare methods adopted by the belligerents on both sides is attracting wide attention in the United States and evoking much comment, editorial and otherwise, adverse to both nations.

When, following the announcement of the British "blockade," Germany imposed rigid restrictions on distribution of food supplies in that country, it was proclaimed that the Teutons soon would be driven by hunger to submission, and that creation of famine conditions would be a humane way to end the war.

By means of its wonderful organization, the German government has conserved its food resources, stimulated and intensified domestic agriculture and managed to import great quantities of foodstuffs, thus averting the menace of gaunt hunger.

It is pointed out, on the other hand, that the German submarine blockade has been equally ineffective. The Germans destroyed the Lusitania, drowning 1,000 non-combatants. Other audacious and spectacular, but less destructive sea war achievements, have been heralded widely. This submarine marauding was calculated to—and did—strike terror to the English people for the moment only. Analysis of the facts shows that only 1 per cent. of the British merchant marine has been destroyed and that ships are being built faster than they are being sunk by the Germans.

WAR'S PARTIAL REPARATION.

(New York American.)

From the field hospitals of France and Germany comes news of many valuable discoveries in antiseptics and the treatment of the wounded. The best medical brains of Europe are behind the firing lines, and with the vast opportunity for observation better methods of treating wounded men are being rapidly developed.

The army surgeon is not moved solely by motives of humanity. His job is to fix a man up so that he can go back to the front. But it is a big and an important job, and in attempting to do the surgeon keeps himself at the top of his bent.

As a consequence, means of caring for the sick are devised under high pressure that might never be thought of in times of peace; for the man of medicine has a double incentive behind his thought and skill.

It is little enough reparation for war to make to humanity, this knowledge of healing, but it is some reparation at least.

In after years, when the world is at peace, those whose suffering is alleviated quickly, those who survive "breadful" injuries that today would prove surely fatal can remember that for these blessings at least they have to thank the hideous monster—War.

BOY GENIUS MISSES FAME AS VIOLINIST AND WINS GLORY AS HERO.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 16.—Little Harry Roeling will never play the violin again. But the lad whom New Orleans musicians called the "boy Kubelik" may be decorated with a hero medal instead of an artist's medal of honor.

Harry, who is eight years old, risked his life recently to save his little sister from death under the wheels of a street car. He dragged her from the tracks, but tripped and fell with both hands on the rails. The right hand was almost entirely torn away.

The little hero smiles bravely over his terrible loss and says "Well, I'll have to give up my violin, but I have Sis to play with anyway."

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Fairfield avenue is torn up for receiving its cedar block pavement.

Fred Jonne will soon leave to attend college in New York.

Charles S. Knight, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, has returned from an extensive southern trip.

Rev. C. E. Kiehl, pastor of Salem Reformed church, has resigned to accept a pastorate at Louisville, Ky.

Natural gas is now used in the furnaces at the Fort Wayne Electric works. It was turned on yesterday for the first time.

August Bruder, the jeweler, brought back with him from New York a mechanical novelty which he exhibits to admiring and astonished crowds.

C. R. Janne, the powder man, has gone to his old home in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., to attend a family reunion.

Henry Taylor, the pleasant young assistant in the Hamilton bank, left today for a vacation trip east. He will visit New York among other cities.

Charles Meyer, of Root and Company's store, celebrated his fifty-second birthday Friday evening, the 15th. A large number of friends were his guests.

Dr. J. E. Waugh, the dentist who has offices over the Mordhurst drug store, has decided to leave this city and locate in Angola. He will go there September 1.

The venerable John Mohr, Sr., writes from Paris that he is enjoying his foreign trip immensely. He has visited many places in Germany, including his boyhood home. Though quite aged, Mr. Mohr is rugged and is making the trip alone.

The city band has elected the following officers: President, John Demmi; vice president, C. F. Meyer; secretary, Fred Goebel; treasurer, Fred J. Roineke; trustees, M. Baekes, George Jacobs, Henry P. Scherer; finance committee, N. S. Smith, Sam Burdett, Ben Rekers; leader, Phil Keintz; second leader, Ben Rekers; executive committee, Phil Keintz, F. J. Roineke, Fred Goebel.

Rev. Father Joseph F. Delaney, now of the Cathedral staff, but designated to have charge of the St. Patrick's congregation soon, was voted the handsome broadcloth suit of clothes offered by the Globe clothing store to the most popular preacher in Fort Wayne. He received 19,288 of the 29,676 votes cast.

All the other pastors in Fort Wayne received some votes, ranging from one to 5,215, which was the number given for Rev. J. L. Leeper, of the Second Presbyterian church, who stood second to Father Delaney.

Mrs. W. H. Carter and son Herbert are visiting Nickel Plate Conductor and Mrs. George Harper at Bellevue.

FRAUDULENT ADVERTISING.

The gross exaggeration in advertising that is being indulged in in Fort Wayne seems likely to greatly injure, if not to destroy the value of every body's advertising. The public is being led to distrust and disbelieve all advertising. The worst offenders are the professional getters-up of special sales who are hired to come here from Chicago or elsewhere and plaster our papers with notices of exaggerations and misstatements that are ruinous to the reputation of the merchant employing them and after a while destructive to his business. When one of these professionals advertises that Jones, Smith & Co. have placed their entire stock in his hands to be sold regardless of its cost, any person with a thumbnail of brains knows the statement to be simply a lie. Five dollar articles are not sold for $1, nor $10 ones for $2 or $3, unless the merchant for whom the sale is being made has a stock of "junk" instead of desirable goods in his store. No business can stand the disgrace of more than one or two such schemes for the sake of the temporary promotion of trade had better be sent into the discard along with trading stamps, gift schemes, lotteries and the like, all of which are generally forerunners of the bankruptcy of the concern which indulges in them. They are expensive, demoralizing and invariably add to the cost of the goods to the customer. Indiana's leading furniture house has avoided them in all of its nearly one-half century of merchandising in this state.

The Most Correct Fashion Thoughts

Are shown here first. Our fashion folks are choosing their fall stocks with rare taste and judgment. The first showing of the new things will prove interesting and more are coming every day.

THE NEW SUITS

Are trim and smart. There is no definite line set for the length of the jackets which should vary with the height of the figure. Suits somewhat shaped to the form are prominently represented. Skirts are wide enough to have a graceful swing. The favored materials are Broadcloths, Worsteds, Poplins, Gabardines, Cheviots, Whipcords, Serges and Tweeds. Many of the models will be trimmed with braid motifs.

THE NEW DRESSES

Dame Fashion has many surprises in store for her followers this season. There is already a charming variety of new and pretty models in silks and serges. Some on display for the first time today. There is a winsomeness about these very new styles and the prices are most pleasing.

LOSS OF LIFE IN TEXAS STORM GROWS APPALLING; TEN KILLED IN ZEPPELIN RAID ON ENGLISH COAST

EXTRA

500 BODIES ARE ASHORE AT HOUSTON

San Antonio, Aug. 18.—That five hundred bodies from Galveston had been washed ashore on high points near Houston, was the unconfirmed rumor carried over the first wires into San Antonio, Wednesday afternoon. The report was made to the wire chief at Houston by a lineman.

HUNDREDS ARE DEAD; LOSS IS MILLIONS

Effect of Texas Coast Storm is Terrible and Results in Galveston Unknown

Meager Reports Say Island City Has Had Higher Water Than in 1900 Disaster

GALVESTON SUFFERS; NO WATER TO DRINK.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 18.—There is considerable suffering in this city. The water system, lighting, gas and street car systems are out of commission. There is no drinking water in the city. Three hundred feet of the causeway has been destroyed, all officers, classified employees, enlisted men and their families are safe. (This refers to garrison at Fort Crockett.)

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18.—Nearly a hundred lives were lost and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed in the West Indian hurricane that swept the Texas coast yesterday and the day before, according to information received today from the stricken districts which have been cut off from wire communication with the outside world.

Up to noon no definite news concerning loss of life had been received from Galveston which city is believed to have been hardest hit.

Galveston Terribly Stricken. A newspaper man who got within sight of Galveston says the evidence of destruction that met his eye indicated that the damage there would exceed that of the 1900 storm.

At Texas City from 12 to 18 soldiers and 30 to 40 civilians were killed according to reports published in Houston papers that reached Temple and San Antonio today.

Immense Loss on Cotton. A report that the bodies of eight women washed ashore at Texas City were believed to have come from Galveston, gave the only detailed information of loss of life in the latter city.

Damage to cotton will be from 15 to 25 per cent. of the entire crop of Central Texas and will cost the growers millions of dollars according to estimates based on reports received in Austin.

Eight men are reported dead near Morgan's Point and three bodies were washed up today at Sylvan Beach from some place in the bay. Six persons are reported drowned at La Porte, 20 miles southeast of Houston, on Trinity point. Three lives were lost at Seabrook, 20 miles from Houston, and the town practically annihilated, according to reports received.

A refugee who escaped from Kemah, a coast town, said only one house was left standing in that place. Great Damage in Houston.

Houston is reported to have suffered damage variously estimated as totaling from one to five million dollars, but only two lives are reported lost there. Up to noon no report had been received from Beaumont. A newspaper man who reached Virginia point, the north end of the causeway that connects Galveston with the mainland and viewed the stricken city, reported that nothing was to be seen of several great grain elevators. He said the drawbridge of the causeway had been washed away and that the high water evidently had entered the city from the causeway.

destroyed in the city would run into thousands.

Cotton Bales Straw Prairies. He said he saw thousands of bales of cotton along the prairie between Virginia Point and Lamarque far inland.

AUTO PLANT WANTS TO LOCATE HERE

Project is Discussed at Noon-Day Meeting Wednesday.

A meeting of the board of directors and officers of the Real Estate exchange and other citizens was held at noon Wednesday at the Commercial club for the purpose of outlining some plan of procedure for the location of a big automobile industry in Fort Wayne.

C. Nagle and C. H. Leete, representatives of the automobile concern, were present and explained in detail the proposition. The company is not a manufacturing concern, but rather assembles the cars from the finished parts, giving employment to a large number of men.

A meeting of the real estate men was held Tuesday evening at the Commercial club at which time the project was proposed. Members of the exchange were asked to get behind the movement and help secure this new industry for the city.

Further plans were discussed for the annual convention of the Indiana Real Estate association to be held in this city in October. An effort is being made to make the meeting the biggest in the history of the state association. The meeting Tuesday evening followed a banquet which was served at 6:30 o'clock.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH RE-PAINTED

The inner walls of the First Presbyterian church, Washington and Clinton streets, are being repainted and redecorated and when finished will be as handsome and artistic as any church in the city. The Sunday school room, the hall and the men's club rooms upstairs will be frescoed and painted.

The men's club is getting the room ready for a big social time this fall. It is thought that a big chicken dinner will be given for the one hundred or more members of the club.

The work is being done by one of the most competent of frescoing firms of the city and is being hurried along. The church is being repainted and redecorated and when finished will be as handsome and artistic as any church in the city.

HYDROPHOBIA!

RUSSIA DEALT HEAVY BLOW IN KOVNO'S FALL

Von Hindenburg's Victory in Taking Fortress Puts Retreating Slavs in Desperate Plight.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Kovno, the strong Russian fortress on the Niemen at which the armies of Field Marshal von Hindenburg have been pounding heavily since the fall of Warsaw, has been captured by the Germans. Berlin announced the taking of Kovno, together with 400 cannons and quantities of war material "in spite of the most tenacious resistance by the Russians." German troops took possession of the fortress last night. Military observers are questioning whether the Russians, with Kovno in German hands, will be able to hold the Brest-Litovsk line of defense, in the general direction of which the Grand Duke Nicholas' armies have been falling back since Warsaw was taken.

A Teutonic advance on Petrograd also is being discussed in Russia and England as a possibility. From the Dardanelles Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton reports an advance of 500 yards by the British left flank at Suvla on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Italian mountain troops, Rome announces, in squads joined by ropes, crossed high mountain passes and climbed to Turokett Spits and Hunter Madatch Spits, each about 10,500 feet high. Italian advances are claimed in upper Rens in the Monte Nero section and in the Tolmino zone. In the last named section, according to the official statement, infantry attacks resulted in the capture of a line of strong entrenchments on the Santa Maria and Santa Lucia heights.

News agency advices from Athens through London state that former Premier Venizelos has notified King Constantine of his readiness to form a new Greek cabinet.

London, Aug. 17.—The fall of the Russian fortress of Kovno, announced officially in Berlin today, marks a development of considerable importance in the Russo-German campaign.

The Russian army, it is stated, had been retreating since the capture of Warsaw. The fall of Kovno, a fortress of great strategic importance, puts the Russian position in a desperate plight.

QUIETEST AUGUST IN TWENTY YEARS

Fire Department Statistics Show Interesting Condition.

The Fort Wayne fire department has not turned a wheel in three days, and this has been the quietest month of August in nearly twenty years. August usually is the month of many alarms, and a ten year average shows more than one a day. However, this month the department has been called out but nine times, and the total fire loss in the city was $255, $200 of this amount occurring at one fire. The only serious blaze in the vicinity was the Hiser road house fire, which was responded to by the chemical crew from No. 3 company, the loss amounting to $4,000.

Of course the wet weather was responsible for the lack of "business," and until things dry up pretty thoroughly no great number of fires is expected.

MRS. JENSON DIES AT HOME OF NIECE

C. F. Pfeiffer received a telegram Wednesday morning telling of the death of Mrs. Abbie Jane Jenson, a former well known resident of Fort Wayne, who passed away Tuesday afternoon at the home of her niece, Mrs. G. H. Dunning, 2100 Adelbert road, Cleveland, O.

Death was due to the infirmities of old age. She was ninety years old last December and for a woman of her age was unusually active. Two years ago she left Fort Wayne to make her home with her niece. She was for years a resident of this city and when she left was living at 1312 Marion street. The body will be taken to Lockport, New York, for interment.

FORT WAYNE PICNIC AT LOS ANGELES

The eighth annual reunion of the "Fort Wayneites" of Los Angeles and vicinity will be held on Labor Day, Monday, September 6, in Hollenbeck park, in Los Angeles. Emma Vollmer Walshall is president of the association and E. E. Purcell, secretary.

For eight years former residents of Fort Wayne have been holding in Los Angeles an annual reunion, and this year the gathering will be held on Labor Day.

HALF SCORE DIE IN NEW ZEPPELIN RAID

German Aircraft Drop Bombs on East Coast of England and Escape With No Proved Damage.

London, Aug. 18.—The outskirts of London were raided last night by Zeppelins. Ten persons were killed. The damage to property was not important. One Zeppelin is believed to have been hit. Thirty-six persons were injured. The air raid was over the eastern counties of England.

A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam says four Zeppelins were sighted passing over the island of Vlieland and Wieringer, off the Netherlands coast. The dirigibles were sailing from the east in the direction of the English coast. The hour of their appearance is not stated.

The statement given out by the official press bureau said: "Zeppelins visited the eastern counties last night and dropped bombs. Anti-aircraft guns were in action and it is believed that one Zeppelin was hit."

"Air patrols were active, but owing to the difficult atmospheric conditions the Zeppelins were able to escape. "Some houses and other buildings, including a church, were damaged. "The following casualties have been recorded: "Killed—Men, 7; women, 2; children, 1.

"Injured—Men, 15; women, 18; children, 3.

"All the above were civilians." London has been visited previously by German dirigibles during the war. On the night of May 31, Zeppelins made an attack on a district described in the official communication merely as in the "Metropolitan area." On that occasion about ninety bombs were dropped. Four persons were killed and a few others were injured. The latest raid is the third of the new series of air attacks which began on Monday of last week. On the two previous occasions twenty persons were killed and thirty-seven injured.

FORMER RAID SEVERE.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—According to the Overseas News Agency the Zeppelin attack on the English coast made last week resulted in considerable damage. "Travelers arriving in Holland from England report that the Zeppelin attack on Harwich caused serious damage, the extent of which has been suppressed by the official press bureau," the news agency says.

"The explosion of heavy bombs and the resulting catastrophes caused great confusion. Coast guards deserted their posts. The number of killed is not known. Seventeen persons were wounded, many were destroyed by fire. Postal service between Harwich and Holland has not yet been re-established."

More attention will be given to the music at the teachers' county institute meeting to be held from Aug. 30 to Sept. 3 at the high school building than ever before. Announcement was made Wednesday by D. O. McComb, county superintendent, that he had engaged the services of Prof. Davis, of the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music, to direct the singing throughout the week.

Last year the song classics for schools and teachers' institutes No. 1 were used and this year book No. 2 of the same series was selected by the county superintendent.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 2, a free musical entertainment will be given at the First M. E. church at 8 o'clock by a quartet of singers from the Indianapolis Conservatory for the benefit of the teachers. No admission fee will be charged.

MARRIED PAIR DIE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bear, of Stockwell, were instantly killed shortly before noon today when the automobile in which they were riding left the road near Crane station and overturned. Their lifeless bodies were found under the car by passing farmers. There were no witnesses to the accident. Bear was a merchant in Stockwell. A small son and daughter survive.

GERMANS CHEER FOR THE BRITISH NAVY

Copenhagen, Aug. 18.—German cheers for men in the British navy, in an unusual wartime incident reported in the North sea by the captain and crew of the German trawler Gudrun, belonging in Altona, which has just arrived at Esbjerg.

The captain, relating the experiences of the trawler, said that the Gudrun was stopped in the North sea by a British squadron. He promptly got his boats ready and distributed life belts, believing his ship was certain to be sunk.

When the British seamen reached the trawler the captain begged for time to take to the boats, and admit that he was staggered at the short and pointed reply.

"You can take the whole ship," he said, "but you shall not harm us."

The captain said that the British seamen were very kind and that the Gudrun was allowed to proceed on its way.

LYNCHING IS JUST PENALTY

Mayor Woodward, of Atlanta, Commends the Murder of Frank.

EXPRESSES VIEWS IN PUBLIC SPEECH

He Warns Former Governor Slaton to Keep Away from Georgia.

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—J. C. Woodward, mayor of Atlanta, Ga., in an address here last night declared that Leo M. Frank, who was lynched Monday night, suffered the "just penalty for an unspeakable crime." The Atlanta mayor at the same time warned former Governor John M. Slaton, now in California, not to return to Georgia.

Mayor Woodward's address was made at a banquet of the California State Association of Mayors. Little or no applause greeted his remarks, although he was listened to with close attention.

In the course of his speech Mayor Woodward said: "I am going to take occasion tonight to tell of the events that have put Georgia on the map in a very undesirable light. I am going to endeavor to set you right. People throughout the United States have obtained their ideas of the Frank case from a poisoned and subsidized press and press reports."

Tells of Phagan Murder. "Common decency prevents me from telling you the revolting truths of the murder of Mary Phagan. I wish you all knew the truths as I know them. I know them, for I have been with this case ever since it started and I have read every line of evidence that was introduced. I know that there is not a member of the jury that tried Leo M. Frank who would change his decision if put to the test again."

Georgia is the leading state of the South. Its people cannot be classed with tramps, hoodlums, bandits and law breakers, but things had come to a

WOMEN'S DAY WILL BE HELD THURSDAY

Providing it does not rain, the annual women's day celebration will be held Thursday. This information was telephoned by Manager C. H. Williams late Wednesday afternoon. He believes that the prospects are favorable for nice day, but in the event of rain it will again be postponed.

When the British seamen reached the trawler the captain begged for time to take to the boats, and admit that he was staggered at the short and pointed reply.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the uric acid so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.

ANTWERP NEWS.

Antwerp, O., Aug. 17.—Miss Frieda Kizer, of Fort Wayne, visited here over the Sabbath, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Susan Zuber and family.

Sherman May went to Defiance Sunday, where he spent the day with friends and visiting the historical spots around that burg.

Mrs. J. Toth and little daughter were over the Sabbath visitors at Paulding, the guests of her uncle, Jos. Cosmus.

Mrs. Zettie Rodgers was a passenger to Fort Wayne Saturday, where she will visit, being the guest of Mrs. L. D. Wilson and family.

H. B. Delong, who operates a feed store in the Yager building, has rented the Hummel building near the rail road, and will occupy it with his feed store. He will also buy cream for the Defiance creamery.

Mrs. Minnie Overman went to Logansport, Ind., Saturday, where she will visit friends for a few days.

Mrs. Warren Putnam, accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Alger, of Van Wert, were visitors here a few days the past week, the guests of her son, Fred Putnam and family, out at the farm home south of town.

Mrs. Ray Stainfield and daughter, Clara Jenette, are home from a visit at Toledo where she joined her husband, who is now employed at the Milliner department store.

Prof. W. G. Swythe, wife and son, William, of Knoxville, Tenn., came Saturday for a visit with Antwerp relatives and friends.

Worth Amund, manager of the Hicksville telephone lines, was an Antwerp visitor a few days this last week, leaving make some repairs to the Main street cable for the Antwerp Telephone company.

Mrs. John Hughes, of Emmett, O., was a visitor here Saturday, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Zongberry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Antoine and son, Charles, and daughter, Kathryn, went to Peru, Ind., Saturday, where they will visit his grandmother, Mrs. M. Kelly and other relatives this week.

Misses Alta and Grace Jenne, accompanied by Miss Ella Collins, of Sullivan, Ill., who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Earl Campbell and family, out at their country home south of town, returned to their home Saturday.

Mrs. Mary E. Krentner was among the number that visited Fort Wayne from this place Saturday, where she will visit a few days the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Rodemire and family.

Mrs. E. R. Martin and daughter, Lucille, were Fort Wayne visitors Monday when they will remain a few days as guests of her sister, Mrs. Carl Monroe and family.

J. Ver Keefe of the Keefe Printing Co., Fort Wayne, was an over Sunday visitor at this place, the guest of Miss Hazel Stainfield.

The Antwerp Reds went to Payne Sunday when they encountered their usual "hoodoo" about the eighth inning, two of their players getting injured, being the cause this time. The score at time of casualty being 1 and 1, which was changed to 1 to 6 in favor of Payne at the end of the game. The Reds, and Reeb and Foster, being both disabled, Foster a broken finger, and Reeb had his leg put out of place, yet, with all their bad luck, there are those here that are ready to back the team with a thousand dollars, that they can clean up on any all home aggregation in this neck of the woods.

PURDUE ALUMNI TO GIVE ANNUAL PICNIC

Event Will Be Held at Weisser Park Next Saturday.

The annual picnic of the Purdue Alumni Association of Fort Wayne will be held at Weisser park Saturday, Aug. 21. The tennis courts have been engaged by the Purdue men from 1 o'clock until dark and all racket artists are requested to be on the grounds early. At 3:30 o'clock there will be a ball game between the bachelors and benefactors.

The day's program will include ladies' novelty races, men's needle threading contest, fat men's race (36 belt measurement), lean men's race (30 belt or smaller), three-legged race, nail-driving contest, ball-throwing contest. Corporal Head will have charge of the regimental parade, which will take place just before lunch.

The notices sent out are as follows: "Remember, every Purdue man, whether alumni or student, is wanted at Weisser park. You are privileged to bring a lady guest or two lady guests. Married men must bring their families. All will bring either a box or basket lunch and we'll all eat at the same table. After lunch we will play fascinating games until late in the evening. Hit 'em hard, hit 'em low, yes, Purdue! Let's go. Purdue songs, Purdue series, class yell. No dance August 20; next dance August 27."

HAS A CHILD'S BODY; A GROWN-UP'S BRAIN

Girl of 7 Reads University Documents and Detects Errors in Them.

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—Possessing mental grasp and a quickness of perception found in few adults, Beatrice Ruth Willard, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Willard, of this city, is astonishing experts in psychology.

A normal child in every other respect, the devoted "mother" of a large collection of dolls and romping with children of her own age, little Beatrice with uncanny ease passed the test for a normal adult brain.

Dr. Henry H. Goddard, psychologist of the University of California, summer school, applied the Binet mental tests to the child. She read university documents and detected obscure errors of punctuation or grammar deliberately placed as part of the test.

Although she has had less than a year of regular schooling, her brain has grasped the course of study with such rapidity and retentiveness that she is declared to be virtually ready for entrance to high school. She has learned ed everything so quickly and easily that her studies have been carefully limited and the amount of time for them reduced. Music lessons were discontinued because little Beatrice advanced too rapidly.

The child reluctantly leaves her playmates to demonstrate her wonderful ability and hurriedly rejoins them.

Dr. Frederic L. Burk, of the San Francisco normal school, has directed the child's studies during the last six months.

"The child is a genius," he said. "She learns with the greatest readiness and has a photographic memory."

When ten months old Beatrice was able to use coherent sentences. When two years old she had learned her alphabet. Before she was three she could read and write, printing the letters. When five years old she read Stevenson's "Treasure Island" and discussed it intelligently.

DEATH CLAIMS DR. LUELLA DERBYSHIRE

Had Practiced Medicine in Fort Wayne for Nearly Twenty-Five Years.

Dr. Luella Derbyshire, aged 51 years, who practiced medicine in Fort Wayne for the past twenty-five years, died at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at her late residence, 1633 Cass street. Death followed an illness of two or three years' duration and was due to a complication of diseases.

The deceased was well known in the city and besides her many friends is survived by a daughter, Mrs. F. L. Studebaker; two brothers, Bert and Reginald McKinley, and one sister, Mrs. E. H. Starkel, and two grandchildren, all of Fort Wayne.

Dr. Derbyshire maintained an office at her home until three years ago when she was forced to retire on account of ill health.

The deceased was born in Allen county, a few miles north of the city, and received her early education in the country schools. She attended the Fort Wayne Medical college and after graduation she took a post-graduate course in the medical college at Philadelphia. Immediately after finishing her work in the school of that city she served as intern in the Woman's hospital for several years. She then came to Fort Wayne, where she and her husband, who also was a physician, practiced medicine together.

GERMANY HAS GREAT STORE OF POTATOES

Berlin, Aug. 17.—(Via London).—There is an unexpected abundance of potatoes in Germany, according to a statement made to the budget committee of the reichstag by Secretary of the Interior Delbrueck.

The explanation, he said, was the great economy practiced because of the underestimation of the supply at the beginning of the war. The imperial bureau of potato supply has distributed over 10,000,000 hundredweight to municipalities, starch factories and distillers. Herr Delbrueck stated also that there was a balance of 7,000,000 double hundredweight from the previous grain crop to which must be added probably 50,000,000 double hundredweight from the new crop. The prospects for a supply of meat are satisfactory and a normal quantity of sugar has been obtained for the coming year.

CORPORATIONS TO PAY TAX DEFICIT

Ruling in Oregon to Bring in Funds When State Goes Dry.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 18.—This city was wondering where it was going to get money to help equal the deficit caused by the saloons which will quit business when the prohibition amendment takes effect next January. And Jurist George H. Burnett, of the Oregon state supreme court, quickly answered the question. Judge Burnett issued a decision which will force the heating and lighting plants of the city, both gas and electricity, to pay a 3 per cent. tax.

The tax was voted by the city council in 1911, but the gas company fought the ordinance in the courts. The case went to the supreme court.

A few days ago the mayor called a special session of the council to determine how to face the coming deficit. As the commissioners sat down at the meeting a messenger arrived with news of Judge Burnett's decision ordering that the gas company pay the 3 per cent. on its income, amounting to thousands yearly.

"Well, that'll help some," said the mayor. "A couple more decisions like that and we'll have money enough to build a new city hall."

REWARD FOR STOLEN SUFFRAGIST TORCH

New York, Aug. 18.—Announcement today of the offer of a reward of $50 for the return of a torch which has been carried through New York and New Jersey in the campaign conducted for votes by the Women's Political union, disclosed the fact that the torch had been stolen after a suffrage meeting at Atlantic Highlands, N. J., last night. The emblem of the suffragists was recently transferred from New York to New Jersey two states meet, money, women of the Hudson river to convey the torch from one state to the other. When it was stolen it was in custody of suffragists who left it in an automobile to enter a store. When they returned the torch was gone.

HUNDREDS ATTEND FARMERS' PICNIC

Similar Gatherings Will Probably Be Held Every Year.

With ideal weather conditions hundreds of farmers from all parts of Allen county attended the farmers' picnic Wednesday on the Henry Fortmeyer farm, five miles north of the city. The affair was given under the direction of the Washington Township Farmers' club and everybody had such a good time that a movement was started to hold similar gatherings every year.

The members of the Washington Township Farmers' club do not do things by halves. For weeks they have been planning and making preparations for this picnic and were assisted by Clarence Henry, county agricultural agent, who secured the speakers and helped to do the advertising.

Although the festivities were not scheduled to begin until 11 o'clock, long before that time the crowd began to gather. Farmers with their wives and their children were there from all parts of the county and a large number of them were in automobiles, too. A few years ago they would have hitched Maud and Dick to a carriage and if they had lived any distance away, they would have started early in the morning so as to get there in time.

Three speakers on the program were all from Purdue university. Professor F. M. Shanklin, J. D. Harper and Miss Lella Gaddis. Music throughout the day was furnished by the Leo band.

Immediately after dinner a base ball game was played between the married and single men, the winners being presented with a large, cold watermelon.

The horseshoe pitching contest was also an interesting feature of the day's program.

J. D. Harper, of Purdue, was the first speaker. He spoke on the subject of "Wheat Production." Miss Lella Gaddis gave a talk on "Home Economics," and F. M. Shanklin gave an address for the boys and girls.

MR. AND MRS. CELESTIN JOURDAIN MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

In the home where they have lived nearly all of their married life, 1225 Maumee avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Celestin Jourdain celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday with their five children and seven grandchildren with them. In the afternoon many friends called to extend congratulations to the worthy couple and offer them wishes for many years of future good health and happiness, both of which Mr. and Mrs. Jourdain are enjoying now, and have for many years. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Jourdain are looked upon as being very aged, in spite of their seventy-seven and seventy-two, respectively. Their faculties are not impaired and they have endurance and strength, partly the result of always being cheerful and hopeful. They are very popular grandparents with their children's children and they have hosts of friends in the Catholic congregation and among the older residents of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Jourdain are of French descent. Mr. Jourdain was born in France. Mrs. Jourdain was a Pichon by birth and her twin brother, Frank Pichon lives in Leo. The Pichon family lived near Academie. The son and daughter who assisted their parents during the day are Miss Mary and Louise Jourdain, who live at home, and Mrs. Alexander Hamm, Mrs. William F. Gebhard and Mrs. Louis Lanterner.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

BUOYANT ELSIE JANIS.

At Jefferson in "Nearly a Lady" An Original Comedy Confection Written by Herself.

What can't Elsie Janis do? After seeing her wonderful Lariat dance with the cowboys in her new Bosworth photo comedy, "Nearly a Lady," that is the first question that arises.

Mimic, singer, dancer, author, Elsie Janis is gifted with the ability to assimilate any new pursuit and make herself so the master of it that she outdoes even those who have been at it for years.

In "Nearly a Lady," the Montana cowboys, headed by Art Accord, the famous rider, demonstrate some of these bewildering dances with Elsie Janis looking on. When they are finished she frankly doffs her riding skirt and proceeds to do the Lariat dance she has just seen. With toes tripping prettily in perfect time, she dances inside the whirling rope which by means of her supple wrist, all the time describes a flying hoop around her like the hoop of a crotchet. And the marvel of it is that her dance is far more expert than those of Art Accord and his boys, who are genuine cowboys, bred and brought up on ranch and range. "Nearly a Lady," the third of the film comedies Elsie Janis has played for Bosworth Incorporated, is her favorite. Filled with action of a new kind and carrying a pretty love story it quite justifies her preference.

AT THE TEMPLE.

THE OTHER SIDE OF IT.

"The Penalty" Makes a Headless Public Stop and Ponder.

Every question has two sides, and that homely truth applies to a woman's indiscretions as well as to a man's. This may jar on the minds long accustomed to the double standard of morality, but the drama "The Penalty" is the character of play calculated to make the heedless American public stop and ponder on the question of whether a woman may not err and still not be totally depraved. The story hinges on a mother's love of her son, a love that drives her into the arms of a man other than her husband so that she may secure money for her boy's education. The world's view that such a woman is "outside the pale" is one that may be sadly jolted by such a drama, although the play does not pretend to preach free love nor indiscriminate bestowal of affection. It just gives "the other side." The Payson Players, who are presenting this drama at the Temple, will be enjoyed in a matinee performance tomorrow.

AT THE NEW PALACE.

BUSMAN IN GREAT PLAY.

Distinguished Screen Star Appearing in "Second in Command."

The appearance of Francis X. Bushman in the role of Miles Anstruther, created in the original Frohman production by the notable star, John Drew, is one of the foremost triumphs of the silent drama, as this film, which is being projected today and tomorrow at the New Palace, constitutes the most extraordinary achievement of Mr. Bushman's brilliant career. The delectable Marguerite Snow is appearing as a co-star with Mr. Bushman. "The Second in Command" is a story with a love theme that is distinctly unusual. It revolves around a brother officer's successful efforts to extricate Anstruther and his fiancée from a falsehood, and his subsequent confession when Anstruther saves him from death on the battlefield. No more dramatic scene ever has been staged than the one in which Anstruther earns the Victoria Cross by saving the life of his brother officer.

"The Naked Truth," a story of artists' life in the Latin quarter of Paris, with all its romance, its gay crowds and its magnificent salons, will be projected at the New Palace Thursday.

IN THE CHURCHES

REV. DR. VICHERT HONORED.

Former Pastor of First Baptist Church Dean of College Seminary.

It will greatly interest the membership of the First Baptist church and numerous other friends in this city to learn that Rev. Dr. John F. Vichert, formerly pastor of that church, has but recently achieved new distinctions in the east. He has just been elected corresponding secretary of the New York Educational society and dean of the College Theological seminary, at Hamilton, N. Y. Dr. Vichert came to Fort Wayne as successor to Rev. J. N. Field in the pastorate of the First Baptist church and remained here several years, when he accepted a call to the east and was succeeded by Rev. C. H. Snashall, who now has that pastorate. Dr. Vichert was twice chosen president of the Indiana Baptist convention during his residence in this city.

It Will Be Children's Day.
At the meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of Trinity M. E. church, to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Win. Scher, 1640 Wells street, the occasion will be the annual day for the children and the young folks will present a program. The assisting hostesses to Mrs. Archer will be Mesdames Hann, Wolf and Hartman.

Social at Reservoir Park.
The Simpson Epworth league will give an ice cream social at Reservoir park this evening. This social was originally planned for Thursday evening, August 12th, and on account of the inclemency of the weather it was postponed to this evening. In the event of rain this evening it will be held Wednesday at the Simpson Methodist church, corner Harrison and Sutherland streets. A Harrison orchestra will furnish the music.

Peter Joseph Oddo, formerly of the American Road Machine works, took employment at his trade in the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

TRACTION EMPLOYEES TO HAVE AN OUTING

Third Annual Picnic to Be Held at Sylvan Lake Thursday.

The third annual outing of the employees of the Fort Wayne and Northern Railway company, and all members of their families, will be held at Sylvan Lake, Rome City, on next Thursday. The company will act as host, providing transportation, entertainment, lunch, lemonade and other things incidental to making the day an enjoyable one.

The picnic will be in no way impair the regular service during the day, as shifts are being arranged so that every employee can be in Rome City for part of the day. Extra men also will help out so as to permit as many employees as possible to spend the entire day at the lake.

Picnic at Robinson Park.
Two special cars were run over the Fort Wayne and Springfield line Tuesday, bringing to this city the members of the Sunday school of the Evangelical church at Decatur, who are spending the day at Robinson park.

Large Electrical Sign.
A large electrical sign in different colors has been placed on top of a building at the transfer corner at Main and Calhoun street, advertising the annual linenmen's social to be given on August 18.

Union Cars Designated.
A special board has been painted and placed on all union "jitney" busses to distinguish them from the "jitneys" that are not identified with the recently organized union.

Circus is Coming.
Word was received Tuesday by officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company that the Wallace & Hagenbeck circus will show in Fort Wayne on Labor day, September 6. The circus cancelled its engagement at Kokomo, preferring to come to Fort Wayne.

Must Send Orders at Once.
Officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company have been advised by the Midvale Steel company, of Philadelphia, that if the company anticipates placing orders for car wheels to be delivered within the next six months orders should be sent at once. The letter stated that the Midvale company expected its business to be much above the normal by January 1, and in preparation for this, it is urging customers to file orders immediately.

Mr. King will arrive in the city in a few days to go over the various details with the board. The commercial department will be located in room 17.

The request by the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor that a two-year commercial course be placed in the vocational schools of the city has been granted. Ample room has been found in the new Harmer school building and the course will be given after the eighth grade.

PROCLAIMS DISEASE PREVENTION DAY.
Governor Ralston Gives Official Notice of Friday, October 1.

Indianapolis, Aug. 17.—Carrying out the provisions of a concurrent resolution adopted by the legislative last winter, which designates the first Friday in October of each year as disease prevention day in Indiana, Governor Ralston has issued the following proclamation declaring Friday, October 1, a day to be observed in the public schools, by municipalities, civic and other organizations in a manner tending to arouse the entire commonwealth to the need for state-wide effort against preventable disease.

"A Proclamation: The unanimity with which the first official proclamation for a disease prevention day, that of last year, was received by the general public, the public schools, the medical profession and the sanitary scientists and philanthropists, is of itself a sufficient warrant for issuing a second one in 1915.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Indiana, at the capitol, in the city of Indianapolis, this 6th day of August, 1915.

been received from Galveston saying that a large vessel had been blown through the causeway connecting Galveston with the mainland. Two work trains were ordered to Galveston to assist in repairing the damage.

After losing their wire to Galveston last night the Santa Fe officers here retained communication with Alvin, midway between Houston and Galveston, for some time, finally losing it when the telegrapher at Alvin stated that the water was rising and that he would be compelled to leave. Before going, however, he stated that the water in that vicinity ranged from seven to ten feet in depth.

STORM STRIKES INLAND.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 17.—At 7:45 this morning San Antonio and Austin had been added to the isolated cities in Texas, indicating the tropical storm which struck Galveston yesterday was working considerable distance inland. Galveston, Houston and Beaumont still were cut off from all wire communication. Telegraph and telephone companies stated their principal difficulty in restoring communication to Galveston and Beaumont, was due to damage to their lines in the vicinity of Houston.

Houston, Beaumont, Galveston and a group of lesser towns were cut off and for a while San Antonio and Austin were cut off, but communication with the latter was re-established. A report from Galveston by last night's latest arrivals in Houston, told of comparative quiet among the residents. The streets of Galveston were reported filled with rainwater but the level of the sea water was several feet below that of the city last night. Early reports of water from the bay running through the streets were believed today to be incorrect as the rainwater easily might fill the city's sewers and flood the thoroughfares.

The greatest damage is that to crops and farmhouses along the coastal plain where the storm raged. The United States weather service has given the people of tide section along the coast ample warning and it is believed most of the people have taken advantage of the warning.

ing were no longer the world standard of finance.

There seemed to be little doubt in the opinion of those familiar with the situation that should England seek to issue a loan of approximately $500,000,000 in two year five per cent. bonded debentures as a suggestion for remedying the present situation, such a loan would be cared for here and the foreign exchange markets would be restored to some degree of equilibrium.

American Banks Do Not Worry.

In view of the fact that all contracts placed by the varying powers in the United States call for payment in dollars—and not in sterling as had been popularly believed—American bankers were inclined today to leave the situation entirely in the hands of foreign bankers, upon whom fall the big losses due to the present depressed rates.

The disruption of the exchange market was reflected in today's active stock market where the foreign selling of American bonds was resumed.

Wants to Know.

"If this proves acceptable to the imperial German government it will be easy also to determine whether, pending the arbitral award, the imperial government shall govern its naval operations in accordance with the interpretation maintained by the United States as to the obligations imposed by their treaty stipulations, and the government of the United States would be glad to have an expression of the views of the imperial German government on the point."

BRITAIN LOSES FIRST TROOPS ON TRANSPORT

Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, will not be able to assure the safety of his armies until the menace presented by the operations of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in Courland, is removed. In the Bausk district of Courland the German army has been driven back toward the Aa river, while Kovno is still stemming the German tide. The chief struggle, however, centers north of the Niemen river. Between the Narw and the Bug the German drive evidently is making some headway, although the Russian claims that attacks of the invaders in this region have been repulsed after heavy fighting. Along the middle Bug the Austrians and Germans have forced several crossings. If the Russians plan to hold the valuable transverse railroad running through Vilna, Grodno, Bialystok, Brest-Litovsk and Kovno, they must soon check the Austrians and Germans definitely.

Eastern Situation Clearing.

From the standpoint of the entente allies the near eastern situation is clearing with the assertion, officially inspired, from Nish, that Serbia's attitude is not irreconcilable, but that the settlement must be more general than a mere rectification of frontiers in the Balkans. Former Premier Venetza, having been summoned by King Constantine, is expected to be once more in the saddle tomorrow.

Roumania is becoming more determined in her refusal to permit the passage of munitions to Turkey, which country is reported to be showing concern over the attitude of Bulgaria.

ADMIRALTY'S OFFICIAL REPORT.

Meager Details of Sinking of Transport Royal Edward in Aegean.

London, Aug. 17.—The British transport, Royal Edward, has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. Announcement to this effect was made officially today. Six hundred men were saved out of 1,350 troops and 220 other persons on board.

The announcement follows: "The British transport, Royal Edward, was sunk by an enemy submarine in the Aegean sea last Saturday morning. According to the information at present available the transport had on board 32 military officers and 1,350 troops, in addition to the ships crew of 20 officers and men.

"The troops consisted mainly of reinforcements for the 29th division and details of the Royal army medical corps. "Full information has not yet been received, but it is known that about 600 have been saved."

So far as has been reported officially, this is the first instance in which a British transport has been attacked successfully by a submarine. It had been a matter of pride with the British government that it had transported hundreds of thousands of troops across many seas without the loss of life. It is probable that the number of troops sent to France and Belgium since the beginning of the war is considerably in excess of 700,000. In addition large numbers of men have been transported to the Dardanelles, Egypt, South Africa and Serbia. Troops have been brought in from Canada, New Zealand, Australia and India for defense of the mother country. The transports are accompanied by an escort of warships, chief reliance being placed on destroyers, for warding off submarine attacks. The British announcement shows that the Royal Edward was engaged in conveying troops to the Dardanelles from having been sunk in the Aegean sea.

U-Boats Very Active. German submarines sent to these waters to assist the Turks have been very active. One of them, U-51, under command of Captain Otto Hering, made the voyage from Wilhelmshaven to the Dardanelles and sank the battleships Triumph and Majestic.

The Royal Edward apparently had been engaged in the transport service since early in the war. On Aug. 11, 1914, she sailed from Montreal with 500 French reservists on board. The last report in maritime records show her arrival on October 18 at Plymouth.

An official dispatch from Berlin Feb. 21 reported the sinking of a British transport with troops and of a steamer which was accompanying the transport. Later it was said a prize offered in Germany for sinking a transport had been distributed. No official statement was made on this subject, however, either in Berlin or in London.

The Royal Edward was 11,117 tons gross and 326 feet long. She was owned by the Canadian Northern Steamship company of Toronto. She was built in Glasgow in 1908.

GERMANS WIN OF KOVNO.

Many Cannon and 4,500 Prisoners Taken With a Russian Fort.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—One of the outlying forts of Kovno, between the Niemen river and Gesia, to the south of the main fortifications, has been captured by the Germans, it was announced by German army headquarters today.

Gesia is a small town two and a half miles south of Kovno on the left bank of the Niemen, which bends twice sharply to the south and then runs northward again in the approximate shape of the letter W shortly before Kovno is reached.

More than 240 cannon and 4,500 prisoners were captured at Kovno, the statement adds. Three forts at Novogorodsk also have been captured, army headquarters report.

RESISTANCE WILL INCREASE.

Amsterdam, Aug. 17.—Warning is telegraphed to Berlin by the war correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger from the eastern war theatre that the resistance of the Russians may be expected to increase as the Austro-German front approaches the Russian line of defense.

"The correspondent declares that the Russians can dispose sufficiently strong forces to enable them to make a serious temporary resistance and adds that battles of increasing intensity with perhaps a retardation in the German advance are to be looked for in the immediate future."

U. S. GUNBOAT ORDERED IN.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch from Sofia to Reuters' Telegram company says the Turkish authorities at Constantinople have ordered the American gunboat Scorpion, which has been in those waters for some time, to take up her moorings in the inner part of the Golden Horn. Ambassador Morgenthau's protests were unavailing, the dispatch says, but he was able to utilize the occasion to settle some minor questions which have been pending.

The shortage of coal in Constantinople is expected to result in a few days in discontinuance of the electric lighting and street car service.

Committee of Property Owners Given Little Encouragement.

A committee headed by Charles W. Orr and representing the property holders on Rudisill boulevard spent an hour and three-quarters with Mayor Hoesy and Comptroller William C. Baade Tuesday forenoon in an effort to convince them that the paving of the boulevard should be started at once. The result of the session was the promise of the mayor that provided funds could be found with which to do the work on the street intersections, the work would be done by one of the city departments or another, but that he and Comptroller Baade were unable at present to find any way to secure these funds.

Mr. Orr in a detailed statement as to the conditions that now exist that make the paving almost a necessity and with a petition bearing the signatures of the majority of the property holders, explained to Mr. Hoesy that paving is desired by the owners and that there will be no demonstration against it.

Mr. Hoesy expressed himself as satisfied that the boulevard should be paved, but told the committee that the appropriation for paving as prepared by the comptroller would not permit the expenditure of $8,000 required in the crossing intersections. The board of works, he explained, had its course so mapped for the coming year that it would be practically impossible to finance this job, and that the park board might be able to handle the situation.

Col. D. N. Foster and Secretary Charles J. Steis, of the park board, discussed the matter and assured the committee that they would do their best. The mayor and members of the board of works and the park board Tuesday afternoon are making a trip of inspection over the boulevard in an effort to discover some means of at least temporarily bettering the conditions. Representatives of the Elms Training school were present and stated that the students tion of the boulevard at present is such that it is impossible to haul coal and provisions into the institution, and asked the city to at least get the roadway into such shape that light wagons could traverse it.

BOARD REJECTS BIDS.

The board of public works Monday afternoon threw out the bids for the city's portion of track elevation at Osage street Monday afternoon, because the lower of the two bids was found to be informal. The board will re-advertise bids to be opened September second.

TO DISCUSS BUDGET.

The city council, sitting as a committee of the whole Tuesday evening, will discuss the comptroller's budget for the expenditures of next year in the city administration.

LEO M. FRANK'S BODY DANGLES FROM TREE

The crowd increased rapidly as the day wore on. By 10 o'clock many women and children were mingling with the crowd in the woods at the edge of which the body still hung. At that hour no effort had been made to dispose of the body, although Coroner Booth had been summoned.

It is believed that the stop at the bridge over Little river near Eatonton, when the armed party talked loudly and fired shots, was a ruse to delay pursuers. The vicinity of the bridge was thoroughly searched and at the time the search was being made it is probable Frank already had met death.

Frank's body was cut down at 10:15 o'clock, but not until Robert Howell had spoken to the crowd advocating mutilation of the body.

Newton Morris immediately pleaded with the throng to allow an inquest to take its proper course. A vote was suggested and taken.

It was overwhelmingly in favor of allowing the coroner to take charge of the body. It then was cut down and the two mile trip to Marietta started. The inquest was set for eleven o'clock.

At the suggestion of Newton A. Morris, former superior court judge here, the body was taken from the undertaker's wagon, in which it was placed at the lynching scene and put into an automobile on the outskirts of the town. The automobile started toward Atlanta.

Judge Morris telephoned from Smyrna to an Atlanta undertaker to meet the automobile and take charge of the body.

Body Is Violated.

When the body was cut down, parts of Frank's shirt were torn away by souvenir hunters. The body was rough handled before it was put into the undertaker's wagon.

Within a short time after the body was started for Atlanta, excitement here subsided and the town presented almost a normal appearance before noon. After a special session of the Cobb county commissioners, at which the employment of a special attorney to assist the coroner's jury was authorized, Coroner John A. Booth empaneled a jury and began an investigation of the lynching.

HAS FOUND ITS WORK EASY.

No Difficulty Met in Abducting Frank From Prison to Scene of Lynching.

Milledgeville, Ga., Aug. 17.—A well organized party of armed men who came in from the surrounding country, attacked the Georgia State Prison yesterday and night, took Leo M. Frank, serving a life sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, at Atlanta, from a dormitory and escaped with him.

Reports early today were that Frank had been lynched.

For hours after the attack no trace of the automobiles bearing the party could be found, but at about daylight newspaper men picked up the trail at a point on Little river, near Eatonton, Ga. J. K. Jackson, a white farmer, living near a bridge over Little river, said that shortly after midnight he heard loud talking and then many shots. He heard the automobiles leave in the direction of Eatonton after the firing. A hurried search of the immediate vicinity failed to reveal anything that would indicate that Frank had met summary vengeance there.

Cut Wires; Capture Warden.

The armed men arrived in the vicinity of the prison farm practically unnoticed and proceeded methodically to its business.

All means of wire communication from the institution to Milledgeville, three miles away, were destroyed and all wires, except one telephone line from Milledgeville, also were cut.

Five men went to the house of Warden J. T. Smith, awakened him and made him prisoner. At the same time a small squad of men went to the home of J. M. Burke, superintendent of the farm. Burke was forced to go with them to the gate nearest the dormitory where it was believed Frank was kept. The two guards on duty there were ordered, while guns were leveled on them, to open the gates. The party then rushed in, quickly got Frank and hurried him to one of the waiting automobiles. He was forced down into the car, while a member of the party is said to have flourished a rope in front of him.

Time Lost Starting Pursuit.

Without delay those who had been guarding Warden Smith left him and joined the party at the gates. The automobiles then started off swiftly in a northerly direction.

With only a limited number of guards at the prison and wire communication with Milledgeville interrupted, immediate pursuit was impossible. Some time elapsed before word could be brought here and officers started in the direction taken by the party. None of these officers reported for several hours after they left. The first report of the route taken came from newspaper men, who left Macon at about the same time the officers got started from Milledgeville.

Theory of Rescue Advanced.

In the absence of definite news that Frank had been lynched many were inclined to believe that possibly it was his friends and not his foes who took him away and that the display of the rope and the shooting were parts of a plan to cover the real intentions of the party. Frank was sufficiently recovered from his wounded throat inflicted by another prisoner a month ago to leave the prison hospital Sunday and take his place in the sleeping quarters with the other prisoners.

Mrs. Frank, who had been almost constantly with her husband since William Green attacked him, was informed of last night's developments shortly after they occurred. She was reported to have maintained her composure and declined to comment.

Prison Superintendent's Story.

"I was called to the door just as I was preparing to retire," said Captain J. M. Burke, superintendent of the state farm, today.

"When I passed the threshold two strong men grabbed me and snatched handcuffs on my wrists. Four others stood guard over me with guns and pistols. I remonstrated and they declared it was no use for me to quirm as they had come for Leo Frank and were going to get him."

"I told them that Frank was not at my house and they said they knew that but they were going to take me where the Frank family was quartered. I was carried down the stairway and as we proceeded. When we reached the building, a demand was made for the gate to be opened and when the trusty prisoner awaited official orders one of the men began cutting the wires and informed the prisoner if he did not open it he would be killed as soon as entrance was effected.

Gate Unlocked; Mob Enters.

"The gate was then unlocked and C. Hester, a night guard, came forward but he was immediately covered and ordered to throw up his hands. Halfway up the steps I was halted while half a dozen men rushed by me and made a dash for Frank's room. One of the prisoners who witnessed this scene declared that four men took Frank by his arms and legs while a fifth grabbed him by the hair and he was dragged out and bumped down the stone steps. While I looked on, Frank did not utter a word but apparently was suffering intensely and groaned from pain inflicted in handling him in his wounded condition. The affair was all over within five minutes, it seemed to me.

Well Ordered and Methodical.

"During the entire time I was handcuffed and under guard. When the crowd brought Frank down and started off, I asked the fellow who had snatched the handcuffs to unlock them, but he laughed and said if I would accompany them they would take off the irons. The whole procedure was well ordered and methodical and only a few words were spoken. That evidently was agreed upon. A leader did all the talking. Just as they started off, the leader said, 'Now, boys, fast.' In the time it takes to tell it they were off and I could see the lights flashing as they went over the hill towards Marietta."

A. C. Phillips, sheriff, said over the telephone from Eatonton, at 8:30 o'clock this morning that a search for Frank's body near the bridge over Little river had so far been fruitless. Many empty rifle shells were found near where Jackson said he had heard the shots.

SLATON IN GREAT WRATH.

Former Governor of Georgia Who Committed Frank's Sentence, Speaks.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—Former Governor John M. Slaton, of Georgia, who, as chief executive of that state, commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of death passed upon Leo M. Frank, and who is here visiting the Panama-Pacific exposition, was informed this morning that Frank had been lynched.

"The act was a consummate outrage," said Mr. Slaton, "and every man engaged in the lynching should be hanged, for he is an assassin. Such an act is contrary to the civilization of Georgia, and one which every good citizen will condemn."

"I could not help but feel that the act was a disgrace to the state of Georgia."

will use all the power of the state to punish the malefactors who disgraced the civilization of Georgia.

"Their act was one of cowardice, which belongs alone to the assassin. "I am shocked and horrified beyond expression. Any man who approves of this act of the mob of murderers is unworthy to be a Georgian."

"Any man or newspaper which condones this offense ought to be driven out of the state. But the conduct of this miserable mob of assassins is the conduct of the same people who shoot a man from behind a fence or murder a woman from a cowardly heart."

PLUNGED IN DEEP GRIEF.

New York, Aug. 17.—When Rudolph Frank and his wife, parents of Leo M. Frank, learned definitely today that their son had been hanged near Marietta, Ga., they drew the shades at all windows of their home in Brooklyn and refused to answer the doorbell or telephone. Neighbors said the Frank family had begun an eight-day period of mourning, which was customary under the Jewish religion. Early callers at the Frank home were met by Otto Stern, Frank's brother-in-law. He said that Mr. Frank and his wife were asleep and had not been told of the kidnapping of their son. Stern said he learned of the matter through the newspapers. Within two hours the family had received word that Frank's body had been found hanging to a tree.

RECENT LETTER BY FRANK.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—A letter written by Leo M. Frank shortly after his incarceration at Milledgeville to Maurice Klein, a deputy United States marshal here, was made public today by Mr. Klein. It was dated July 4, 1915, at the office of Warden Smith in the Milledgeville prison and said:

"I have your kind letter and appreciate so much your sentiment and thoughts of me. Gov. Slaton's act was indeed courageous and wise. Just how sagacious, the near future I hope will more than amply demonstrate."

"I am now gradually adjusting myself to the new environment. My health is much better. I expect to improve both physically and mentally. The warden and his staff are both kind and solicitous. After a breathing space we will again take up the fight which will continue in vindication and liberty."

"With every good wish, I am cordially yours,

LEO M. FRANK.

Albert Schaaf, of the real estate firm of Hilgeman and Schaaf, was a member of the class of 1906 at Cornell with Leo M. Frank and knew him well before he was taken to the Georgia State Prison.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Mark 7:1-13.

1 Then came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with defiled, that is to say, with unwashed hands, they found a fault.

3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, they eat not, except they wash their hands, etc.

4 And when they came from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brazen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashed hands?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups; and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death:

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free.

12 And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother;

13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

City Sets a Bad Example

Because the board of works and the board of park commissioners are in controversy as to which body is responsible, there is continued neglect to repair the pavement on East Creighton avenue, from Calhoun street to Lafayette street. This controversy is joined on a question of finances. Neither body wants to deplete its funds by assuming the obligation to pay for the city's share of paving the two squares along the north front of Reservoir park. Meanwhile the street has become almost impassable for vehicles and presents a condition that not only shames the city but exposes it to imminent liability to damage suits by reason of accidents. More than a year ago the board of works was taking steps to get the street reconstructed. It was proposed that the work be performed by the city asphalt repair department and waivers were procured from most of the resident owners of private property along the street in order that the legal procedure of having such improvements done by contract might be dispensed with. Then the matter stopped. Meanwhile the condition of the street has grown steadily worse, as of course. A similar condition, and one almost as bad, exists on Sutfenfield street, upon which for two squares the southside of the park has frontage. Responsibility should be determined, no doubt, but it ought to be determined promptly and means to remedy conditions should be provided at once. It is probable that in the case of the Creighton avenue pavement repair has been so long delayed that little, if any, part of the foundation of the street, will be found worth saving. This means much heavier expense than if the work of repair had been inaugurated in season. The city owes to the citizens of Fort Wayne not only better service but likewise a better example of the conservation of public property. Nor should the city assume that it is exempt from obligation to keep the streets along city property in a decent and passable condition. Because Creighton avenue has been for years neglected in respect to repairs does not furnish a good reason why it should be permitted to grow worse. One of the two boards owes the community, and especially the property owners on Creighton and Sutfenfield street, who are demanding repairs, some substantial response and should settle their disagreement without delay.

Georgia's One Opportunity

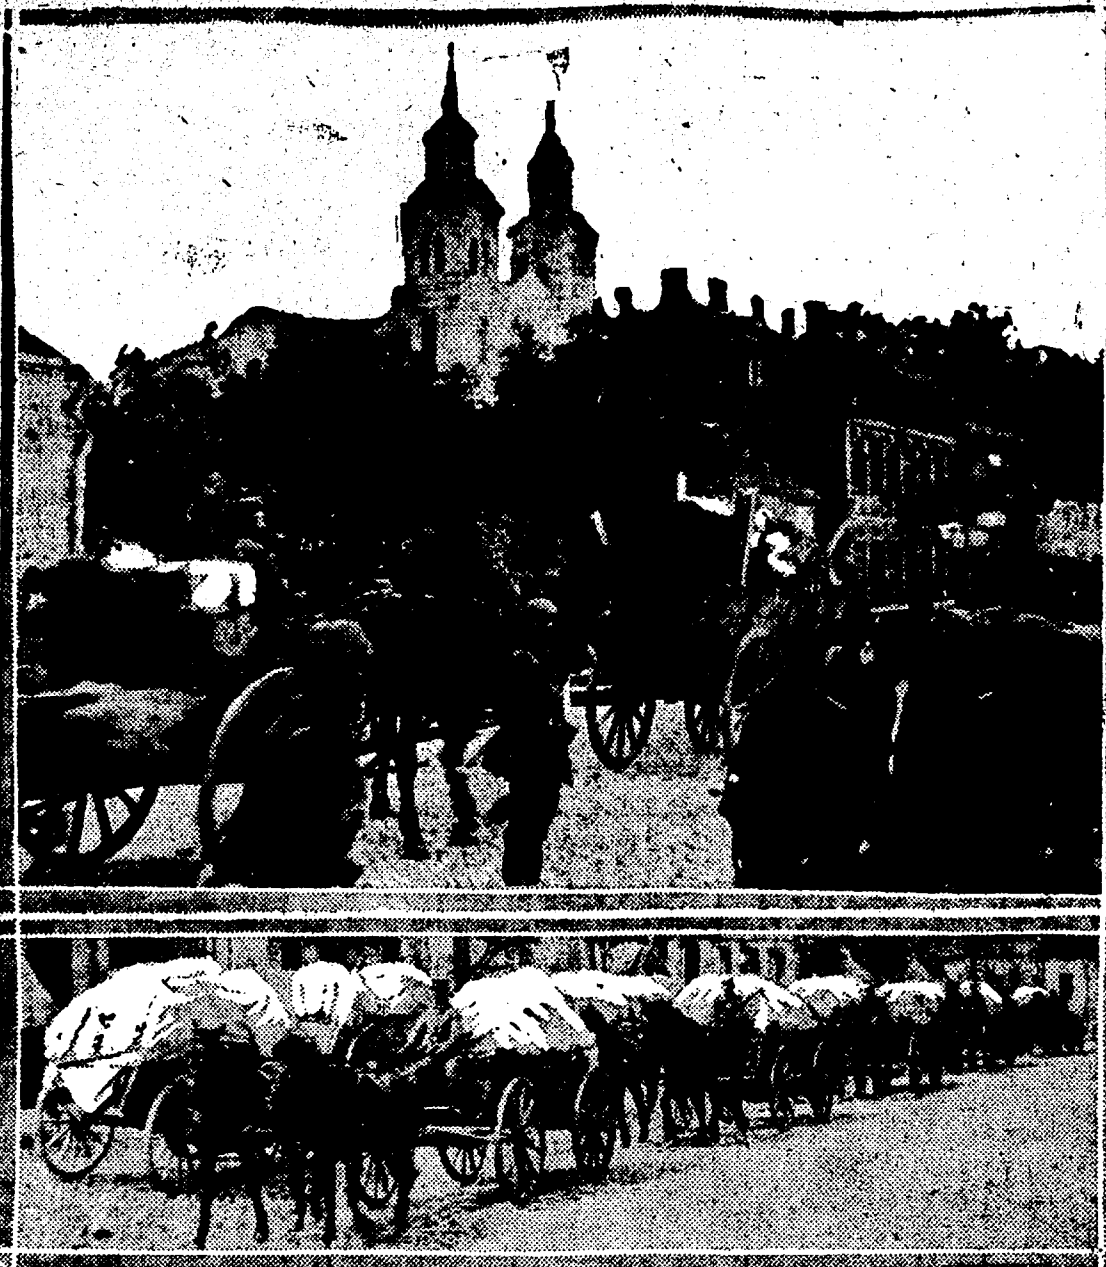

But one course is open to the state of Georgia to erase the foul stigma of Leo M. Frank's murder. That course lies in seeking out and punishing, as their crime deserves, the felons who wrought that deed of hatred, cowardice and blood. Governor Harris' conduct so far does not inspire great confidence in his desire to bring the lynchers to justice, but if he has regard for the future standing of his state with the rest of the country, he will spur his energies to a degree commensurate with the exigencies that confront him. A courageous and energetic executive, determined to wipe this disgrace from his commonwealth so far as that may now be done, would have the members of that mob behind prison gates in short order, and Governor Harris can do that if he wills that it be done. The Marietta crime was murder deliberate, cold-blooded and malevolent. It was not a mere lynching done in heat and with haste. It was planned long and carefully and executed with provision for every detail. The men who took part in that crime will not be hard to find and convict if that is what the governor of Georgia wants done with them. Governor Harris has a great opportunity to render a vast service to his state.

Too little has so far come out of Galveston to disclose whether or not her great and costly works designed to ward the city from repetition of the disaster of fifteen years ago have realized what was expected of them. If Galveston has suffered only damage and nothing like destruction in the assault of such a storm as has swept the Caribbean for three or four days she may consider her money very well spent and her confidence and boasting neither misplaced nor ill-timed. Nevertheless, disquieting rumors come from the storm-bound city that the disaster has been great.

There may be much and there may be nothing in the sensational and circumstantial stories of Germany's machinations in this country to direct public sentiment to her own advantage and to cripple the allies in all possible ways. Certainly the Kaiser and his government would be stupid not to seek in some way to offset the advantage that superior naval power of her enemies enables them to seize openly and without question.

The city's track elevation levy is to remain at the old figure of 10 cents. If that means track elevation now or even soon the levy is all right and just where it should be.

THE CITY MAN'S VOTE.

(Saturday Evening Post.)

Disfranchising white men by a clause in the constitution sounds odd. It has been seriously proposed in Illinois, however, and is now under consideration in New York's constitutional convention. Over half the population of New York and about two-fifths of the population of Illinois live in the chief city of the state. The proposition in both cases is to put such limitations in the constitution that the city man's vote, no matter how numerous he becomes, can never outweigh the country man's vote.

Of course, giving the country man's vote greater weight than the city man's, can be justified only on the ground that city voters constitute an inferior class, less intelligent and less virtuous than country voters, so that though the former may safely be left at the mercy of the latter it would never do to put the latter at the mercy of the former. Students of state politics in New York and Illinois will be at a loss to know where this idea originated, except in the imagination of country politicians.

Framers of the federal constitution, it may be recalled, had much trouble with a similar problem, and finally solved it by providing, in Article I, that for the purpose of apportioning representation in congress, negro slaves should be counted as equal to three-fifths the same number of free whites. No doubt the constitution makers at Albany would follow that simple precedent, but for a fear that the city would soon outgrow the handicap. Having that fear, they seem minded to fall back upon a rather bungling scheme of rotten boroughs, county seats, and the like, to divide the country members of the legislature should not vote on city affairs at all would be much more to the purpose of good government.

TO PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE WEIGHT

GOOD ADVICE FOR THIN PEOPLE.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to gain a few pounds and stay that way," declare many thin men and women. Such a result is usually not impossible despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood much of the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat the flesh making food elements must be so prepared in the digestive processes that the blood will accept and distribute them throughout the body. There is a preparation called Sargol, which works on this basis and which is sold by nearly every druggist on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back. Hundreds have testified to weight increase from its use.

Sargol does not of itself make fat but is simply a combination of ingredients of acknowledged merit that, taken with meals seems to better enable the digestive organs to separate the fattening elements of the food and to prepare them in a form which the blood can readily absorb. Sargol comes in tablet form, is pleasant and easy to take and its action is perfectly natural and harmless. Sargol is sold by Myers Bros. Drug Co., Drejer Drug Co., D. & W. Pharmacy, Family Drug Store, and druggists everywhere, who are authorized to refund the full purchase price if weight increase is not obtained.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while it has produced excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders care should be taken by those using it who do not want to increase weight.

CUBS TAKE FINAL FROM EVANSVILLE

Osborne Pitches Great Ball and Fort Wayne Wins.

Had Sheehan thrown with a little more accuracy to first in the third of yesterday's contest, Archie Osborne would have had another well deserved shutout chalked up on his side of the board. But there stands that big "If," and beside it a pair of runs for the Evans.

Fromholz hurried for the Rivermen, and he didn't look anything like the formidable pitcher he was earlier in the season. Three runs in the first seemed to take the pep out of him, and he worked like a wooden man the rest of the time.

Hartle and Brant were out when the Cubs started their scoring in the first, Sheehan walking and going to third on Holderman's single to deep right. Holderman stole and Bratchi scored two with this double to left. He then moved up a peg on a wild heave and tallied when Paul Beyers singled. The third was Fort Wayne's bad inning, and it was a little grandstand affair on the part of Fromholz that did it. He was running to first and bumped Holderman and fell, spreading out all over the ground and playing dead. It naturally unnerved the Cubs to some extent, Sheehan heaved wild and two crossed the plate. Wolf ran for Fromholz and the big fellow went in to pitch as if nothing had happened.

Hartle hit in this frame for the locals, and was found hugging third after Sheehan's long single. Hartle scored on Holderman's out.

Let it be said for Sheehan that in spite of his one bad heave he played considerable baseball, and figured prominently in all of Fort Wayne's scores. He has developed from a rather green young thing into one of the best third sackers in the league in his summer's experience in Fort Wayne. Sheehan is there every minute, and next year will never in the world see him in the little leagues. Brubaker got away with two hits yesterday and made a couple of the prettiest plays in the field that he has registered this year. He still suffers from his bad ankle but he is overcoming the difficulty rapidly and shows a lot of class. Hart, playing out of his position in right field, made a pretty catch on a hard one, and got one of the Cubs' fan hits.

Osborne hurled steady and consistent ball, striking out three men when strikeouts were essential, and holding the Evans under his thumb through practically the entire game. Beyers and Hartle played mighty fast ball in the field and on the bases, and Brant played a great game in his position, and Holderman and Bratchi were speedy on the sacks. Score:

TOSSING THE BOUQUETS.

Bade Myers strolled up to ump Sear at one point in the game and feelingly inquired after the condition of the ump's optics. He seemed to be greatly worried over Bo's blindness and suggested a pair of glasses.

"It's too bad you can't see any more," Myers moaned, weeping on the ump's shoulder blade.

"See! See! Why, Bade Myers, you can't see any more yourself. How do you expect to see? You're nearly ninety years old."

SATURDAY IS BADE MYERS DAY

Thursday is to Be Last Ladies' Day of the Season.

The Fort Wayne Cubs play an exhibition game at Payne, O., Wednesday and will be back on duty here for a double bill with Terre Haute Thursday. Thursday will be the last ladies' day of the season. The season closes here Saturday and the team goes from this city to Grand Rapids for the final series.

Saturday will be Bade Myers day, and the grand old man will be the center of attraction. Baseball isn't baseball in Fort Wayne without Bade Myers, and the fans ought to turn out in great mobs to do him reverence.

Saturday will also be a field day for the Fort Wayne team and there will be field exercises of all kinds on hand for the husky Cubs.

ALEXANDER CALLS JOHNSON BEST

Says Washington American Hurler is Greatest Flinger.

(By Brown Holmes). Grover Alexander, of the Philadelphia Nationals, has been heralded this season as the greatest pitcher in baseball, but Grover says the title belongs to Walter Johnson, of the Washington Americans.

"When I asked Alec to name the best pitcher in the game he said, 'Walter Johnson,' without a moment's hesitation. Others who have given their opinion have named Alec in preference to the great Washington chucker.

"The test for a pitcher comes when his club is having a bad season," said Alexander. "Johnson was a winner in the years when the Washington club spent most of its time down around last place.

"The big fellow has been in the American league eight years and has always won a big share of his games. That's long enough to show that his real big seasons were not flashes. Johnson's got as much speed as any pitcher ever had, and he's got control and everything else to go with it.

"To go back and take in the pitchers of all time, I think Matty was the best. He won a big percentage of his games for fifteen years or more. That's a wonderful record.

"Some of the pitchers of the old days have been called great pitchers, but I can't see how any of them could have been better than Matty. He is not as good this year as he was formerly, and that's why I pick Johnson above him. Nobody could expect a pitcher to be a wonder forever."

It has been said many times that if Johnson ever got into a world's series he could win it by himself. The same thing is being said now of Alexander, and there is a possibility he will get a chance to show his goods in the big post-season battle.

TRAPSHOOTERS SHOOT AWAY $80,000 IN A SINGLE WEEK.

The entry fee for a shooter going in every event is $80, but the average entry fee is $40, bringing that total for 900 shooters to $36,000. The treasury of the association was tapped for $10,000, for putting up tents, erecting traps, buying targets, etc., bringing a grand total of $46,000, which may be a low estimate, if anything.

Men who follow the plow mingle with millionaires in this sport. One of the first to pull a trigger was W. E. Phillips, of Chicago, and right beside him was R. G. Weir, a machinist from Freemont, Ill. There was a ranch owner from Texas and a painter from Denver. Then there was a Concoria, Kan., farmer, who was represented by a letter of regret. He said he couldn't come because he would be busy with his crops.

Trapshooting is the most spectacular sport under the sun.

A fair average of the amount spent by each for railroad fare is $25, making a total of $17,500 for transportation. Shells cost $30 per thousand, and it was estimated 400,000 would be used during the tournament, making $12,000 for ammunition.

More than $80,000 is being literally shot away this week by trapshooters attending the grand American handicap tournament at Chicago.

The event is the blue ribbon classic of the gun world. Every section of the country and every walk of life is represented in the entry list of 900 men and women which broke all entry records.

The $80,000 represents the amount spent by shooters for the fun of feeling the kick of a gun, smelling powder and hearing the yell of the scorer calling out "dead" after each "bird" is shattered into bits.

Trapshooting is amateur sport pure and simple. The shooters not only provide their own guns and shells but pay their own railroad and hotel expenses. And they travel hundreds of miles to reach the tournament city.

Of the 900 shooters entered 700 live in cities outside of Chicago. The tournament was booked for five days, and figuring each shooter at $2 a day for lodging and meals, $1,000 is spent for hotel bills.

AT THE NEW PALACE
BUSHMAN CLOSING TONIGHT.

Last Hime to See the Screen's Sovereign Actor at Palace.

Tonight will afford the final opportunity for enjoying Francis X. Bushman, the screen's sovereign actor, and the exquisite beauty, Marguerite Snow, in the drama, "The Second in Command." This picturization of the Charles Frohman drama, in which John Drew starred, is affording Mr. Bushman and Miss Snow unparalleled opportunities to display their remarkable histrionic skill.

George Kleine's dainty story of the Latin quarter of Paris, "The Naked Truth," is the beautiful film to be projected at the New Palace tomorrow. This story is a visualization of studio life in Paris among the successful artists, men who are sought after and lionized for their beauty and the fashion of the world. The dazzling brilliancy of the scenes as well as the consummate ability of Mlle. Lyda Borelli, the Mary Pickford of France, combine to make this film an extraordinary one. Mrs. Leslie Carter in a film adaptation of "DuBarry," is the Friday booking and for two days, starting Saturday, the New Palace will offer the film sensation of the season, five reels of Charles Chaplin's comic operas, and Miss Emily Stevens in "Cora," the great play in which Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske starred. Chaplin's comedies for this week are "His Prehistoric Past," "The Knockout" and "The Gentleman of Nerve." There will be no pictures at the New Palace next week, as the house will be undergoing a general refurbishing in anticipation of the opening of the Keith van-deville season.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Girls from Joyland," 42 Strong, Open Two-Day Engagement Tonight at the Majestic.

For the first time on any stage Sim Williams, the popular musical comedy and burlesque producer will introduce his latest edition of the "Girls from Joyland" at the Majestic theater tonight when they commence a two days' engagement. A special ladies' matinee will be given tomorrow.

Mr. Williams is offering thesteorgers something new, two musical comedies, opening with "Midnight Frolics," a farce in three scenes, with funny situations and complications running riot throughout the action. The closing laugh producer will be the oriental farce, "A Night in a Harlem." The stage setting for this comedy shows a reproduction of a pasha's palace. During the action many novelties will be introduced, including the competitive cake walk contest between pretty girls, twenty-four in number. Much rivalry exists. The audience at each performance will act as judges as to the winner.

A chorus of pretty girls will be seen bedecked in gowns all the colors of the rainbow. "The Fall of Babylon" is the extra feature. This is a reproduction of the celebrated painting, posed by beautiful girls.

"The Charming Widows" Come Friday.
The big production, "The Charming Widows," which is a merry mixture of musical comedy, burlesque, extravaganza and vaudeville, and which is presented by some of the best known players in these fields of dramatic endeavor, will come to the Majestic theater on Friday. The engagement is for two nights, with matinee Saturday. The show is replete with a new scenery, costumes and electrical effects and the company numbers thirty-five people, twenty of them being in the chorus. Eddie Dale, the popular German comedian; Sam Carlton, Hebrew comedian; Pauline Palmer, Helen Stanley, Jimmy Cooper, Ada Lum, Harry Peterson and Hugh Skelly have the leading roles. Enjoyable singing and dancing numbers and vaudeville acts will be introduced. "Sita," a Hindu dramatic divertissement, in which Mlle. Simone De Bery is featured in a thrilling, sensational dance, is an added attraction.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

MARIE TEMPEST CONVERTED.

World Famous Comedienne Appears in Films at Orpheum Tomorrow in Noted Farce, "Mrs. Plum's Pudding."

Marie Tempest, famous on the stages of two continents, and officially recognized as the most skilled interpreter of farce-comedy roles living in contemporary times, has at last accepted the importunities of the omnipotent movie magnates, and will re-create the deliciously funny title role in "Mrs. Plum's Pudding" tomorrow.

By Betty Brown.
It's in the season between-suits that the wise girl gives serious attention to neckwear. The summer suit may be a lap behind the fashion, but its vintage will be forgotten if some of the new and fantastic creations in neckwear is worn with it.

The very newest and oddest thing the season has brought forth in neckwear is the "choker," an upstanding collar of organic that rises right up to the ear tops and curls around frontward and almost conceals the chin. It's detachable and it's truly smart when it's adorned with a tailored suit.

ding" on the screen at the Orpheum theater tomorrow. The advent of Miss Tempest into the silent drama means the passing from the legitimate stage of one of the most celebrated stars who ever graced those classic boards, and one who has truly gained an enviable reputation among her fellow artists. Her brilliant comedy gifts were perhaps never revealed to more or better advantage than in "Mrs. Plum's Pudding." Avery Hopwood's scintillating farce success, and it was for this reason that the Universal Corporation decided to picture Miss Tempest in the play which would afford her maximum opportunities in every way. A brilliant cast of associate artists is seen with Miss Tempest, including the noted English actor, W. Graham Browne.

An elaborate musical program has been arranged by the Orpheum orchestra in order to make this day one to be remembered in local theatrical history, and some exceptionally fine accompaniments will be given in harmonic accompaniment to the picture shown. Frederick Hughes will also prove another agreeable attraction, the sensational young tenor having elected to give some effective ballad numbers during the day.

The customary admission price of ten cents, charged during those days when special features are run, will be in vogue tomorrow. On Friday, the remarkable pictorial protest against war, "Pro Patria," will be shown.

All young men's fancy suits, sizes 15 to 19, half price.

WITTY ELSIE JANIS

Wrote the Highly Humorous Subtitles in "Nearly a Lady" Seen at Jefferson. Theda Bara Tomorrow.

Nothing funnier has been presented in years than the sensation Lord Cecil Grosvenor makes at the dinner table of the Calhoun family on their Montana ranch with nothing more nor nothing less than a fork! The absolute confusion amid which Elsie Janis, as the daughter, tries to master this new table tool, ought to make you laugh until you cry for mercy. Add to this the perfect obliviousness of the whole situation with which old man Calhoun, like a contented old sea lion, plows through his provender in the good old fashioned way, and you will readily agree that Miss Janis has done something in the way of keen witted farce.

MATINEE TOMORROW AT TEMPLE.

Paycen Stock Players to Present Mother-Love Drama, "The Penalty."

The drama that searches right down into one's heart with appealing lines and dramatic situations, is "The Penalty," the greatest story ever written on the theme, a mother's love for her son. The Paycen Stock players will present this splendid drama tomorrow in a matinee performance. There are just enough tears in it, just enough heart throb and just enough laughs to make it an ideal matinee vehicle. The story briefly is that of a woman, whose son discovers her double life through the blabbing of a man, the son turning on the mother and driving her wild by scorning her. The climax of the scene, in which the mother is scorned, is so startling as to remain long in one's memory.

Bit of a Billow in the New Skirts

By BETTY BROWN.

The ripple that came in with the summer skirts still gives a gentle billow to the new skirts designed for early autumn. A tailored suit that has just come from the studio of Mme. Marguerite of the Fashion Art League of Chicago shows this tendency to flare at the ankle, or rather a few inches above the ankle, for like all modish gowns, this one is fully six inches from the ground.

The coat is built on Norfolk lines, but the lack of a belt and the presence of a peplum removes it from the Norfolk class. Blue taffeta with big checks of shadow green is used to develop the gown. The yoke and collar are so plain that the new fall scarfs or knitted wool may be worn becomingly.

The woman's auxiliary to Company B, Indiana national guard, will give a supper Friday evening for the members of the company at the armory in the Flick building on West Berry street.

All indications point to a large enrollment for our fall opening a week from next Monday. Will you be with us? Phone 504 for particulars and catalogue.

HUNDRED ARE DEAD: LOSS IS MILLIONS

evidently carried there from the Galveston docks. Dear farm animals were also strewn over the prairie. One estimate places the damage at Texas City at $400,000. The city has been placed under military rule and the soldiers are assisting in the recovery of bodies from the water. Many of those who met death at Texas City were killed in the collapse of buildings.

Reports from San Antonio were to the effect that Point Isabel reported yesterday as being flooded, was safe.

WORSE THAN IN 1900 STORM.

Newspaper Man Gets Within Sight of Galveston and Reports Havoc.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 18.—The Houston Chronicle prints the following interview with J. R. Montgomery, a Houston correspondent of the Galveston News, who got as far as Virginia Point, the north end of the Causeway, Wednesday, and viewed the wrecked city of Galveston:

"I am confident the number of dead in Galveston is large. I could not see an elevator on the port side of the city and my opinion is that the number of buildings destroyed will run into the thousands.

Exceeds Great Disaster of 1900. "I believe the property loss will be greater than that of 1900."

Montgomery made his way to the draw-bridge of the Galveston causeway, and owing to the fact that this structure was swept away he was forced to return to Houston. The man made the trip in an automobile.

"We encountered indescribable conditions," he said. "The road bridges at Clear Creek and Dickinson were washed out and we ran our automobile over the railroad bridge across the ties.

Cotton Washed Inland. "We saw thousands of bales of cotton on the prairies all the way from Virginia Point (the mainland end of the Galveston causeway) to the town of Lamarque, far inland. These were washed from Galveston docks.

"The water must have been several feet over the causeway and serious damage must have been done to it by the washing out of large quantities of fillings in the center."

The Chronicle reported that it received reports that fifty persons are dead at Texas City, but accounts for only twelve soldiers, who perished when the Thompson building at Texas City collapsed. It is said these were all private soldiers, no commanding officers having lost their lives. The railroad bridge has been washed away at Seabrook, about twenty miles from Houston. Three persons are reported to have lost their lives at that point.

EIGHTY DEAD REPORTED.

Meager Details of Storm's Wrath in Texas Show Heavy Loss of Life.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18.—More than three score lives and property damage estimated at millions of dollars was caused by the great tropical storm which swept the Gulf coast of Texas yesterday and the day before, according to information that today trickled through the veil that has surrounded the stricken district because of broken wire communication.

Houston, Galveston and Beaumont remained practically cut off from the outside world but wire companies expected to be able to communicate with all three places before night.

Hurricane Abates. Although rain was still falling in some districts the wind had lessened in velocity.

Copies of yesterday's Houston newspapers received today, told of the death of twelve soldiers and 30 or 35 civilians at Texas City and said six persons were drowned at La Porte, 20 miles southeast of Houston.

Eight men were reported dead near Morgan's Point. Military rule, according to the Houston Chronicle of yesterday, has been established at Texas City and soldiers are taking bodies from the water as fast as they can be located.

Disappointingly brief wireless reports received from the army transport Buford by the station in Fort Sam Houston, at San Antonio, gave only the most meager report of conditions at Galveston. No mention was made of loss of life, but report the loss of buildings.

Damage Estimates Up to $5,000,000. Reports from Houston brought by trainmen late last night told of two or three persons killed although other reports declared there was no loss of life. A like situation obtained at Texas City.

Conflicting reports as to property damage in Houston were received. Some placed it at $1,000,000, some at $5,000,000.

All reports early today indicated that the tropical storm had spent. Most places in the storm district with which it was possible to communicate, reported a falling of the wind and it is believed recovery from the storm would be speedy.

Thousands of Sufferers. Thousands of residents in the coastal plain country about Port Lavaca, a hundred miles west of Galveston, are suffering, according to reports received today, from a prompt resumption of service seemed probable. It was believed also that train service would be resumed.

Telegraph and telephone companies have had large forces at work repairing lines into the storm district and early today a prompt resumption of service seemed probable. It was believed also that train service would be resumed.

Eight Men Drowned. Morgan's Point, Texas, Aug. 18.—Eight men are reported dead near this place. They were drowned while fishing. Reports reached here from authentic sources that the bodies of a woman, a baby and a sailor had been beached near Sylvan beach. They were unidentified and apparently floated from some place on the bay.

Twelve Soldiers Killed. Waco, Texas, Aug. 18.—A copy of the sixth edition of the Houston Chronicle of Tuesday says: "Twelve soldiers were killed at Texas City during last night's storm when the Thompson building, a new three-story structure, collapsed."

About thirty or forty civilians, many of them women and children, also lost their lives. "Those killed were enlisted men and no commissioned officers lost their lives. Military rule has been established at Texas City and the soldiers are fishing corpses out of the water as fast as they can be located.

The first rumor to reach Houston was that between 200 and 250 soldiers were drowned, but this report was denied by A. H. Doty and I. J. Moran, who reached Houston late Tuesday afternoon, making a trip to Texas City in an automobile on the railroad track. They said only twelve soldiers had lost their lives and perhaps three as many were injured."

Houston's Damage $1,000,000. San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 18.—A copy of the Houston Chronicle issued at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon, received here today, estimates the storm damage in that city at about $1,000,000. No mention is made of loss of life in Houston, but it is stated six persons were drowned at LaPorte, twenty miles southeast of Houston, on Trinity bay.

The paper, which is the third addition, gives the wind velocity at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon as fifty miles an hour and diminishing. The forecast by the local weather bureau for the ensuing twenty-four hours is "cloudy."

The Chronicle publishes news from Galveston, stating that all means of communication with that point had been interrupted since early Monday evening. Other storm news was of local interest only. LaPorte being the only outside town mentioned.

BUT ONE DEAD IN HOUSTON. Houston, Tex., Aug. 18.—(By mail to Dallas, Aug. 18.)—Though only one person, a negro, lost his life, Houston has sustained a loss estimated at from two to five million dollars in the worst tropical storm known on the Texas coast. Not a single business house, not a single residence, escaped damage and at 4:30 o'clock this morning when the storm reached its height, the barometer fell to 28.21, said to be not far from the lowest barometer reading ever known. At that time the wind attained the velocity of 90 miles an hour.

GOVERNOR GOES TO GALVESTON. Austin, Tex., Aug. 18.—Having failed to obtain any direct information from Galveston on the storm situation there, Governor Ferguson today decided to make a personal investigation of the conditions prevailing on Galveston island. He prepared to leave today for Houston.

The governor said he was determined that the state should render all assistance possible to Galveston, should the seriousness of the situation warrant such action. Acting on the governor's instruction, Col. McCalmont, assistant adjutant general, and Dr. A. E. Linecum, assistant state health officer, left Austin today for Houston and from there will make an effort to reach Galveston as soon as possible. These officials will make a personal investigation and if assistance is needed tents and other equipment will be dispatched at once to Galveston. Dr. Linecum will make an investigation as to health conditions.

GOV. HARRIS IS ON THE JOB

Georgia Executive Back in Capital Ready to Hunt Lynchers.

PRISON KEEPERS HELD BLAMELESS

Body of Leo Frank is Now on Way to His Home in Brooklyn.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18.—All the legal machinery available to Governor Harris was put in motion today to apprehend the men who lynched Leo M. Frank at Marietta yesterday.

Governor Harris so announced today when he came here from Fitzgerald, Ga., where he was attending a state confederate veterans' reunion. "This affair is shocking and I am going to have it investigated to the very limit of my power," said Governor Harris. He has not made up his mind exactly what will be done immediately. It is believed much will depend upon the findings of the Cobb county coroner's jury which adjourned to meet Tuesday after having a short session yesterday.

The governor had not decided when he reached his office whether a reward would be offered for apprehension of members of the lynching party.

Inquiry Would Be Futile. E. L. Rainey, a member of the state prison commission arrived here today from Marietta. With other members of the commission he was at the prison farm when Frank was taken away. Like R. E. Davidson, chairman of the commission, he is of the opinion that nothing would be gained by an investigation of the events at the prison. Mr. Davidson left Marietta early today for Atlanta.

The statement made by R. E. Davidson, chairman of the state prison commission, last night that he did not believe any one would be blamed under conditions which rendered it comparatively easy for the mob to take Frank from the prison, seemed to indicate that the prison feature might not be investigated immediately. The commission has absolute authority in such matters. The mob had planned its work so carefully and acted so quickly that little excitement was caused at Marietta.

Marietta quickly assumed its normal poise after Frank's body had been cut down from a tree near the town and brought to Atlanta.

Here immediate interest in the case ended when the body, accompanied by Mrs. Frank and a few friends, last night, was started on its way to Brooklyn, the home of Frank's parents.

At Fitzgerald yesterday Gov. Harris said he was instituting a thorough investigation. He ordered his office here to inform the sheriff of Cobb county, in which Marietta is situated, that he would expect him to make a detailed inquiry into the lynching. The Cobb county commissioners had a special meeting yesterday, at which they authorized Coroner John A. Booth to employ extra counsel in his work on the case.

A coroner's jury, empaneled yesterday, heard only two witnesses. By them the identity of the body was established. The jury adjourned until next Tuesday.

Plans of the Lynchers. Those who today studied more closely the movements of the mob at Marietta are convinced that a few members were in the vicinity of the town before the main party arrived. It must have taken some time to cut the telephone wires in the manner in which it was done. None of the automobiles bearing the lynchers was seen here until they approached the prison.

Many in Marietta believe plans similar to those which were successful Monday night were frustrated a month ago. The Marietta police department was ordered to hold itself ready to proceed to the state prison. As far as generally known reports that a mob might attack the prison were no more persistent than they had been for some time. Prison officials never said exactly why they requested the military to be ready. It was intimated at Marietta that there had been a "leak."

Those who tried to follow the decoy automobile which carried a part of the lynchers to near Eatonton, where a demonstration took place, said today that these plans had been carefully arranged. Chains were placed on the tires, which made trailing easy, and after the machine had crossed the bridge over Little river the chains were removed, which made it difficult to follow the car. Although nearly every town between Marietta and Eatonton was notified by the mob that they had been taken care of, only one man was found who had seen the several automobiles proceeding toward the lynching scene. He lives within a short distance of where Frank was hanged.

SALE OF WABASH CONFIRMED. Woodstock, Vt., Aug. 18.—An order confirming the sale of the Wabash railroad to Robert Goetz and Henry Rogers Winthrop, of New York, a purchasing committee of the bondholders, on July 21, was issued by Judge Elmer B. Adams, of the United States circuit court, of St. Louis, at the conclusion of a hearing at the judge's summer home here today.

WOULD WAR ON DEAD BEATS. Duluth, Minn., Aug. 18.—The formulation of a national "rogues' gallery," containing detailed information concerning "dead beats," is one of the aims of the Retail Credit Men's National association, which met in third annual convention here today, according to D. J. Woodcock, St. Louis, president of the association. The convention will continue through Friday.

Boy, 12, Shot. A boy, 12, was shot by a man, 35, who was driving a car, near the city of St. Louis, Mo., today. The boy was killed. The man was arrested.

GOV. HARRIS IS ON THE JOB

Body of Leo Frank is Now on Way to His Home in Brooklyn.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18.—All the legal machinery available to Governor Harris was put in motion today to apprehend the men who lynched Leo M. Frank at Marietta yesterday.

Governor Harris so announced today when he came here from Fitzgerald, Ga., where he was attending a state confederate veterans' reunion. "This affair is shocking and I am going to have it investigated to the very limit of my power," said Governor Harris. He has not made up his mind exactly what will be done immediately. It is believed much will depend upon the findings of the Cobb county coroner's jury which adjourned to meet Tuesday after having a short session yesterday.

The governor had not decided when he reached his office whether a reward would be offered for apprehension of members of the lynching party.

Inquiry Would Be Futile. E. L. Rainey, a member of the state prison commission arrived here today from Marietta. With other members of the commission he was at the prison farm when Frank was taken away. Like R. E. Davidson, chairman of the commission, he is of the opinion that nothing would be gained by an investigation of the events at the prison. Mr. Davidson left Marietta early today for Atlanta.

The statement made by R. E. Davidson, chairman of the state prison commission, last night that he did not believe any one would be blamed under conditions which rendered it comparatively easy for the mob to take Frank from the prison, seemed to indicate that the prison feature might not be investigated immediately. The commission has absolute authority in such matters. The mob had planned its work so carefully and acted so quickly that little excitement was caused at Marietta.

Marietta quickly assumed its normal poise after Frank's body had been cut down from a tree near the town and brought to Atlanta.

Here immediate interest in the case ended when the body, accompanied by Mrs. Frank and a few friends, last night, was started on its way to Brooklyn, the home of Frank's parents.

At Fitzgerald yesterday Gov. Harris said he was instituting a thorough investigation. He ordered his office here to inform the sheriff of Cobb county, in which Marietta is situated, that he would expect him to make a detailed inquiry into the lynching. The Cobb county commissioners had a special meeting yesterday, at which they authorized Coroner John A. Booth to employ extra counsel in his work on the case.

A coroner's jury, empaneled yesterday, heard only two witnesses. By them the identity of the body was established. The jury adjourned until next Tuesday.

Plans of the Lynchers. Those who today studied more closely the movements of the mob at Marietta are convinced that a few members were in the vicinity of the town before the main party arrived. It must have taken some time to cut the telephone wires in the manner in which it was done. None of the automobiles bearing the lynchers was seen here until they approached the prison.

Many in Marietta believe plans similar to those which were successful Monday night were frustrated a month ago. The Marietta police department was ordered to hold itself ready to proceed to the state prison. As far as generally known reports that a mob might attack the prison were no more persistent than they had been for some time. Prison officials never said exactly why they requested the military to be ready. It was intimated at Marietta that there had been a "leak."

Those who tried to follow the decoy automobile which carried a part of the lynchers to near Eatonton, where a demonstration took place, said today that these plans had been carefully arranged. Chains were placed on the tires, which made trailing easy, and after the machine had crossed the bridge over Little river the chains were removed, which made it difficult to follow the car. Although nearly every town between Marietta and Eatonton was notified by the mob that they had been taken care of, only one man was found who had seen the several automobiles proceeding toward the lynching scene. He lives within a short distance of where Frank was hanged.

SALE OF WABASH CONFIRMED. Woodstock, Vt., Aug. 18.—An order confirming the sale of the Wabash railroad to Robert Goetz and Henry Rogers Winthrop, of New York, a purchasing committee of the bondholders, on July 21, was issued by Judge Elmer B. Adams, of the United States circuit court, of St. Louis, at the conclusion of a hearing at the judge's summer home here today.

WOULD WAR ON DEAD BEATS. Duluth, Minn., Aug. 18.—The formulation of a national "rogues' gallery," containing detailed information concerning "dead beats," is one of the aims of the Retail Credit Men's National association, which met in third annual convention here today, according to D. J. Woodcock, St. Louis, president of the association. The convention will continue through Friday.

Boy, 12, Shot. A boy, 12, was shot by a man, 35, who was driving a car, near the city of St. Louis, Mo., today. The boy was killed. The man was arrested.

The Waning Summer Sun Now Casts Reflections of The Coming Fashions of Fall

TO THOSE who have visited this store during the past few days has been given a delightful glimpse into the incoming fall fashions. They have seen the ephemeral fancies of summer change into the more substantial modes of autumn.

Day by day these new things have been coming in until now, almost before we knew it, Autumn (so far as merchandise is concerned) is upon us.

Every woman who is interested in styles for the coming season is invited to see these new things. You will note the suits are fitted at the waist, "nipped-in" at the waist line and smartly flaring at the lower edge. Sensibility still dwells in skirts and they remain reasonably short though possibly not so flaring as became the lighter fabrics of Summer.

They are being bought, too, right now by women going West, and by young girls getting the clothes equipment for college.

ALLIES GAIN ON GALLIPOLI.

Advance of Five Hundred Yards Reported by General Hamilton.

London, Aug. 18.—A further advance of 500 yards by the allied troops on Gallipoli peninsula is announced in a report from Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, the British expeditionary commander-in-chief, given out here today. The statement follows:

"Sir Ian Hamilton reports that in the southern zone the situation was unchanged during the 14th and 15th. The Turks kept up the usual artillery fire without much effect.

"In the northern zone, the right flank of the Australian and New Zealand army corps position was heavily attacked during the night of the 14th-15th but all attacks were repulsed. At Sulva the troops on the left flank made a short advance on the afternoon of the 15th with a view to straightening out the line. They moved forward under considerable gun and rifle fire and gained about 500 yards, capturing a Turkish trench and taking two officers and twenty other prisoners."

ITALIANS MAKE GAINS.

Reports From Southern Theater Show Operations in High Altitudes.

Rome, Aug. 17.—(Via Paris, Aug. 18.)—Further Italian advances through the passes of the Alps were made in the Tolmino region. The statement says:

"In the rugged Orter range between the upper valleys of the Adige and the Adige one of our detachments set out during the night of Aug. 16 from Canina, and divided into two columns proceeded by ropes, crossed the Camosci pass (9,500 feet high) and the Vedrette di Dampe, climbed the snow-capped mountain of Turckett Spits (10,500 feet high), and surprised groups of the enemy. It then proceeded to Hinter March Spits (10,500 feet), occupied by a detachment of the enemy, which it attacked and dispersed and solidly occupied the summit. In upper Riva further

CUBS TO START ON FINAL SERIES

Bade Myers Day and Field Day Saturday to Close Season.

The Fort Wayne Cubs come back to regular work Thursday after a two day absence, and Terr Haute will come over the horizon for the last games of the season. The series closes Saturday with the Bade Myers day celebration, and as an extra added attraction the local players will participate in a field day program before the game.

Bade Myers and Fort Wayne baseball have been so closely linked for nearly a score of years that it is impossible to think of one without thinking of the other. He has been with Fort Wayne through fair seasons and foul, and is the most popular manager in the Central.

Come on, fellows, get out and give the grand old man (who isn't so old, you know) the very gladdest hand that ever sounded in the stands. The Rotary club boosted that opening day; get together, everybody, and boost the closing.

QUIT CANADIAN KIDDING.

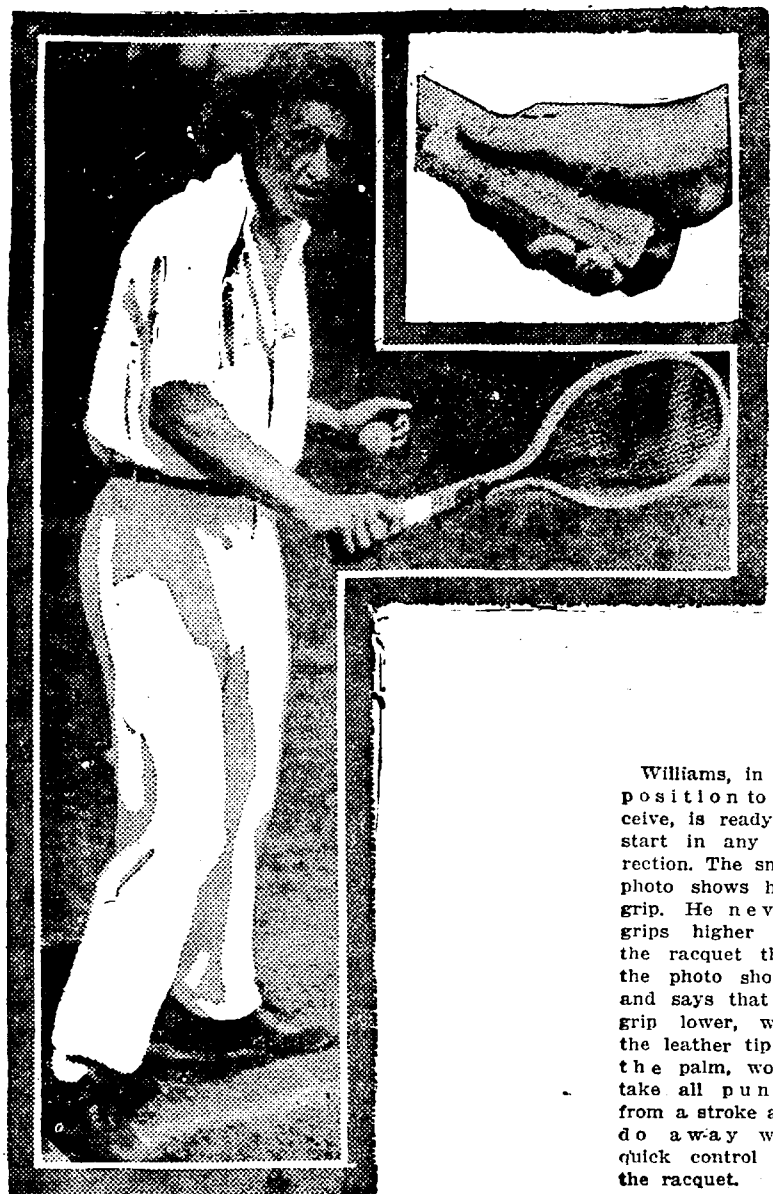

Reports from Winnipeg state that last Monday a visiting player being kidded by the crowd retorted that the Germans would get them. As a result there was a small sized riot, and the player was lucky to escape mobbing. It is said that he will be reported to the league headquarters with a request that he be suspended for his indiscretion. Ball players have been very careful in that respect this year and rightly so. Nothing of that sort should be allowed or it will bring the game into disrepute.

WISCONSIN BIDS ROMANCE FAREWELL

Prosaic Palm Leaf Fans Succeed the Seconds' Flapping Towels.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 18.—Walter H. Liginger was re-elected chairman and Manning R. Vaughn reappointed secretary of the state athletic commission when the boxing moguls reorganized the board as required by the amended Hedding fight law.

With a view to bettering conditions surrounding boxing in Wisconsin, the commission adopted a number of new rules and amended some of their old regulations which experience indicated needed changing.

The commission plans to make boxing an aristocratic sport. Hereafter spectators sitting near the ringside will not be covered with water and resin by towel-swinging seconds, as the commission will recommend that all clubs require seconds to use palm leaf fans instead of the time-honored towel in fanning boxers. The commission also adopted a rule which will tend to do away with the wild splashing of water over spectators seated near the boxer's corner.

Disputes over referees between boxers and clubs will be settled by the commission hereafter. Boxers who fail to appear to be examined and weighed in at the time required by the commission will draw a vacation of from three to six months. Another rule requires that the weight of all boxers be announced from the ringside.

GERMANY WILD OVER HEROES.

Commanders of Submarines are First in Popular Favor.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—Next to naming a new baby or a statue or a bridge or tower after Hindenburg, granting the freedom of a city to the commander of a successful submarine is Germany's popular diversion at present. No less than four naval commanders have thus been honored and have been made "honor citizens" of communities large and small.

The first one to be thus recognized was Frigate Captain von Mueller, commander of the sea raider Emden. The city of Emden, after the ship's destruction, named von Mueller its honor citizen, while his birthplace, Blankenburg, paid him similar tribute.

The city of Karlsruhe took the same steps in the case of Frigate Captain Erich Koehler, commander of the Karlsruhe, and Otto Weddigen, captain lieutenant of the U-9 and the U-29, who perished with the latter submarine, has been similarly honored by his birthplace, Harford. The latest case is that of the city of Kreuznach, which has conferred its freedom on Captain Lieutenant Hersing, commander of the U-21 and the U-51.

Merely "Oil" Won't Do Here

Consider running your motor without any lubricant. That is only a much quicker way to ruin it than to run it with a poor oil. It takes longer, that is all.

An oil that does any damage has no place in any car, for the function of a lubricant is to protect friction surfaces. The ease of running—easy action and full power—simply goes along with this protection.

Some oils are better than others, but only the best should be used. Anything less is injurious.

The question is—Which are the best oils?

Polarine

is made in the largest plant of its kind in the world. Here is every known facility, collected after years of experience, for the production of the perfect oil. Here is a great laboratory. Here are chemical specialists—experts who have spent years working out lubricating problems of all kinds. Their presence is at stake on every one of their recommendations.

Polarine is their recommendation for all standard makes and types of motor cars, motor trucks and motor boats in use today.

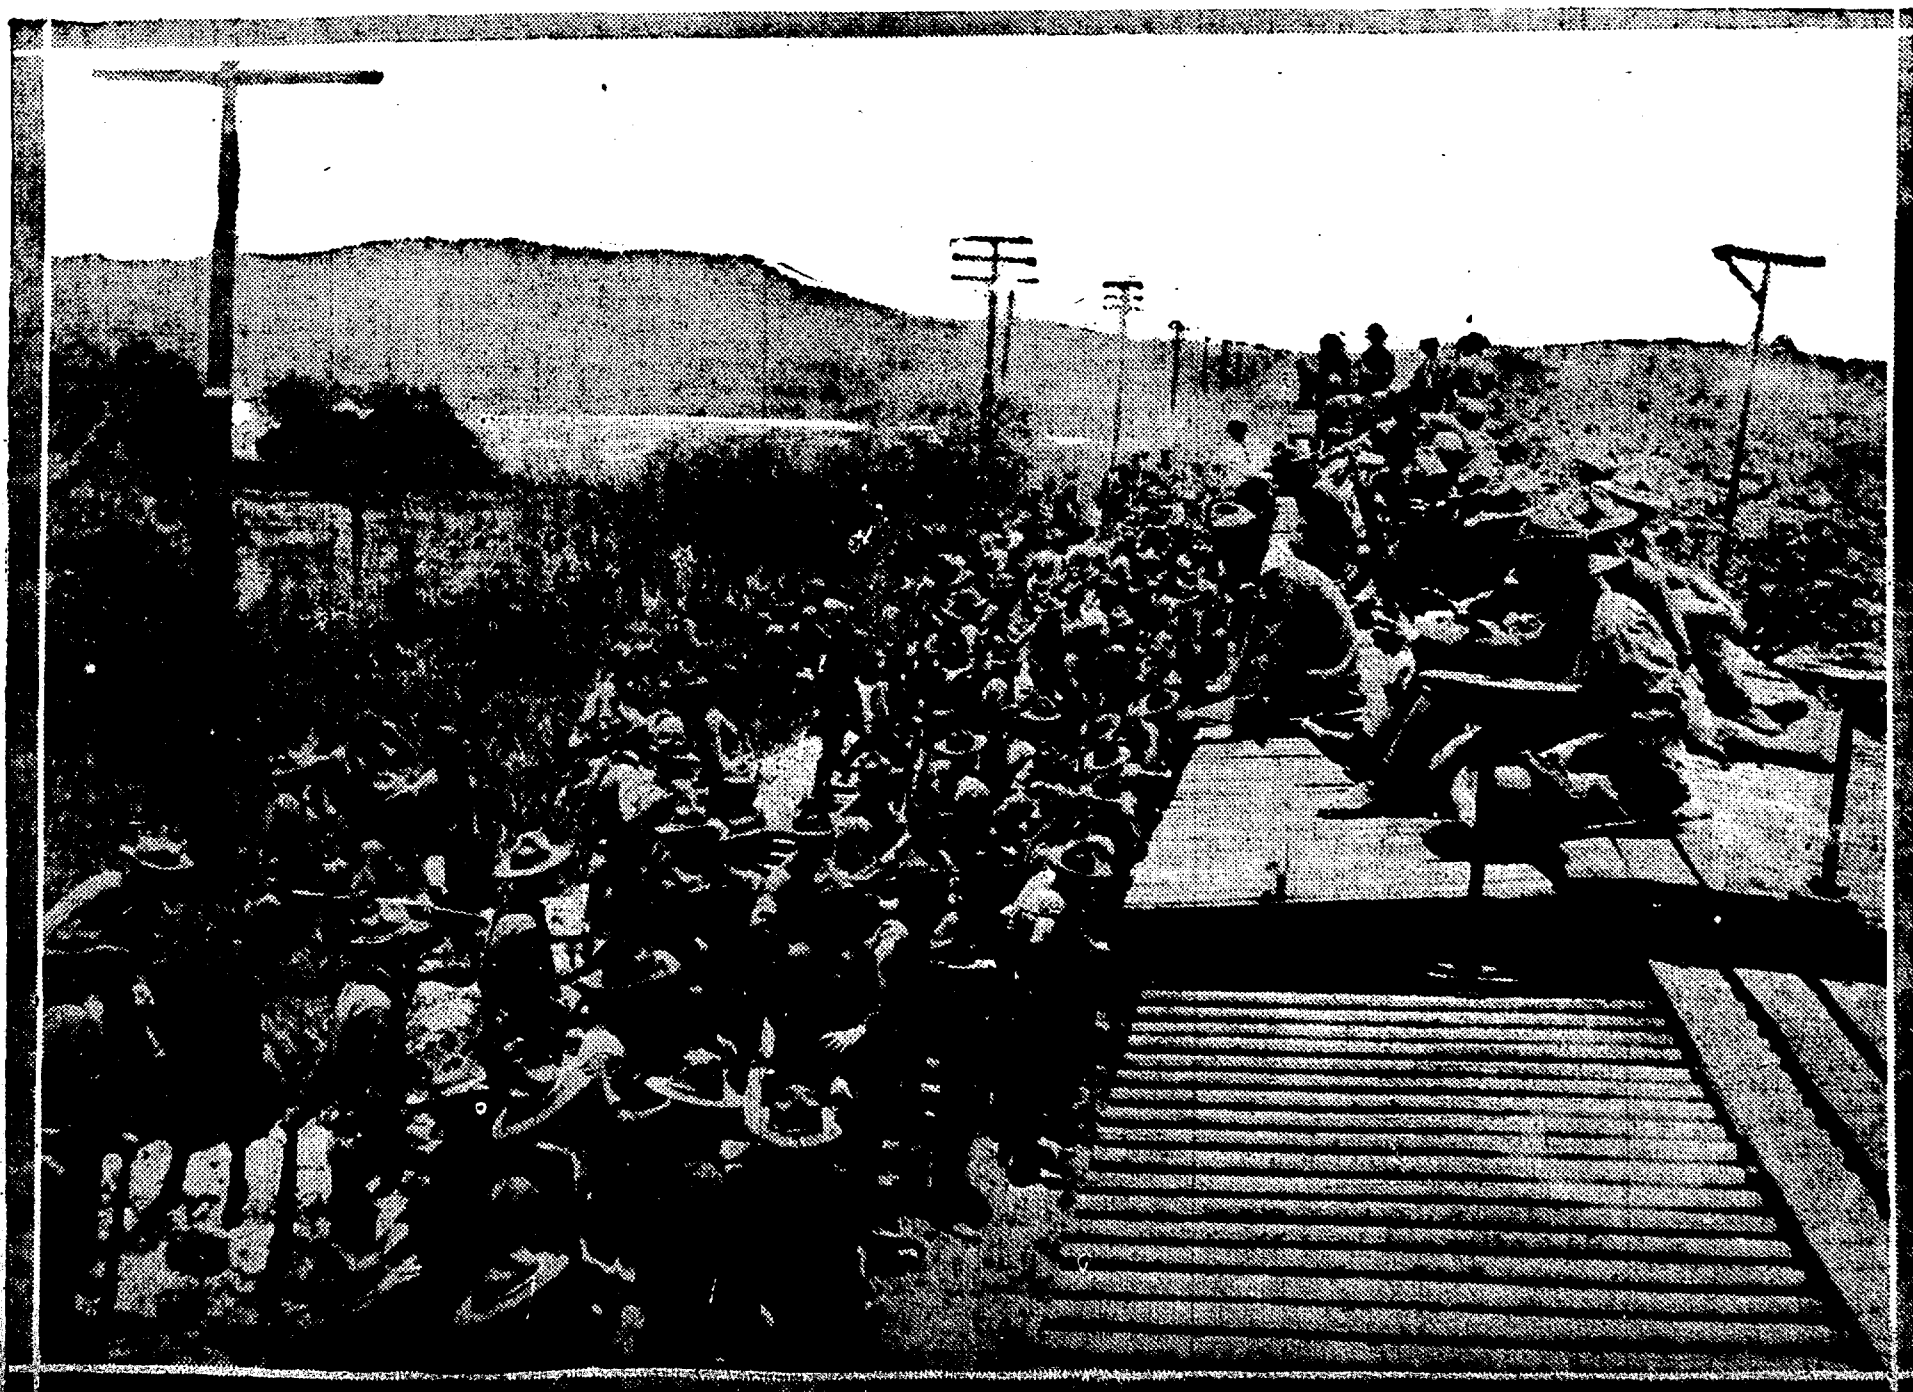

No better oil can be made, yet Polarine costs no more than poorer oils. Our profits come from volume, for we are selling Polarine at the rate of 7,000,000 gallons yearly.

Use an oil about which you know all the facts.

All first class dealers, garages, and filling stations can supply you with Polarine. Insist on getting it.

THREE JUDGES ARE NAMED.
One to Be Chosen to Try Case of Ryman Against Williams.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 18.-Judge Frank Ellis, of the circuit court, who granted to Gene Williams, deputy prosecuting attorney of Delaware county, a change of judge as far as it affects Williams himself, in the suit brought by Wilbur Ryman, an attorney, against Williams, City Judge Ralph S. Gregory, Mayor Rollin H. Bunch and other public officers, the $25 being in the form of a demand for $5,000 because of alleged libel, has named three judges from among whom the two parties to the suit must select their trial judge. The judges named are: Luther Pence, of the Madison county circuit court; Fred Gause, of the Henry county circuit court; and Theodore Shockey, of the Randolph circuit court, all being from surrounding counties. Williams has elected to be the first of the six defendants in this case to go to trial.
Ryman, who was a deputy prosecuting attorney in charge of the grand jury that indicted a number of city officers on many charges of malfeasance in office, alleges that Williams and the others in their plea in abatement made charges against him that were untrue and libelous. Williams says he can prove his statements and professes to be anxious to go to trial.

MOTORBOAT OWNERS FINED.

Charged With Failing to Comply With Government Regulations.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 1.-A number of motorboat owners in this city have received notice from the government steamboat inspector at Evansville of the fact that they have been fined heavily for violation of the government regulations regarding the equipment of their boats. The fines range from $50 to $250 for failure to have the required number of books of rules, whistles, life preservers, fire extinguishers and signal bells.

Opportunity was given the offenders to make affidavits setting out their reasons for violating the law, and all except one are making an effort to obtain a remission of the fines. The exception was Louis Rippetoe, owner of one of the finest motorboats on the river, who was fined $50 for failing to have two books of rules, as required. He said he could give no reason for not having them, and sent the inspector his check for the fine.
The officers of the local motorboat club have been trying for years to have the government inspectors enforce the regulations regarding the equipment of motorboats and other river craft, but it was asserted that until this year no appropriation had been made to pay the expenses of such work. Beginning with the new fiscal year, July 1, however, an appropriation became available for this purpose, and it is understood the officers have been active along the Wabash in this inspection district in enforcing the law.

MAY BUY PHONE PLANT.

Logansport Council to Consider Plan of Municipal Ownership.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 18.-Logansport may have the first municipal telephone plant in the state. At the next meeting of the common council the Logansport Home Telephone company will offer to sell to the city its plant and all equipment for $261,375, the appraised valuation as fixed by experts of the Indiana utility commission two years ago. Complaint against the increase in rates recently granted by the state utility board is responsible for the offer by company officials who declare that, under the present rates, the corporation would be forced into the hands of a receiver and that, eventually, Logansport would be without telephone service, as no plant could be operated with such small revenue.
Under the ruling of the state board the rate on one-party phones is increased from $15 to $24 a year, an increase of 60 per cent. Hundreds of people have announced they will have their telephones taken out when the increase goes into effect October 1.
At present, the city of Logansport owns its electric light and water works plant and a caucus of the city council will be held this evening to discuss the telephone matter.

FOUND HE HAD TRAINED PIGS.

Rockport Man's Stock Insisted on Being Fed Properly.

Rockport, Ind., Aug. 18.-Thomas Langdon, a Rockport citizen, bought several pigs a few days ago. Much to his surprise he found that he had some trained animals on his hands, for whenever the 12 o'clock or the 6 o'clock whistles blew, the pigs made a frantic rush for the feed trough where they stood and squealed until fed. Making inquiry he learned that they had been formerly kept near the flour mill and fed by one of the employees as soon as the whistles blew and work in the mill ceased.

MOTORBOAT OWNERS FINED.

Charged With Failing to Comply With Government Regulations.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 17.—A num-ber of motorboat owners in this city have received notice from the govern-ment steamboat inspector at Evansville of the fact that they have been fined heavily for violation of the government regulations regarding the equipment of their boats. The fines range from $50 to $250 for failure to have the required number of books of rules, whistles, life preservers, fire extinguishers and signal bells.

MAY BUY PHONE PLANT.

Logansport Council to Consider Plan of Municipal Ownership.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 18.—Logan-sport may have the first municipal tel-ephone plant in the state. At the next meeting of the common council the Lo-gansport Home Telephone company will offer to sell the city its plant and all equipment for $261,375, the appraised valuation as fixed by experts of the In-diana utility commission two years ago. Complaint against the increase in rates recently granted by the state util-ity board is responsible for the offer by company officials who declare that, under the present rates, the corporation would be forced into the hands of a receiver and that, eventually, Logan-

Under the ruling of the state board the rate on one-party phones is increas-ed from $15 to $24 a year, an increase of 60 per cent. Hundreds of people have announced they will have their tele-phones taken out when the increase goes into effect October 1.

At present, the city of Logansport owns its electric light and water works plant and a caucus of the city council will be held this evening to discuss the telephone matter.

FOUND HE HAD TRAINED PIGS.

Rockport Man's Stock Insisted on Being Fed Properly.

Rockport, Ind., Aug. 18.—Thomas Langdon, a Rockport citizen, bought sev-eral pigs a few days ago. Much to his surprise he found that he had some trained animals on his hands, for when-ever the 12 o'clock or the 6 o'clock whistles blew, the pigs made a frantic rush for the feed trough where they stood and squealed until fed. Making inquiry he learned that they had been formerly kept near the flour mill and fed by one of the employees as soon as the whistles blew and work in the mill ceased.

BRIDGE INSPECTION COMMENCES THURSDAY

Head of Local Pennsy Maintenance Department Out on Trip.

The annual bridge inspection on the Western division of the Pennsylvania will be made Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The special train carrying the inspection party will start from Clark Junction at 7 o'clock Thursday morning and travel as far east as possible in day light, stopping at all bridges to inspect them. A. A. Wirth, supervising engineer, of Pittsburgh, will be with the party. Others will be Division Engineer Guy Scott, Master Carpenter D. C. Zook and some of his bridge foremen, and the road supervisors, the latter traveling over only their own sub-divisions. The color blind examinations and general inspection of stations and road on the Western division will be completed tonight. The line between this city and Crestline was covered last week and yesterday and today the line between Clark Junction and Fort Wayne was covered. This inspection is under the auspices of Supt. Otto Schroll, who is out with the party.

JOHN MOTEN ENTERTAINS.

John Moten, general utility man at the Pennsylvania station and freight house, celebrated his thirty-sixth birthday Monday night, when he entertained the Eclipse foot ball team at his home, 430 Boltz street. The Eclipse orchestra furnished music and the exercises, including the serving of refreshments, took place on the lawn, witnessed by many of the neighbors. Mr. Moten's guests were Archie Rhodes, Emil Desper, Eddie Brown, Clifford and Jesse Peters, Clem Foster, Harrison Leonard, Charles Young, Cecil Pettiford, Henry Johnson, Donald Wright, Vernon Bassett and Henry Johnson, of Fort Wayne; Gabriel Drake, of Muncie, and Ben Barber, of Wabash.

OVER 100 AT MASS MEETING.

The organizers and others interested in the work in behalf of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' union, held a mass meeting at the assembly room of the court house last night, which was well attended and may be followed by desired results. The building up of local No. 489. Among the speakers were Miss Elizabeth Maloney, general organizer for the Hotel and Restaurant Workers; Carl Wyatt, general organizer for the American Federation of Labor; P. J. Shea, general organizer for the street railway men, and J. C. Werkman, district organizer for the American Federation of Labor.

GETTING READY FOR CONVENTION.

A canvass of the field has developed the fact that the eighth annual convention of the Veteran Nickel Plate Employees' association, which will be held in Cleveland, Saturday, September 4, is going to be better attended than any of its predecessors. The chief reason is that the association has a good many more members today than ever and another reason is the general desire to go and enjoy the big eat and other good things of the gathering. A partial canvass indicates that at least forty Fort Wayne people will attend the meeting, going there on special cars on trains 4 and 6.

WILL HANDLE TRACTION EMPLOYEES.

The G. R. & L. company has contracted to handle about 200 people from Kendallville to Rome City tomorrow. The party will be the Fort Wayne and Northwestern Traction company employees, who are going to Rome City as guests of the Traction company to have a day's outing. The Traction company pays the expenses and promises a good time to its employees and their families.

WANATAH COAL DOCKS COMPLETED.

Assistant Road Foreman of Engines F. E. Wilmore of the Pennsylvania, has returned to the city after spending a few days at Wanatah where the old coal docks were removed and replaced with new. The change was made in record time, the new docks being ready to serve coal just fourteen hours after the old ones went out of commission.

INSTRUCTION CAR LEAVES CITY.

The Wabash Engineers' instruction car, mentioned by The Sentinel last Saturday, left for Toledo last night, after being here three or four days. It is in charge of W. C. Davies, a former engineer, and during its stay in Fort Wayne many of the company's employees visited it and received instructions on matters connected with the mechanism of airbrakes and locomotive attachments.

LINEMEN'S ICE CREAM SOCIAL.

The committee having charge of the Linemen's ice cream social at Swinney park tonight expect a crowd and promise a good time. In addition to the refreshments, there will be other entertaining features, including a concert by the Elks' band and an electrical display that has never been equalled at the park.

LOOKING UP GRAIN CARS.

F. E. Farley, of St. Louis, traveling car agent of the Wabash, is making a trip over the road checking up on the freight agents and locating all grain cars fit for service. The latter are needed at St. Louis and Kansas City and are being rushed there with all possible speed.

RECALLED FURLOUGHED M. N.

O. H. Weise, C. C. Eckelberry, B. H. Metcalf, H. Frost and E. B. Baker, firemen who were furloughed some months ago when business became dull on the Pennsylvania, have been recalled and placed on the extra list. This movement is on account of the increasing business on the road.

AIRBRAKE CAR TO BELLEVUE.

The Nickel Plate air brake instruction car, which came here August 11, goes to Bellevue tomorrow, where instructions will be given employees until all have been served. Ed Dolan, of Stony Island, has charge of the car and instructs the classes.

Rosa and C. R. Kennedy, stenographers and clerks at the Pennsylvania car shop office and the store room respectively; C. Stahn, of the Electric Supply company, and J. Beuschet, of the Wayne Knitting mills, will compose a jolly party that will spend the week-end at Rome City.

The Brewery Workers' picnic at Porter's grove Sunday was one round of pleasurable features from beginning to end, according to those who attended it. In the contests the Centerville bell team defeated the Berghoffs, Al Boehme won the slim man's race, F. Sarazen won the fat man's race, Al Boehme the free for all race, H. Pence the boy's race, G. Henschen the girl's race, V. Roberts the shoe race and Mrs. Albert Eckler the woman's race. Eats were plentiful and accessible at all times.

Engineer Greeley stopped in Fort Wayne while en route to an Ohio city, where he is employed in engineering a garbage disposal system.

Mr. Greeley told the council that garbage disposal entails three main considerations: home treatment, collection and final disposition. Of these the first two were of the greater importance to householders, who were and should be of first consideration. He said that every community's problem presented its individual points and that every community must be studied with reference to the local situation and its peculiar needs.

In answer to questions by councilmen Mr. Greeley said that he could not intelligently advise them as to the comparative merits of having one central garbage plant or maintaining two or more. Each plan had its merits, but which would prove superior in this or any community would depend altogether on local conditions. Mr. Greeley did not in any wise commit himself to an approval of Mayor Hoesy's plan to establish a garbage crematory in the far southwest part of the city and to maintain the old garbage crematory on North Clinton street.

In answer to a question, he said that modern incinerators of approved type and properly operated were practically odorless and not likely to prove a nuisance. He cited several instances of centrally located plants. He stated, also, in response to a question, that loading stations could be maintained without offense, but that that question depended much on the efficiency and cleanliness with which they were managed.

It is believed that Engineer Oshorn will be in Fort Wayne within a few days to consult with the board of works in response to an invitation from Chairman Robert E. Kelly, who has been in correspondence with him for some time.

BUT TWO CHANGES MADE.

City's 1916 Tax Levy and Appropriations and Tax Levy Agreed Upon.

In a meeting of the committee of the whole, Tuesday evening, the members of the city council made but one change in the appropriations as recommended by the city comptroller, W. C. Baade, and but two changes in the levy as he had prepared it originally. The total appropriations are $455,423, and the tax levy is $1.16. By cutting out the $4,000 provision for a fireproof building to house the electric fire alarm headquarters and eliminating the 3 cent garbage plant levy and adding to the general appropriations levy the council provided the way to give the board of safety about $16,000 for motorization of the equipment at No. 1 fire engine house and restoring the track elevation levy to 10 cents from the 7 cents to which the controller had cut it. The approval of the budgets and tax levy was accomplished without incident save in respect of the controller's provision of $450 for an automobile for the health department. This was strenuously opposed by Councilmen Smith and Korte, who thought the city was buying too many buzz bugs for public servants. Korte made some sarcastic references to the motorization of the No. 1 fire house equipment, pointing out that he was unable to get any action on the establishment of a fire station in the Tenth ward, although the project had been up for several years. Some of the councilmen wanted the appropriation for public lighting raised from $55,000 to $56,500, but Comptroller Baade stated that he already had boosted it $1,000 above the board of works request for $54,000, and that if next year the need of more was apparent an additional $1,000 could be appropriated. As approved by the council, the appropriations for next year stand as follows:

Department of Finance.....$ 1,150

Department of Law.....2,900

City Court.....2,075

Public Works.....183,081

Public Safety.....185,941

Public Health.....11,280

City Parks.....30,006

Total.....$ 455,423

After agreeing to drop the garbage plant levy of 3 cents and add it to the general levy, bringing that rate from the 8 1/2 cents recommended by the comptroller up to the 8 3/4 cents urged by Mayor Hoesy in order that the track elevation levy might not be impaired for the motorization of fire equipment, the levy as approved stood like this on the $100 valuation:

General Appropriations.....$ 85

Park Music......005

Sinking Fund......05

Track Elevation......10

Playgrounds......015

Police Pensions......01

Firemen's Pensions......0025

Anthony Wayne Monument......0025

The committee of the whole will report the appropriations and tax levy ordinances according to figures in the foregoing and will pass them at the regular meeting the last Tuesday in August.

GARBAGE SITUATION SHOULD BE STUDIED

S. R. Greeley, Well Known Engineer, Addresses the Council.

That a proper solution of Fort Wayne's garbage situation can be reached only after a thorough survey by some one competent to do the work, was the gist of a brief address made to the members of the city council and other municipal officers Tuesday evening by Samuel R. Greeley, a well known garbage engineer. Mr. Greeley was associated with Irwin S. Osborn, probably the most eminent garbage engineer in the country, in working out a solution of Chicago's vexed garbage problem. He has worked for many cities in this country and has studied garbage disposal in England and Germany.

Engineer Greeley stopped in Fort Wayne while en route to an Ohio city, where he is employed in engineering a garbage disposal system.

Mr. Greeley told the council that garbage disposal entails three main considerations: home treatment, collection and final disposition. M'INTYRE PLANT IS TO BE SOLD

A petition was filed Wednesday with Referee in Bankruptcy Sol A. Wood by J. D. Casey, trustee for the W. H. McIntyre company, of Auburn, asking for permission to sell the real estate and personal property belonging to the company. The referee set Wednesday, September 1, as the date for the hearing.

The referee Wednesday granted permission to the trustee to conduct the business of the bankrupt firm and to employ all the necessary labor until such time as the property is sold.

WILL HAVE NO MORE TO DO WITH PROJECT

Announcement was made Wednesday by F. L. Barthold, founder and head promoter of the St. Joe lake and dam project, that he has severed his connection with the St. Joe River Improvement association. He declares that he will have no more to do with the project, but declines to set forth his reasons at this time.

Mr. Barthold says that he wishes to extend his hearty thanks to his friends and citizens throughout the city who have given him their hearty support and assisted him with the project.

GUILTY OF KEEPING HOUSE OF ILL-FAME

Luella Howard is Fined $25 and Costs in the City Court.

Luella Howard was found guilty Wednesday morning in the city court of keeping a house of ill fame at Lewis and Calhoun streets, what is known as the Hotel De Lewis, and fined $25 and costs. The case will be appealed and the bond was fixed at $100. Because the defendant is the mother of three children and has shown signs of reformation is the reason given by Judge Kerr for not adding the usual sentence of thirty days in the county jail.

The raid was made early Saturday morning, Aug. 14, by Sergeant Blum and Officers Hall, Cavanaugh and Hill, who found a couple who gave their names as Maud Allen and Howard Berry, in a bed on the third floor. Ten policemen testified in the court that the reputation of the defendant in the community in regard to her chastity, virtue and morals was bad. Her rooming house was raided several times before but insufficient evidence could be found to make an arrest. The cases of Maud Allen for prostitution and Howard Berry for association were continued until Aug. 24, the bond remaining the same.

Allen Jones, John Murphy and Joe Shield, a trio of bums, got drunk Tuesday afternoon and were bothering the residents on Taylor street by begging. They were arrested and were fined $5 and costs each in the city court Wednesday morning.

The cases of Frank Tobias and James Hoover on charges of public intoxication were continued until Aug. 21 and their bond placed at $25. Tobias alleges that Hoover took his pocketbook while he was asleep in a saloon on the south side. They both hail from Warsaw.

WILL CHANGE NAME DRIVING PARK CARS

May Hereafter Be Known as State Street Cars—Traction News.

Officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company have under consideration the changing of the name of the Driving park cars to State street cars. The change will probably be effective as soon as the paving of State street has been completed. Until work on that street has been finished only one car will be operated on that street from the bridge to the end of the line, which necessitates passengers transferring at the State street bridge. Otherwise Driving park cars would be unable to maintain their regular schedule, as travel over State street is very slow and somewhat uncertain.

Safety First Meeting.

The next regular meeting of the Central Safety First committee of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company will be held in the office of the general manager on August 21 at 1:30 o'clock.

Special Meeting.

For the purpose of taking up organizing work in a general way, particularly with reference to the street car men, a special meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor has been called for Thursday evening. Those in charge of the organizing movement allege that the traction company has been discharging trainmen without just cause.

Trolley Party.

The annual trolley party of the Associated Christian Workers will be given Wednesday evening. Members of the Associated Christian Workers are requested to meet at the interurban station at 7:45 o'clock. A trip will be made to Robison park and after returning a visit will be made to one of the public parks. Eight cars have been chartered.

O'Brien Speaks.

Harry O'Brien, superintendent of overhead wires of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, was the principal speaker Monday evening at a safety first meeting at Huntington. Fred Fahlsing, the company's claim agent, presided.

Traction Notes.

The tracks and crossings at Main and Clinton streets are being repaired. A special car was run Tuesday evening from Indianapolis by the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for the accommodation of sisters from St. Catherine's academy, who were en route home from St. Mary's-of-the-Woods.

N. K. Smith, trainmaster of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, will spend Thursday at Crooked Lake fishing.

Harry F. Coleman is acting as dispatcher for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company during the absence of Charles E. Lenz, who is taking his vacation.

DAMAGE TO TEXAS COTTON MILLIONS

Austin, Tex., Aug. 18.—Damage which will run into millions of dollars has been done to the cotton crop in Texas by the storms of Monday and Tuesday. Reports from towns in central Texas say that cotton open in the bolls has blown out of the bolls and beaten into the ground by the heavy rains which accompanied it. It is estimated that 50 per cent of all the cotton in this section was open and that from one-fourth to one-half of the open cotton was lost. On this calculation, the damage will be from 15 to 25 per cent of the entire cotton crop of central Texas.

LEO M. FRANK'S BODY DANGLES FROM A TREE

Armed Band That Abducted Him From
Milledgeville Prison Took Him

BULLETIN.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 17.—It is believed Frank's body arrived in Atlanta between 12 and 1 o'clock today but that could not be verified. The undertakers engaged to meet the automobile bearing the body at the outskirts of the city, refused to affirm or deny that they had arranged to take it.

Marietta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Leo M. Frank, serving a life term for the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl, and who was taken from the prison farm at Milledgeville last night, was lynched two miles east of here today by the armed party which took him.

Frank's body was found hanging to a tree where the mob had lynched him. Frank was brought 100 miles from the prison farm to a point almost within sight of the former home of Mary Phagan. No shots were fired.

Frank's body, barefooted and clad only in prison trousers and shirt, was found at 8:30 o'clock this morning. It is believed he was lynched about daylight.

Several automobiles, well loaded, left here in the direction of Milledgeville last night. After the return of some of the machines today, officers started out on the road which they believed the automobiles had traveled. They had gone only two miles when they saw the body of Frank not more than 150 yards from the roadside.

News that the body had been found spread rapidly and within a short time hundreds of persons were crowding to the scene. No immediate effort was made to cut the body down, as Sheriff Hicks was not in town and the coroner took no action.

LAST MINUTE NEWS

New York, Aug. 17.—President R. B. Ward, of the Brooklyn Federal League club announced today that he had received and accepted the formal resignation of Lee Magee as manager of the Brooklyn team, which is playing in Pittsburgh. Magee, who has been ailing for a few days, will continue to play at second base. His contract with the club still has two years to run and Magee's chief reason for resigning is that he cannot do justice to the club in the capacity of player and manager. Mr. Ward said Magee's successor would be announced in a few days.

TROPICAL STORM IS STILL RAGING HIGH

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 17.—The general offices of the Atchinson, Topeka & Santa Fe railway here today received a report from the agent at Wallis, Texas, the nearest point to Galveston, with which the local officials were able to communicate, that the storm was still raging there, while the wind had a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour. Orders have been sent to all repair men and work crews on the southern division to start at once for the storm territory.

GREAT ROCK KILLS SEVERAL IN TRAIN

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 17.—The smoker and baggage car of a passenger train on the Coal River branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad were crushed today by a heavy rock as the train was passing through Pinacle tunnel, near McCorkle, W. Va. J. C. Fennimore, a wealthy coal operator, of Huntington; Jack Turley, of Alum Creek, W. Va.; J. G. Plymale, of Gallipolis, Ohio; the news vender, whose name has not been ascertained, and another unidentified man, were killed, and twenty or more passengers were injured. Wreck trains were hurried to the scene and the passengers imprisoned in the tunnel were rescued.

But Germany is Asked to State Future Policy
of Naval War.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The American reply to Germany's last note on the sinking of the American sailing ship, William P. Frye, made public here today by the state department, accepts day by day the proposals that damages be fixed by a mixed commission and that the disputed treaty provisions be submitted to arbitration at The Hague, but calls on Germany for a statement, meanwhile, as to whether she intends to conduct her future naval operations in accordance with her interpretation of the Prussian-American treaty or those of the United States.

The note is regarded as putting the noted case well on the way to a settlement. It is addressed by Secretary Lansing to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin.

No Difference of Opinion.
In its concluding paragraphs the note contains the following:
"There can be no difference of opinion between the two governments as to the desirability of having this question of the true intent and meaning of their treaty stipulations determined without delay, and to that end the government of the United States proposes that the alternative suggestion of the imperial German government also be adopted, so that this question of treaty interpretation may be submitted forthwith for arbitration, pursuant to article 38 of The Hague convention for the pacific settlement of international disputes. In this way the question of indemnity can be settled and it will be observed that only change made in the plan proposed by the imperial government is that in-

DON EASLEY HURT IN SHALLOW DIVE

He Plunges Head Foremost
Into Three Feet of Water
at Lake James.

C. Don Easley, of Geraldine street, is suffering from a terribly lacerated head as the result of diving into less than three feet of water at Lake James. Easley is an athlete, and an expert swimmer, but he misjudged the depth of the water at the end of a Lake James pier and went in head foremost. The bottom was stony and a jagged wound all the way to the skull was cut across the top of his head. It required several stitches to close the laceration.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 17.—(By wireless to Fort Sam Houston and telephone to San Antonio, 10:10 a. m.)—Galveston today had passed through one of the worst storms within the past 25 years and now is ready to repair the damage done by last night's hurricane. Five feet of water stands in the city and is slowly draining off. Two fires started today are yet to be placed under control. The transport McClellan late last night broke from its moorings and drifted half a mile out at sea. The commercial wireless station at Port Arthur is out of commission and the big aerial masts at Fort Crockett here, are down.

WHEAT PRODUCTION MEETINGS ARE HELD

J. D. Harper, an Expert from Purdue, is Principal Speaker.

A series of wheat production meetings were held Tuesday by Clarence Henry, agricultural agent, at which J. D. Harper, an expert on the subject from Purdue university, was the principal speaker. Two subjects were discussed by Mr. Harper as follows: "Cultural Methods" and "Eradication of the Hessian Fly and Smut."
The meetings were held at the following places: 9 a. m., farm of Trustees William Scott, Abbot township, on new Huntington road near the McCulloch farm; 2 p. m., farm of Trustees Thomas Sheehan, Monroe township; 7:30 p. m., in Selma church, under the auspices of the Selma Township Farmers' club.

THIEVES STEAL AUTO OF C. L. BORNESCHNEIN

Was Taken from the Garage
Time During Night.

When C. L. Borneschnein, of the Wayne Coterie and manager of the Coco-Cola Bottling works on Maunee avenue, went to the garage at the rear of his residence Tuesday morning for his Buick automobile he found the garage empty and no auto in sight. Thieves entered the garage some time during the night and made well their escape.

Mr. Borneschnein put the machine in the building at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening and did not discover his loss until about 7:30 Tuesday morning, so that the party who took possession of the auto may have an eight or ten-hour start on the authorities.

The roadster is a Model K of this year's make and bore the license number 29,588, Indiana, 1915. It was painted black and had a red running gear. The police were notified immediately after Mr. Borneschnein discovered his loss and are putting forth all efforts to restore the stolen property and bring the thief or thieves to justice.

POSTPONE WOMEN'S DAY CELEBRATION

Manager C. H. Williams, of Robison park, announced late Tuesday afternoon that Women's day has been postponed till Thursday owing to the predictions of cold and clouds Wednesday. Provided it is not warm and sunny Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the celebration will be postponed again until next Wednesday. Manager Williams states that he will hold this celebration on a bright and sunny day this year, or not hold it at all.

REAL ESTATE MEN MEET THIS EVENING

Instead of the regular weekly noon day meeting the members of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange will meet this evening at the Commercial club at 6:30 o'clock. WOULD STOP WAR EXPORTS

Protest is Made in Resolutions Adopted at the Peace Meeting.

STRICT NEUTRALITY URGED BY SPEAKERS

Henry Vollmer and Patrick
ring Addresses.

As a protest against the exportation of munitions of war to the belligerent nations now engaged in the most gigantic conflict in the world's history, a "peace and neutrality" meeting was held Monday evening at the New Palace theater. Resolutions were adopted calling upon the president of the United States to establish an embargo and stirring addresses were delivered by Patrick O'Donnell of Chicago, and Representative Henry Vollmer, of Davenport, Iowa, urging the strictest kind of neutrality to prevent all possibilities of this great country becoming embroiled in the trouble.

Patrick O'Donnell declared that the much discussed and much criticized German militarism is nothing in comparison with English navalism, which he characterized as the greatest menace with which the world has to contend. "Freedom Through the Kaiser."

"When the war is over, when the last story is told, if the naval power of Britain is reduced to the naval power of the United States, the world will be given freedom and it will come through the German Kaiser," he declared. He said that Ireland was a good example that England doesn't go to war for a small people, and that if she

Two Fort Wayne companies filed incorporation papers with the county clerk Tuesday, each being incorporated in the sum of $10,000. The Fort Wayne Bill Fostling company is incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing, selling and renting bill boards and stands and for erecting, maintaining and using the same. The stock is divided into two hundred shares at $50 a share. The directors are W. E. Merrill, Anna G. Merrill and T. H. Merrill.

The Fuhrman Auto company is incorporated for the purpose of buying, selling and repairing automobiles, gasoline tractors, automobile parts and accessories. The stock is divided into one hundred shares at $100 each. The directors are William J. Fuhrman, George DeWald and Clifford Beall.

GIVEN A DAY'S TIME TO CUT WEEDS ON LOT

Four property owners of Fort Wayne appeared in the city court before Judge Keor Tuesday morning on charges of failure to cut the weeds on their premises. Two of them reported that the weeds had already been cut while the other two were given until Wednesday morning to remove them from their lots.

They were told that if they would not comply with this order that an affidavit would be sworn against them and a fine imposed. They promised to have their property freed from weeds by this evening if they had to do overalls and do it themselves.

Michael Baltes and Carl Weber reported that the weeds had been removed while William J. Hess and A. J. Schorer were given one day's time to have it done. The failure on their part to comply with the order before this was due in one case because he was absent from the city, while the other was under the impression that it had been done as he had given orders for the cutting of same.

STULTS CLOSES DEAL FOR BUSINESS LOTS

Austin W. Stults has closed a deal for a ninety-nine year lease on the Jefferson house property at 119-121 West Jefferson street, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Goodfellow and eventually he contemplates the erection of a new building. It is understood that the property was leased for $150 per month, making a total of $178,200 for the entire length of the lease. Six months ago Mr. Stults and A. L. Randall closed a ninety-nine year lease on the buildings at 1032-1034 Calhoun street.

BRITAIN LOSES FIRST TROOPS ON TRANSPORT

Torpedo of Teuton Submarine Sends Down
Royal Edward and 1,000 Men
for Dardenelles.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The British transport, Royal Edward, conveying troops to the Dardanelles, was sunk by a submarine in the Aegean sea last Saturday. Probably 1,000 men were lost. The British statement announcing the sinking enumerates a total of 1,620 persons on board the Royal Edward and adds that according to the information about 600 were saved.

Nearly 1,400 of those the transport carried were troops, while the crew numbered 220.

Advices from Athens say King Constantine accepted the resignation of the Gonaris cabinet and M. Z. Venizelos was invited to consult with the king today. Activity is increasing along the Austro-Italian front, according to the latest official reports. Rome claims progress in the Sexten region in the Bacherbach and Botch valleys and in the Monte Nero zone. Vienna declares Italian attacks at various points along the line failed.

Turkish reports on the Dardanelles operations declare attacks by newly landed troops of the entente allies have been repulsed.

The Germans have won a new and important success at Kovno Berlin reports today, capturing the forts that lie between the Niemen river and Gjesia, two and one-half miles to the south of Kovno proper.

Much war material, including 240 cannon and 4,500 prisoners, were taken in the Kovno operations, the German statement announced.

Additional inroads were made on the defenses of Novogeorgievsk where the forts have been captured. At this fortress 2,400 prisoners, 10 cannon and other material were taken.

Further progress by the armies of Prince Leopold of Bavaria and Field Marshal von Mackensen, pressing toward Brest-Litovsk, is reported.

London, Aug. 17.—The British admiral's record of transporting great numbers of troops to the various fighting zones without the loss of life so far as reported officially, has been broken after more than a year of war. The torpedo of a submarine has at last found the mark and the transport Royal Edward has gone to the bottom in the Aegean sea, with a loss of life which may reach 1,000. The brief admiralty announcement shows that the Royal Edward was engaged in transporting troops to the Dardanelles front, where Australians and New Zealanders have been largely employed.

CYCLONE'S HAVOC IN SOUTHERN HAITI

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Sunday, Aug. 15. (Delayed in transmission.)—A violent cyclone has devastated the entire southern side of the Haitian republic. There have been numerous victims in the towns along the coast.

The town of Aux Cayes, 92 miles southwest of Port Au Prince and with a population of 25,000, suffered particularly. The towns of Grandeville, Petiteville, were destroyed. In the interior heavy floods are reported. The coffee crop has been in part destroyed. All communication by telegraph or cable with the devastated districts has been interrupted.

TWO LOCAL RECRUITS ACCEPTED FOR NAVY

Two recruits for service in Uncle Sam's navy sent to Indianapolis last week from the Fort Wayne recruiting station in the federal building were accepted. There was a total of seven applicants during the week.

The weekly report from other navy recruiting stations in the state is as follows: Main station at Indianapolis, 18 applicants, 5 accepted; Indianapolis sub-station, 8 applicants, 3 accepted; Terre Haute, 13 applicants, 2 accepted; Evansville, 15 applicants, 2 accepted.

GAIN OF RATE IS ONLY TEMPORARY

Five Million Gold Rushed
Fails to Brace.

New York, Aug. 17.—The slight improvement in foreign exchange rates gained in yesterday's late rally was wiped out at the opening of the exchange market today. Pound sterling again touched the bottom quotation of 6.64; francs made a new low record, 6.04 cents under yesterday's quotation and Italian lire were acutely weak, falling to 6.54, seven cents under the closing figure of yesterday and six cents below the previous low record.

As on yesterday, the exchange markets were in a condition of demoralization. Quotations issued simultaneously by leading banking houses showed variations of a cent to a cent and a half on sterling with corresponding discrepancies in francs and lire. In the chaotic condition of the market it was impossible to ascertain these quotations represented mere offerings or actual business.

British Gold Fails to Help.
Nearly five million dollars in foreign gold coin reached Wall street during the forenoon from Ottawa for the account of Great Britain. At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., to whom the gold was consigned, it was said that no further consignments from Ottawa had been arranged for or were expected in the near future.

The arrival of this gold, however, failed to deflect the rate upward, the sum being but a small fraction of the bills which American manufacturers and shippers of war munitions and other supplies are pressing against buyers abroad.

Knatz and Rev. John Winter, superintendent of the home.

The board and officials in charge of the annual picnic to be held in the grove at the home Thursday, wish it emphasized that people should take the Lakeside cars this year to get to the home instead of the Driving Park cars as has been the custom in former years.

The road leading from the end of the Driving Park car line to the home has recently been torn up making it impossible to travel it. The auto buses will meet the Lakeside cars and will convey the people to the grounds.

All arrangements have been completed for the anniversary picnic and people from all parts of the country will be in attendance. The ladies societies of the three Reformed congregations of the city will have charge of the lunch and refreshment stands.

AWAITING REPLIES
FROM THE MEXICANS

None Have Been Received
on the Pan-American Appeal.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Responses to the pan-American appeal calling upon the Mexican factions to settle their civil strife still were being awaited by administration officials today. No replies had reached the state department early today, although Gen. Carranza and Villa have received the communication. That Carranza will make an unfavorable response to the appeal on the ground that foreign intervention would be unwelcome to the Mexican people is the belief of his representatives. His friends claim he already has brought peace to a large part of Mexico, that he is in full control of the territory, that he is restoring order and that after the removal of the capital to Mexico City he will consent to confer with the revolting factions. In other quarters, however, it was said that he might agree on a conference based on proportionate representation.

Secretary Daniels has ordered the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire en route to southern waters, to proceed immediately to Vera Cruz, where they are due to arrive Wednesday, to replace the gunboats Marietta and the Sacramento. The Marietta has been ordered to Progresso.

Secretary Daniels explained that no further alarming reports had come from Vera Cruz and no trouble was looked for.

FIVE SHIPS TO TAKE
RELIEF TO BELGIUM

New York, Aug. 17.—The commission for relief in Belgium announced today that it has chartered five additional steamships to carry supplies from America for the Belgians. These together with those previously chartered, make a fleet of eight steamships in all, flying the flag of the commission. The new ships chartered are the Andrea, the Mobsack, the Crino, the Oostbijk and the Otto Sverdrup. All these steamships are of the larger type of freighters with cargo capacity of 8,000 to 9,000 tons each. They are now in European waters on their way to American ports for cargoes.

THE POPE'S HUMANE
EFFORTS SUCCEED

Rome, Aug. 17.—Difficulties preventing the accomplishment of the pope's plan to exchange interned civilians of non-military age, says the Observatore Romano, have been surmounted. The British government having agreed to treat submarine prisoners the same as other prisoners and the German government having discontinued special treatment of British officers, the Holy See renewed its appeal to Germany to carry out the agreement already made. On August 5, the German minister telegraphed from Lugano a reply, which was transmitted to the British secretary of state. On August 12, Great Britain thanked the pope for his humane action.

does she does not go for humanitarian purposes.

The speaker ridiculed the argument that England is in the present conflict because she thought the neutrality of Belgium had been violated.

Few Questions Are Asked.
"Why did she for seven years make alliances with Russia and France and why did she offer to assist France in any undertaking?" he asked.

The speaker pointed out that if England has such great concern for the welfare of the people of Belgium she would open the Belgium ports to American products and be paid for by German money and be used to feed the starving people in Belgium. He declared that English battleships are standing between the Belgian people and the wheat fields of America.

"Germany is willing to feed them and to care for them, but she cannot do it with the supplies cut off," he said. He said that England did not think so much of Belgium a few years ago when the Congo atrocities were committed.

In conclusion he said: "O, Master of Men! fill our hearts with the humanity of Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, McKinley, give us power to empty the outgoing ships of their instruments."

RESOLUTIONS ASK FOR EMBARGO ON EXPORTATION OF MUNITIONS OF WAR.

Resolutions calling upon the president of the United States to prevent the shipment of munitions of war to the belligerent countries in Europe were passed Monday evening at the New Palace theater. The resolutions adopted are as follows:

To His Excellency, the President of the United States:

Realizing that it is supreme importance to the highest executive officer of the United States of North America to be directly informed as to the sentiments of the American people concerning the grave issues now confronting our national conscience, and knowing that such expressions of popular opinion will be welcome to your excellency, we, American citizens in mass meeting assembled, crave permission to comply with our duty by presenting to you the following resolutions:

1. Unflinching loyalty to the American flag and to the principles which it stands, creates in us the firm conviction that the honor, dignity and prestige of our country among the nations of the world can be upheld and safeguarded in no better way than by strictly and persistently adhering to the maintenance of peace with all the belligerent countries in the present great war and by observing a policy of perfect neutrality in word and deed.

2. We take the liberty of heartily commending your excellency for the willingness to act as mediator between the countries at war, and we sincerely hope that such services will be successful in putting an end to the inhuman plan of starving millions of non-combatant men, women and children on land, as well as to the cruel practice of killing innocent travelers.

3. We sincerely believe that, under present conditions, the exchange of diplomatic notes carried on, not under the threat of ultimatum, but in a spirit of patience and friendship, and if this should fail to lead to the desired agreement—the submission of all such differences to an international court of arbitration, will prevent war, forestall the breaking of diplomatic relations with foreign powers, and insure to us the respect of the world for our true rights and for such principles as we feel compelled to maintain.

4. We take the liberty of heartily commending your excellency for the willingness to act as mediator between the countries at war, and we sincerely hope that such services will be successful in putting an end to the inhuman plan of starving millions of non-combatant men, women and children on land, as well as to the cruel practice of killing innocent travelers.

5. We take the liberty of heartily commending your excellency for the willingness to act as mediator between the countries at war, and we sincerely hope that such services will be successful in putting an end to the inhuman plan of starving millions of non-combatant men, women and children on land, as well as to the cruel practice of killing innocent travelers.

The 42-Centimeter
Bed Bug Destroyer

That is what they call P. D. Q. (Pest Destroyer), which kills all vermin the record smasher. Ask your druggist for a package of P. D. Q. mix it as directed and sprinkle it where the bed bugs are. They watch them turn up their toes and try it on the dog and see the flea loop the loop. Just as effective on roaches, chinchillas, lice or ants. It's worth a barrel of old-fashioned bug killer.

P. D. Q. won't hurt clothing, furniture, draperies, carpets or walls. It just kills the vermin and the eggs so that you not only get rid of the live ones, but destroy the future generations.

Year druggist has it or can get it for you. Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Schone and Ankenbruck, Old Undertaking Establishment Adds

THE AUTO AMBULANCE.

The Ankenbruck Livery company's auto, power carrier is also a sixty-horsepower specially built Winton. This new style of vehicle is one of the latest developments of this kind, and is a splendid addition to the company's livery equipment. Six new kinds are in service and those who call for them find working and unusual service do so for their cleanliness, and the smart looking horses of white and black. The ambulance service is handled directly by the livery management, and either horse drawn ambulance or the motor car can be secured.

This new auto hearse, of the Schone & Ankenbruck firm, marks the progress in the undertaking profession of this old establishment. It is a car made especially for the purpose by the Winton Motor Car company, the body being mounted on a special 134-inch wheelbase chassis. The outer sides are carved draperies, and the interior is built entirely of solid mahogany. These cars, manufactured by the Winton Motor Car company, are the finest in America.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Two Men Seek to Open Saloons at Edge of Hartford City.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 17.—Fred Nicolson and Thomas Saxon, saloon keepers who were forced out of business by the recent local option election here, have published notice of their intention to apply for licenses to operate saloons in Licking township, just outside of the corporation limits. The township is "wet" territory, but has never had saloons. The applications will be heard at the September meeting of the county commissioners and is expected to precipitate another bitter fight. It is likely that the "drys" will seek remonstrance rather than to petition for an election.

PAROLED MAN IN ROC.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 17.—Sheriff Marion Egolf has returned from Lagrange, where he secured Andrew J. Myers, the young man who is charged with wife desertion, and the latter was brought back to this city to answer to the charge. The young man has been working at South Milford, in Lagrange county, since he was paroled from the state penal farm about ten days ago, and he says that he is willing to pay whatever is right for the support of his child but that during the past year while confined in Jeffersonville and the state penal farm, he was unable to earn any money and thus could not contribute to the support of the wife or child. Myers was sent up for three years for wife desertion.

FOUR HURT IN AUTO SMASH.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 17.—Four were injured, one probably fatally, in an automobile accident, which occurred a mile and a half east of Etna Green, when an automobile driven by Willard Jones of Etna Green crashed into a buggy, throwing the occupants of the rig forcibly to the ground. The buggy was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Upson Beam, who reside near Warsaw. Mrs. Ed Leppner, a daughter, from Culver, Ind., and her six-month-old baby. The infant was probably fatally injured. Mrs. Beam is believed to have sustained internal injuries.

WAS BORN IN FORT WAYNE.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 17.—Frank Lamp, who was born in Fort Wayne sixty-eight years ago and came to Rome City in early youth, is dead at his home there from a complication of diseases. Several years ago he was injured quite severely when he was dragged by a cow. He never fully recovered from the injuries sustained. A week ago he was taken bedfast, and gradually his condition became weaker. His wife died eleven years ago and two sons and a daughter survive.

RURAL CARRIER KILLED.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 17.—John Rhine, 82 years old, a veteran rural carrier out of the Montpelier postoffice, was killed instantly yesterday when the automobile in which he was covering his route was struck by an Indianapolis-bound interurban car at a crossing a mile north of Montpelier. As a result of his death heirs will receive $2,000 from the government under a new postal ruling. He was an officer in the State Association of Rural Carriers.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., Aug. 17.—The Reasener-Boyle reunion was held in the Widney opera house at St. Joe instead of the Hamilton grove on Thursday afternoon, on account of the rain. Mr. and Mrs. Reasener, Mr. Charles Storto and daughter Nellie and Mrs. Milton Chaney were those that attended from here.

M. E. Sunday school attendance, 84; collection, $3.27. Lutheran Sunday school attendance, 111; collection, $2.75. The Lutheran church and Sunday school will give a picnic on next Saturday in the Charles Henderson grove, to which you are all invited.

The Ladies' Guild of the M. E. church will be entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Lucas, of near St. Joe. The time being one week earlier on account of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Betz, Mrs. Frank House, Mr. Charles Boston and son Roy, Mr. and Mrs. William Damm and family were those that attended the Boston family reunion held at Robinson park Sunday. About fifty of the members attended.

Those from a distance who attended the Markle reunion, held at the home of Mr. Jerry Markle, on River street, Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. George Ziemer and two daughters, of Harlan; Mr. and Mrs. William Merrill and two children, of Grubill; Mr. Charles Kerns, of near Fort Wayne; Miss Edna Armstrong, of Auburn; Mr. George Steward and family, Mr. Elmer Markle and family, of Fort Wayne.

The Misses Armita and Jennie Steward, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Horn, Miss Zorn and Mr. George Horn, left Friday morning for a trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, Cal. They also expect to visit many places of interest while gone. Miss Bernice Soares, Pearl Kimes and William Brown were Sunday evening guests of Miss Gladys and Mr. Clarence Gloyd.

Rev. J. C. Valentine and son Alvin, Miss Mary Comisky, Mrs. Baltzer Kooz and Mrs. Louie Beam attended the laying of the corner stone of the M. E. church at Leo Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Harry Petterson is the owner of a new bicycle. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kimes, Miss Thula and Emily Kimes, of Robinson Chapel; Misses Pearl Kimes and Violet Moody and Mr. Wesley Kimes were Sunday guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Cloe Allen and family.

Mr. Vonie Boston and his friend, Miss Emma Strong, of Burlington, Mich., were Monday visitors of Mr. Joel Betz and wife and Mr. Frank House and family, leaving for their home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hollabaugh and children were Sunday guests of the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goldsmith, of Hursttown. Mrs. Goldsmith, who recently broke her arm, is very poorly.

Mr. Thomas Petterson visited his sister at Antwerp on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Heffner, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, Miss Edna Armstrong and Miss Gaylan Markle spent Sunday at Robinson park.

WOMAN'S DAY

Do go with me to Robinson Park. For on Woman's Day there'll be a great lark. The funniest sight you'll ever see Is the Hard Times Parade, it seems to me.

There are women tall and women lean, While some are the fattest you've ever seen.

In sheer delight you'll stand aghast At sight of the Parade as it meanders past.

From the Indian squaw and the wild Zulu To the "Goddess of Liberty" in red, white and blue.

All shades and all colors you'll see on that day. You'll have a good time, so do go, I pray.

But the grandest sight that one could behold Is the reverence bestowed on the wrinkled and old.

Flowers for the living, instead of the dead, Regardless of station or how they are bred.

Do homage then to the day of all days, All work and no pleasure I'm sure never pays.

Put on an old gown and a discarded shoe; When the judges come round, their choice may be you.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Mark 5:45-56.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before him to Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out:

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and said unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For they considered not the miracle of the loaves; for their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Genesareth, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him.

55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those who were sick, where they heard he was.

Georgia's Infamy Complete

The spirit of mob law that from the beginning of the Frank case was the close attendant and, indeed, the complement of the civil law in Georgia has proceeded to a logical conclusion. Leo M. Frank has been lynched. Georgia's infamy is complete. Extract the essence of the whole affair and consider it apart from the sensational and abhorrent circumstances that mark the climax, and there is the spirit of the mob dominating both public opinion and the administration of justice. Leo M. Frank had never had justice. That he did not meet a death of ignominy on a gibbet of the law was due to the revolt of one courageous man's mind against a widespread feeling of primitive treachery, racial bigotry and vengeful hatred that threatened the state of which he was governor with ineffaceable shame and imperishable infamy. In the face of a public sentiment he knew would condemn him, Governor Slaton committed the death penalty in Frank's case to life imprisonment. That was but a minimum of mercy measured against the prejudice and partiality that marked the Hebrew's trial and the grave material doubts that hedged about his conviction. Georgia should have been thankful that her executive's courage had spared the commonwealth the infamy of having hurried before the law to an execution of extreme judgment a man more than possibly innocent. That the state penitentiary could be invaded and a prisoner abducted and carried away one hundred miles to be lynched by a mob shows clearly the mob's confidence in the approval of public opinion no less than a knowledge that its hateful enterprise, astounding in its audacity, was practicable and promising of success. Leo M. Frank was but one man and, apart from the circumstances of his accusation, conviction and death, of no surpassing consequence to society, but of all the men in Georgia her people by murder have struck out the life of that man whom she least could spare and whose passing will in those things most precious to a people of freedom and enlightenment cost her dearest.

A Flood Does Harm to Everybody

The citizen who excuses his failure to sign a flood-prevention petition in the fact that he lives on high ground and is in no peril of floods imagines a vain thing. While it is true that a rampage of the rivers may never drive him and his near and dear to reside for a season on the ridgepole, he cannot escape the consequences of disastrous floods. When high water marauds the city, closes its factories, blockades its railways, paralyzes its industry and strikes its labor to idleness, all business feels the stroke. Everybody—some more and some not so much, but nevertheless everybody—is touched by the ruthless hand of disaster. Even were it not so, the community as a community owes a sufficient measure of protection to industry and business and to those whose fate has placed them within reach of the great tides that now and then sweep through this city. To tolerate preventable disaster that hurts everybody in some degree is a great and immoral stupidity. It means waste, loss, suffering. In other words, sign the petition to create a flood-prevention district and let the great and good work of flood prevention go forward.

Austria is again baiting the Serbians. What happened in the earlier days of the great conflict may be repeated. King Karageorgievitch and his veterans proved themselves more than handy at the bloody game and in due course expelled the invaders after thrashing them to chaff. Old King Kari is not in all respects the greatest monarch nor the nicest man on a throne, but he sure is a fine old fighter. With bigger guns and German help, Austria may make out better in this later essay to conquer the Serbians, but she will have to foot up the score when it shall have been accomplished.

It will be fine and proper to extend to young Birdboy Smith such a welcome as is due to the homecoming of the native son who has achieved distinction so great and so honorable. But let us receive him in a more generous and appreciative spirit than merely that he has advertised this city by having hailed from it. That is merely incidental and moreover is sordid. Art Smith is a celebrity with a fame that spreads the world around. Let his home city so acclaim and so receive him.

Twelve or fifteen thousand people jammed themselves into the little city of Rockville, in the southern part of this state to listen to an address by Prof. William Howard Taft, who may be recalled as a sometime president of this republic. That is as large a crowd as even the doughty Colonel Roosevelt himself could have drawn. They do come back.

MILITARY EDUCATION.

(Kansas City Star.)

We are told by a writer for Collier's Weekly that what America must do is not to rely upon summer camps to train officers, or fancy we can make good officers out of the graduates of every military academy, but should depend upon a regularly organized, generously supported and more or less federally controlled militia or reserve army for the salvation of the nation in time of peril. The advice as to the final dependence for national defense is undoubtedly sound.

But Lucien Howe, So. D. member of the House of Representatives of England and a professor in the University of Buffalo, N. Y., points out in a recent pamphlet that a judicious system of education similar to that of Switzerland would not only provide the country with defense, but would turn out a far healthier, more normal bunch of young men and women than our colleges are now producing.

He lays special emphasis upon the physical benefit which school children and young men and women in general would gain were they instructed in hygiene and made to build up their bodies as soldiers are. He gives warning figures as to the number of students from grammar school to college who come out perhaps with minds improved but frequently with bodies impaired. And the mind, of course, cannot go more than so far without a healthy body.

Dr. Howe would have the health of school children under federal supervision, a government health department, perhaps under the control of the war department. It would discover defects in time to remedy and frequently educate them.

After pointing out the physical benefits of various military drills and the increased efficiency in doing all sorts of things which the man with military education gains, Dr. Howe closes with this stimulating paragraph:

"We must recall the second fundamental object of education, the cultivation of self-control and the capacity for self-sacrifice. They are, in fact, the essence of a soldier's virtues. Our schools, he concludes, do not at present develop self-control and self-sacrifice as well and completely as they should. Military education, he believes, would do it and at the same time would be in no danger of falling into militarism. A proper military system develops very many virtues that are of the greatest value whether in peace or war. A military system allowed to run rampant develops grave faults. But the military virtues of a properly controlled system are not easily acquired elsewhere.

MARINE MAURAUDING.

(Toledo Blade.)

Failure of Germany to starve England and of England to starve Germany by the unpalatable sea warfare methods adopted by the belligerents on both sides is attracting wide attention in the United States and evoking much comment, editorial and otherwise, adverse to both nations.

When, following the announcement of the British "blockade," Germany imposed rigid restrictions on distribution of food supplies in that country, it was proclaimed that the Germans soon would be driven by hunger to submission, and that creation of famine conditions would be a humane way to end the war.

By means of its wonderful organization, the German government has conserved its food resources, stimulated and intensified domestic agriculture and managed to import great quantities of foodstuffs, thus averting the menace of gaunt hunger.

It is pointed out, on the other hand, that the German submarine blockade has been equally ineffective. The Germans destroy the Lusitania, downing 1,000 non-combatants. Other devastating and spectacular, but less effective, sea achievements have been heralded widely. This submarine marauding was calculated to—and did strike terror to the English people for the moment only. Analysis of the facts shows that only 1 per cent. of the British merchant marine has been destroyed and that ships are being built faster than they are being sunk by the Germans.

WAR'S PARTIAL REPARATION.

(New York American.)

From the camps press of many valuable discoveries in the history and the treatment of the wounded. The best medical brains of Europe are behind the first line, and with the vast opportunity for observation better methods of treating wounded men are being rapidly developed.

The army surgeon is not moved solely by motives of humanity. His job is to fix a man up so that he can go back to the front. But it is a big and an important job, and in attending to it the surgeon keeps himself at the top of his bent.

As a consequence, means of caring for the sick are devised under high pressure that might never be thought of in times of peace. The man of medicine has a double incentive behind his thought and skill.

It is little enough reparation for war to make to humanity, this knowledge of healing, but it is some reparation at least.

In after years, when the world is at peace, those suffering is alleviated quickly; those who survive dreadful injuries that today would prove surely fatal can remember that for these blessings at least they have to thank the hideous monster—War.

WAYNE MORTGAGE LOAN CO., LINCOLN LIFE BUILDING.

BOY GENIUS MISSES FAME AS VIOLINIST AND WINS GLORY AS HERO.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 16. Little Harry Roeling will never play the violin again. But the lad whom New Orleans musicians called the "boy violinist" may be decorated with a hero medal instead of an artist's medal of honor.

Harry, who is eight years old, risked his life recently to save his little sister from death under the wheels of a street car. He dragged her from the tracks, but tripped and fell with both hands on the rails. The right hand was almost entirely torn away.

The little hero smiles bravely over his terrible loss and says "Well, I'll have to give up my violin, but I have Sis to play with anyway."

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Fairfield avenue is torn up for receiving its regular blood payment.

Fred Jenne will soon leave to attend college in New York.

Charles S. Knight, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, has returned from an extensive southern trip.

Rev. C. E. Kelets, pastor of Salem Reformed church, has resigned to accept a pastorate at Louisville, Ky.

Natural gas is now used in the furnaces at the Fort Wayne Electric works. It was turned on yesterday for the first time.

August Bruder, the jeweler, brought back with him from New York a medical novelty which he exhibits to admiring and astonished crowds.

C. R. Jenne, the postman, has gone to his old home in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., to attend a family reunion.

Henry Taylor, the pleasant young assistant in the Hamilton bank, left today for a vacation trip east. He will visit New York among other cities.

Charles Meyer, of Root and Company's store, celebrated his fifty-second birthday, Friday evening, the 15th. A large number of friends were his guests.

Dr. J. E. Waugh, the dentist, who has offices over the Mordorff drug store, has decided to leave this city and locate in Angola. He will go there September 1.

The venerable John Mohr, Sr., writes from Paris that he is enjoying his foreign trip immensely. He has visited many places in Germany, including his boyhood home. Though quite aged, Mr. Mohr is rugged and is making the trip alone.

The City band has elected the following officers: President, John Domini; vice president, C. E. Meyer; secretary, Fred Gabel; treasurer, Fred J. Reinecke; trustees, M. Bankes, George Jacob, Henry P. Scherer; finance committee, N. S. Smith, Sam Burnett, Ben Rekers; leader, Phil Keintz; second leader, Ben Rekers; executive committee, Phil Keintz, E. J. Reinecke, Fred Gabel.

Rev. Father Joseph F. Debaney, now of the cathedral staff, but designated to have charge of the St. Patrick's congregation soon, was voted the handsome broadcloth suit of clothes offered by the Globe clothing store to the most popular preacher in Fort Wayne. He received 10,288 of the 20,676 votes cast. All the other pastors in Fort Wayne received some votes, ranging from one to 5,215, which was the number given for Rev. J. L. Leeper, of the Second Presbyterian church, who stood second in Father Debaney.

Mrs. W. H. Carter and son Herbert are visiting Nickel Plate Conductor and Mrs. George Harper, at Bellevue.

FRAUDULENT ADVERTISING.

The gross exaggeration in advertising that is being indulged in in Fort Wayne seems likely to greatly injure, if not to destroy the value of everybody's advertising. The public is being led to distrust and disbelieve all advertising. The worst offenders are the professional get-togethers of special sales who are hired to come here from Chicago or elsewhere and plaster our papers with pages of exaggerations and misstatements that are ruinous to the reputation of the merchant employing them and after a while destructive to his business. When one of these professional advertisers that Jones, Smith & Co. have placed their entire store in his hands to be sold regardless of its cost, any person with a thumbnail of brains knows the statement to be simply a lie. Five dollar articles are not sold for $1, nor $10 ones for $2 or $3 unless the merchant for whom the sale is being made has a stock of "junk" instead of desirable goods in his store. No business can stand the disgrace of such schemes for the temporary promotion of trade had better be sent into the discard along with trading stamps, gift schemes, lotteries and the like, all of which are generally concerned with the bankruptcy of the advertiser, which injures the store. They are expensive, demoralizing and invariably add to the cost of the goods to the customer. In one's leading furniture house has avoided them in all of its nearly one-half century of merchandising in this state.

KENDALLVILLE NEWS.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 17. The Taylor family held their second annual reunion at the fair grounds on Saturday. Sixty-five members were present. At the business session, the same officers were re-elected: N. B. Haller, of this city, as president, and Miss Marjorie Haller, of Woodstock, as secretary.

Twenty members of the Kendallville band, accompanied by their families, spent Sunday in Rome City.

The Rev. L. M. McVey is at Jonesboro, Ind., attending the Indiana conference of the Methodist Protestant church. Miss Mabel Shaffer is also attending the conference, as the lay delegate of the church.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Max Strech residing in Fairfield township.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartman are the parents of a son.

Mrs. Nicholls of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Bowman, of Omaha, Neb., who are visiting friends in the city, were the guests of honor at a bridge party given by Mrs. R. Pullman Monday afternoon at her home on Sargeant street.

Mrs. Maude Wilson visited her parents in Bremen over Sunday.

Mrs. J. B. Taylor visited her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Frazure, at Toledo, on Sunday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Fisher visited their parents near Avilla over Sunday.

The Most Correct Fashion Thoughts

Are shown here first. Our fashion folks are choosing their fall stocks with rare taste and judgment. The first showing of the new things will prove interesting and more are coming every day.

THE NEW SUITS

Are trim and smart. There is no definite line set for the length of the jackets which should vary with the height of the figure. Suits somewhat shaped to the form are prominently represented. Skirts are wide enough to have a graceful swing. The favored materials are Broadcloths, Worstedes, Poplins, Gabardines, Cheviots, Whipcords, Serges and Tweeds. Many of the models will be trimmed with braid motifs.

THE NEW DRESSES

Dame Fashion has many surprises in store for her followers this season. There is already a charming variety of new and pretty models in silks and serges. Some on display for the first time today. There is a winsomeness about these very new styles and the prices are most pleasing.

MR. AND MRS. CELESTIN JOURDAIN MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

In the home where they have lived nearly all of their married life, 1224 Maumee avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Celestin Jourdain celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday with their children and seven grandchildren with them. In the afternoon many friends called to extend congratulations to the happy couple and their children and grandchildren. The celebration was a most successful one and the happy couple were the center of attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. Jourdain are of French descent. Mr. Jourdain was born in France, and his wife, Mrs. Jourdain, was born in the United States. They have been married for fifty years and have a large family.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

BUOYANT ELSIE JANIS.

At Jefferson in "Nearly a Lady," An Original Comedy Confection Written by Herself.

What can't Elsie Janis do? After seeing her wonderful Lariat dance with the cowboys in her new Rosworth photo comedy, "Nearly a Lady," that is the first question that arises.

Mime, singer, dancer, author, Elsie Janis is gifted with the ability to assimilate any new pursuit and make herself so the master of it that she outdoes even those who have been at it for years.

In "Nearly a Lady," the Montana cowboys, headed by Art Accord, the famous rider, demonstrate some of these bewildering dances with Elsie Janis looking on. When they are finished she frankly dons her riding skirt and proceeds to do the Lariat dance she has just seen. With toes tripping prettily in perfect time, she dances inside the whirling rope which by means of her supple wrist, all the time describes a flying hoop around her like the hoop of a cymeline. And the marvel of it is that her dance is far more expert than those of Art Accord and his boys, who are genuine cowboys, bred and brought up on ranch and range.

"Nearly a Lady," the third of the film comedies Elsie Janis has played for Rosworth Incorporated, is her favorite. Filled with action of a new kind and carrying a pretty love story it quite justifies her preference.

AT THE TEMPLE.

THE OTHER SIDE OF IT.

"The Penalty" Makes a Headless Public Stop and Ponder.

Every question has two sides, and that homely truth applies to a woman's indiscretions as well as to a man's. This may jar on the minds long accustomed to the double standard of morality, but the drama "The Penalty" is the character of play calculated to make the headless American public stop and ponder on the question of whether a woman may not err and still not be totally depraved. The story hinges on a mother's love of her son, a love that drives her into the arms of a man other than her husband so that she may secure money for her boy's education. The world's view that such a woman is "out-side the pale" is one that may be sadly jolted by such a drama, although the play does not pretend to preach free love nor indiscriminate bestowal of affection. It just gives "the other side." The Payette Players, who are presenting this drama at the Temple, will be enjoyed in a matinee performance tomorrow.

AT THE NEW PALACE.

BUSHMAN IN GREAT PLAY.

Distinguished Screen Star Appearing in "Second in Command."

The appearance of Francis X. Bushman in the role of Miles Anstruther, created in the original Frohman production by the notable star, John Drew, is one of the foremost triumphs of the silent drama, as this film, which is being projected today and tomorrow at the New Palace, constitutes the most extraordinary achievement of Mr. Bushman's brilliant career. The delectable Marguerite Snow is appearing as a co-star with Mr. Bushman. "The Second in Command" is a story with a love theme that is distinctly unusual. It revolves round a brother-sister relationship, and his subsequent confession to Anstruther and his fiancée by falsehood, and his subsequent confession to Anstruther and his fiancée by falsehood, and his subsequent confession to Anstruther and his fiancée by falsehood.

IN THE CHURCHES.

REV. DR. VICHET HONORED.

Former Pastor of First Baptist Church Dean of College Seminary.

It will greatly interest the membership of the First Baptist church and numerous other friends in this city to learn that Rev. Dr. John F. Vichert, formerly pastor of that church, has but recently achieved new distinctions in the east. He has just been elected corresponding secretary of the New York Educational society and dean of the College Theological seminary, at Hamilton, N. Y. Dr. Vichert came to Fort Wayne as successor to Rev. J. N. Field in the pastorate of the First Baptist church and remained here several years, when he accepted a call to the east and was succeeded by Rev. C. H. Spashall, who now has that pastorate. Dr. Vichert was twice chosen president of the Indiana Baptist convention during his residence in this city.

It Will Be Children's Day. At the meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of Trinity M. E. church, to be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the home of Belmont, which position he has held for eleven years. He is greatly respected and admired for his sterling character and his many splendid qualities. The following guests from out of the city attended the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burley and Miss Mary Burley, of Washington, Ohio; Miss Edna Burley, of Middle Point, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Onkle and Miss Nina Onkle, of St. Joe, Ind.; and Miss Edna Mapes, of Battle Creek, Mich.

Peter Joseph Giddon, formerly of the American Road Machine works, took employment at his trade in the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

Third Annual Picnic to Be Held at Sylvan Lake Thursday.

The third annual outing of the employees of the Fort Wayne and Northern Railway company, and all members of their families, will be held at Sylvan lake, Rome City, on next Thursday. The company will act as host, providing transportation, entertainment, ice cream, lemonade and other things incidental to making the day an enjoyable one.

The picnic will in no way impair the regular service during the day, as shifts are being arranged so that every employee can be in Rome City for part of the day. Extra men also will help out so as to permit as many employees as possible to spend the entire day at the lake.

Picnic at Robinson Park. Two special cars were run over the Fort Wayne and Springfield line Tuesday, bringing to this city the members of the Sunday school of the Evangelical church at Decatur, who are spending the day at Robinson park.

Large Electrical Sign. A large electrical sign in different colors has been placed on top of a building at the transfer corner at Main and Calhoun street, advertising the annual linemen's social to be given on August 18.

Union Cars Designated. A special board has been appointed and placed on all union "jitneys" busses to distinguish them from the "jitneys" that are not identified with the recently organized union.

Circus is Coming. Word was received Tuesday by officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company that the Wallace & Hagenbeck circus will show in Fort Wayne on Labor day, September 6. The circus cancelled its engagement at Kokomo, preferring to come to Fort Wayne.

Must Send Orders at Once. Officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company have been advised by the Midvale Steel company, of Philadelphia, that if the company anticipates placing orders for car wheels to be delivered within the next six months orders should be sent at once. The letter stated that the Midvale company expected its business to be much above the normal by January 1, and in preparation for this, it is urging customers to file orders immediately.

Building Connecting Line. A connecting line is being built by the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company with the Lake Erie at Westfield. As a result, growers of sugar beets can load their beets at Huntington, Roanoke and intermediate points and ship them to Fort Wayne over the traction line and transfer them to the Lake Erie and then to the G. R. & I. for the plant at Decatur.

Traction Notes. Several Catholic Sisters will arrive home this evening over the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company's line from St. Mary's-in-the-Woods.

W. H. Fledderjohann, of the Fort Wayne and Springfield Traction company, was a visitor in Fort Wayne Tuesday.

On account of the picnic to be held at the Reformed Orphan's home by the Reformed churches of Fort Wayne on August 19, the Fort Wayne and Springfield Traction company will run a special car from Decatur. The Decatur band will furnish the music.

E. S. Meyers, superintendent of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, is a visitor in Indianapolis.

Trainmaster Kim Smith, of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, was at Huntington Monday, where he met a special train from Indianapolis carrying 250 delegates to the Knights and Ladies of Honor convention.

PROCLAIMS DISEASE PREVENTION DAY

Governor Ralston Gives Official Notice of Friday, October 1.

Indianapolis, Aug. 17.—Carrying out the provisions of a concurrent resolution adopted by the legislative last winter, which designates the first Friday in October of each year as disease prevention day in Indiana, Governor Ralston has issued the following proclamation declaring Friday, October 1, a day to be observed in the public schools, by municipalities, civic and other organizations in a manner tending to arouse the entire commonwealth to the need for state-wide effort against preventable disease.

"A Proclamation: The unanimity with which the first official proclamation of last year, was received by the general public, the public schools, the medical profession and the sanitary scientists and philanthropists, is of itself a sufficient warrant for issuing a second one in 1915.

"The time was ripe for such an appeal on behalf of the public health. The work of voicing and giving practical direction to an already aroused public opinion, so auspiciously started and so greatly stimulated by that movement, was too valuable to be lost or neutralized by any neglect or relaxation of interest and effort at this time. Good health is always a paramount issue. It means sane minds, as well as sound bodies; self-poise to the individual and safety to the state. In its last analysis it is the sheet anchor of a true and normal civilization.

"Now, therefore, I, Samuel M. Ralston, governor of Indiana, in consideration of these truths, do hereby designate and proclaim Friday, October 1, 1915, as disease prevention day within the confines of said state; and I respectfully urge that such exercises be given in the public schools, and such action be taken by the various municipalities and civic and other organizations in Indiana, as will emphasize the importance of public health and the joint responsibility of all citizens therefor; and will inspire in everyone a desire to meet that responsibility by an active co-operation in all sane efforts for the prevention of physical disease.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Indiana, at the capital, in the city of Indianapolis, this 6th day of August, 1915.

Society

A spontaneous luncheon in Miss Mary A. Randall was given by Miss Ruth Caldwell at her home in West Creighton avenue at 1 o'clock today. The color plan was in yellow and white and a wealth of corsages, martingales, nasturtiums and other garden flowers made the table altogether lovely to see. Place cards were expressive of the luncheon colors and were tokens to Miss Randall, who also received an old-fashioned bouquet of flowers to wear. After luncheon the guests played bridge. Covers were laid for nine only. Miss Randall's sisters, who are to act as bridesmaids, are Miss Phyllis and Virginia Randall, being included in the company.

Misses Agnes and Marguerite Mahurin have invited friends of their own and of Mrs. Edward Ginsberg, of New York, to meet her and also Miss Lois Thom, of Appleton, Wis., who is visiting Miss Pauline Saylor, at their home in Fairfield avenue on Wednesday afternoon at a thimble party.

Miss Bertha Engen and Miss Celeste Dennis are visiting friends in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Gies have taken for a short visit at their lake.

Miss Mildred Simon, 229 East Washington street, is spending a week at Reading, Mich.

Mrs. E. C. Anderson, of South Calhoun street, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Ella Hocking, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Dora, of Detroit, Mich., in the guest of the family at 11 E. C. Crescent avenue.

Miss Kitty Bent of West street, left Saturday for a week's visit in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Miss Anna Danahy and Miss Madge Pritchard are in Cleveland for a visit with friends.

Irvin Tunkel, academic teacher in the vocational school, has gone to Detroit, Mich., for an indefinite number of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Dora, of Indianapolis, Mich., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Waller, of Leavenworth.

Miss Blanche Stierke, of St. Paul, Minn., is visiting Miss Maggie Galle, at the Valley farm, for two weeks.

Miss Julia Chambers, of South Calhoun street, is in Detroit for a visit with friends.

Mrs. Ruthen S. Patterson and son Henry, left Tuesday for their home in Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mack have returned from a five week trip to California and intermediate points. They visited both expositions.

Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Danneker and Miss Edith Danneker, of Marysville, O., are visiting Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Danneker.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anan and son, Robert, have returned from a visit in Hamilton, Ohio, with relatives there and in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Harris, of 325 East Avenue, and Miss Helen Harris, a nurse at Hope hospital, are taking a fortnight's outing at their lake.

Mrs. Agnes Collier, of 1918 Hanna street, is entertaining her daughter, Miss Agnes Collier, a nurse at the Michigan State hospital, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mrs. Caroline Howard, of West Creighton street, is entertaining her daughter and her husband, Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Damp, of Elkhart.

Miss Helen Miller has returned to Lakeside, O., after a visit with Miss Freda Danneker, of Washington boulevard.

Misses Mabelle Andrews, Vivian Bowcock, Jessie Berdick and Grace Saylor, with Mrs. Mary L. Lapschire, who is the chaperone, have gone to one of the northern lakes for a week.

Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Wyneken are to start next Friday for a few days' stay in Chicago, after which they will go for a tour of California and the North-west.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thiele and son, William, and daughter, Ma, of Warren street, have returned home after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Anan in Galien, O.

Miss Jessie Keenan has just returned from New York, where she took a six weeks' course in special study at Columbia university. Miss Keenan has accepted a position to teach English in the Camden, New Jersey, high school.

Mrs. A. L. Grabenstetter and daughter, Mary, have returned from a visit in Cleveland of those weeks' time with relatives. Mrs. Grabenstetter, senior, came home with her daughter-in-law and grandchildren for a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fields and family and Mrs. A. Lazarini have returned from a week's outing at Crooked Lake where Mrs. Stella Huttlinger, who had spent the previous week at Lake Umbagog, with her family, was their guest.

Miss Winifred Smith, of California avenue, has gone to Terre Haute to visit relatives. Miss Smith accompanied her cousin, Master Kenneth M. Nabney, home after a visit he made here. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are also going to Terre Haute for a visit.

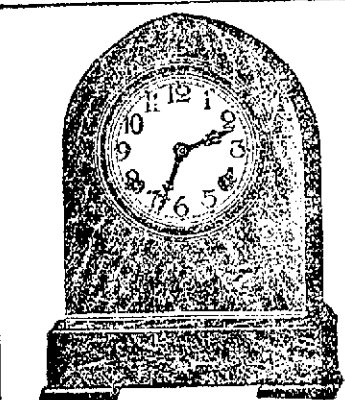

Mrs. Frank Koller and little son, Frank, Jr., have returned from a visit in Chicago for two months with her sister, Mrs. L. H. Hendelman. Mr. and Mrs. Hendelman and infant child are to spend the coming week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. Koller at their home in West Creighton street.

been received from Galveston saying that a large vessel had been blown through the causeway connecting Galveston with the mainland. Two work trains were ordered to Galveston to assist in repairing the damage.

After losing their wire to Galveston last night the Santa Fe officers here retained communication with Alvin, mid-way between Houston and Galveston, for some time, finally losing it when the water was rising and that it would be compelled to leave. Before going, however, he stated that the water in that vicinity ranged from seven to ten feet in depth.

STORM STRIKES INLAND.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 17.—At 7:45 this morning San Antonio and Austin had been added to the isolated cities in Texas, indicating the tropical storm which struck Galveston yesterday was working considerable distance inland. Galveston, Houston and Beaumont still were cut off from all wire communication. Telegraph and telephone companies stated their principal difficulty in restoring communication to Galveston and Beaumont was due to damage to their lines in the vicinity of Houston.

Houston, Beaumont, Galveston and a group of lesser towns are cut off and for a while San Antonio and Austin were cut off, but communication with the latter was re-established. A report from Galveston by last night's latest arrivals in Houston, told of comparative quiet among the residents. The streets of Galveston were reported filled with rainwater but the level of the sea water was several feet below that of the city last night. Early reports of water from the bay running through the streets were believed today to be incorrect as the rainwater could not fill the city's sewers and flood the thoroughfares.

The greatest damage is that to crops and farmhouses along the coastal plains where the storm raged. The United States weather service has given the people of tide section along the coast ample warning and it is believed most of the people have taken advantage of the warning.

With the American dollar enthroned as monarch of the exchange markets bankers here looked to England to protect her credit by the establishment of a huge war loan in this city. Overnight cable reports from London telling that English bankers were talking of the establishment of such a loan were discussed with interest in financial circles as indicating that realization had at last come to London that pounds sterling ing were no longer the world standard of finance.

There seemed to be little doubt in the opinion of those familiar with the situation that should England seek to issue a loan of approximately $500,000,000 in two year five per cent. bonds, free from income tax outlined in cable dispatches as a suggestion for remedying the present situation, such a loan would be cared for here and the foreign exchange markets would be restored to some degree of equilibrium.

American Banks Do Not Worry

In view of the fact that all contracts placed by the warring powers in the United States call for payment in dollars—and not in sterling as had been popularly believed—American bankers were inclined today to leave the situation entirely in the hands of foreign bankers, upon whom fall the big losses due to the present depressed rates.

The disruption of the exchange market was reflected in today's active stock market where the foreign selling of American bonds was resumed.

BRITAIN LOSES FIRST TROOPS ON TRANSPORT

Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, will not be able to assure the safety of his armies until the menace presented by the operations of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in Courland, is removed. In the Bausk district of Courland the German army has been driven back toward the Aa river, while Kovno is still stemming the German tide. The chief struggle, however, centers north of the Niemen river. Between the Narva and the Bug the German drive evidently is making some headway, although Petrograd claims that attacks of the invaders in this region have been repulsed after heavy fighting. Along the middle Bug the Austrians and Germans have forced several crossings. If the Russians plan to hold the valuable transverse railroad running through Vilna, Grodno, Bialystok, Brest-Litovsk and Kovno, they must soon check the Austrians and Germans definitely.

Eastern Situation Clearing

From the standpoint of the entente allies the near eastern situation is clearing with the assertion, officially inspired, from Nish, that Serbia's attitude is not irreconcilable, but that the settlement must be more general than a mere rectification of frontiers in one locality. Former Premier Venizelos, having been summoned by King Constantine, is expected to be once more in the saddle tomorrow.

Romania is becoming more determined in her refusal to permit the passage of munitions to Turkey, which country is reported to be showing concern over the attitude of Bulgaria.

ADMIRALTY'S OFFICIAL REPORT.

Meager Details of Sinking of Transport Royal Edward in Bagean.

London, Aug. 17.—The British transport, Royal Edward, has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. Announcement of this effect was made officially today. Six hundred men were saved out of 1,350 troops and 220 other persons on board.

The announcement follows:

"The British transport, Royal Edward, was sunk by an enemy submarine in the Aegean sea last Saturday morning. According to the information at present available the transport had on board 32 military officers and 1,350 troops, in addition to the ships crew of 20 officers and men.

"The troops consisted mainly of reinforcements for the 20th division and details of the Royal army medical corps. Full information has not yet been received, but it is known that about 600 have been saved."

So far as has been reported officially, it is the first instance in which a British transport has been attacked successfully by a submarine. It had been a matter of pride with the British government that it had transported hundreds of thousands of troops across many seas without the loss of life. It is probable that the number of troops sent to France and Belgium since the beginning of the war is considerably in excess of 700,000. In addition large numbers of men have been transported to the Dardanelles, Egypt, South Africa and Serbia. Troops have been brought in from Canada, New Zealand, Australia and India for defense of Australia and India. The transports are accompanied by an escort of warships, chief reliance being placed on destroyers, for warding off submarine attacks. The British announcement shows that the Royal Edward was engaged in conveying troops to the Dardanelles front having been sunk in the Aegean sea.

U-Boats Very Active.

German submarines sent to these waters to assist the Turks have been very active. One of them, U-51, under command of Captain Otto Hersing, made the voyage from Wilhelmshafen to the Dardanelles and sank the battleships Triumph and Majestic.

The Royal Edward apparently had been engaged in the transport service since early in the war. On Aug. 11, 1914, she sailed from Montreal with 500 French reservists on board. The last report in maritime records show her arrival on October 18 at Plymouth.

An unofficial dispatch from Berlin Feb. 21 reported the sinking of a British transport with troops and of a steamer which was accompanying the transport. Later it was said a prize offered in Germany for sinking a transport had been distributed. No official statement was made on this subject, however, either in Berlin or in London.

The Royal Edward was 11,117 tons gross and 526 feet long. She was owned by the Canadian Northern Steamship company of Toronto. She was built in Glasgow in 1908.

GERMANS WIN OF KOVNO.

Many Cannon and 4,500 Prisoners Taken With a Russian Fort.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—One of the outlying forts of Kovno, between the Niemen river and Giesia, to the south of the main fortifications, has been captured by the Germans, it was announced by German army headquarters today.

Giesia is a small town two and a half miles south of Kovno on the left bank of the Niemen, which flows twice sharply to the south and then runs northward again in the approximate shape of the letter W shortly before Kovno is reached.

More than 240 cannon and 4,500 prisoners were captured at Kovno, the statement adds. Three forts at Novogorodok also have been captured, army headquarters report.

RESISTANCE WILL INCREASE.

Amsterdam, Aug. 17.—Warning is telegraphed to Berlin by the war correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger from the eastern war theatre that the resistance of the Russians may be expected to increase as the Austro-German front approaches the Russian line of defense.

The correspondent declares that the Russians can dispose sufficiently strong forces to enable them to make a serious temporary resistance and adds that battles of increasing intensity with perhaps a retardation in the German advance are to be looked for in the immediate future.

U. S. GUNBOAT ORDERED IN.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch from Sofia to Reuters' Telegram company says the Turkish authorities at Constantinople have ordered the American gunboat Scorpion, which has been in those waters for some time, to take up her moorings in the inner part of the Golden Horn. Ambassador Morgenthau's protests were unavailing, the dispatch says, but he was able to utilize the occasion to settle some minor questions which have been pending.

The shortage of coal in Constantinople is expected to result in a few days in discontinuance of the electric lighting and street car service.

HAVE NO MONEY FOR RUDISILL

Committee of Property Owners Given Little Encouragement.

A committee headed by Charles W. Orr and representing the property holders on Rudisill boulevard spent an hour and three-quarters with Mayor Hosey and Comptroller William C. Baude Tuesday forenoon in an effort to convince them that the paving of the boulevard should be started at once. The result of the session was the promise of the mayor that provided funds could be found with which to do the work on the street intersections, the work would be done by one of the city departments or another, but that he and Comptroller Baude were unable at present to find any way to secure these funds.

Mr. Orr in a detailed statement as to the conditions that now exist that make the paving almost a necessity and with a petition bearing the signatures of the majority of the property holders, explained to Mr. Hosey that paving is desired by the owners and that there will be no demonstrators against it.

Mr. Hosey expressed himself as satisfied that the boulevard should be paved, but told the committee that the appropriation for paving as prepared by the comptroller would not permit the expenditure of $6,000 required in the crossing intersections. The board of works, he explained, had its course mapped for the coming year, that it would be practically impossible to find money to do the work.

At the suggestion of Newton A. Morris, former superior court judge here, the body was taken from the undertaker's wagon, in which it was placed at the lynch scene and put into an automobile on the outskirts of the town. The automobile started toward Atlanta.

Judge Morris telephoned from Smyrna to an Atlanta undertaker to meet the automobile and take charge of the body. Body Is Violated.

When the body was cut down, parts of Frank's shirt were torn away and his face was roughly handled before it was put into the undertaker's wagon.

Within a short time after the body was started for Atlanta, excitement almost subsided and the town presented almost a normal appearance before noon. After a special session of the Cobb county commissioners, at which the employment of a special attorney to assist the coroner's jury was authorized, Coroner John A. Booth empaneled a jury and began an investigation of the lynching.

BOARD REJECTS BIDS.

The crowd increased rapidly as the day wore on. By 10 o'clock many women and children were mingling with the crowd in the woods at the edge of which the body still hung. At that hour no effort had been made to dispose of the body, although Coroner Booth had been summoned.

It is believed that the stop at the bridge over Little river near Eatonton, where the armed party talked loudly and fired shots, was a ruse to delay pursuers. The vicinity of the bridge was thoroughly searched and at the time the search was being made it is probable Frank already had met death.

Frank's body was cut down at 10:15 o'clock, but not until Robert Howell had spoken to the crowd advocating mutilation of the body.

Newton Morris immediately pleaded with the throng to allow an inquest to take its proper course. A vote was suggested and taken.

It was overwhelmingly in favor of allowing the coroner to take charge of the body. It then was cut down and the two mile trip to Marietta started. The inquest was set for eleven o'clock.

At the suggestion of Newton A. Morris, former superior court judge here, the body was taken from the undertaker's wagon, in which it was placed at the lynch scene and put into an automobile on the outskirts of the town. The automobile started toward Atlanta.

Judge Morris telephoned from Smyrna to an Atlanta undertaker to meet the automobile and take charge of the body. Body Is Violated.

HAS FOUND ITS WORK EASY.

No Difficulty Met in Abducting Frank From Prison to Scene of Lynching.

Milledgeville, Ga., Aug. 17.—A well organized party of armed men who came in five automobiles, attacked the Georgia state penitentiary here last night, took Leo M. Frank, serving a life sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, at Atlanta, from a dormitory and escorted with him.

Reports early today were that Frank had been lynched.

For hours after the attack no trace of the automobiles bearing the party could be found, but at about daylight newspaper men picked up the trail at a point on Little river, near Eatonton, Ga. J. K. Jackson, a white farmer, living near a bridge over Little river, said that shortly after midnight he heard loud talking and then many shots. He heard the automobiles leave in the direction of Eatonton after the firing. A hurried search of the immediate vicinity failed to reveal anything that would indicate that Frank had met summary vengeance there.

Cut Wires; Capture Warden.

The armed men arrived in the vicinity of the prison farm practically unnoticed and proceeded methodically to its business.

All means of wire communication from the institution to Milledgeville, three miles away, were destroyed and all wires, except one telephone line from Milledgeville, also were cut.

Five men went to the house of Warden J. T. Smith, awakened him and made him prisoner. At the same time a small squad of men went to the home of J. M. Burke, superintendent of the farm. Burke was forced to go with them to the gate nearest the dormitory where it was believed Frank was kept.

The two guards on duty there were ordered, while guns were leveled on them, to open the gates. The party then rushed in, quickly got Frank and hurried him to one of the waiting automobiles. He was forced down into the car, while a member of the party is said to have flourished a rope in front of him.

Time Lost Starting Pursuit.

Without delay those who had been guarding Warden Smith left him and hurried to the party at the gates. The automobiles then started off swiftly in a northerly direction.

With only a limited number of guards at the prison and wire communication with Milledgeville interrupted, immediate pursuit was impossible. Some time elapsed before word could be brought here and officers started in the direction taken by the party. None of these officers reported for several hours after they left. The first report of the route taken came from newspaper men, who left Macon at about the same time the officers got started from Milledgeville.

Theory of Rescue Advanced.

In the absence of definite news that Frank had been lynched many were inclined to believe that possibly it was his friends and not his foes who took him away and that the display of a rope and the shooting were parts of a plan to cover the real intentions of the party. Frank was sufficiently recovered from his wounded throat, inflicted by another prisoner a month ago to leave the prison hospital Sunday and take his place in the sleeping quarters with the other prisoners.

Mrs. Frank, who had been almost constantly with her husband since William Green attacked him, was informed of last night's developments shortly after they occurred. She was reported to have maintained her composure and declined to comment.

Prison Superintendent's Story.

"I was called to the door just as I was preparing to retire," said Captain J. M. Burke, superintendent of the state farm, today.

"When I passed the threshold two strong men grabbed me and snatched handcuffs on my wrists. Four others stood guard over me with guns and pistols. I remonstrated and they declared it was no use for me to squirm as they had come for Leo Frank and were going to get him.

"I told them that Frank was not at my house and they said they knew that but they were going to take me where they knew Frank was quartered. I was marched upon the penitentiary building by a guard which was doubled as we proceeded. When we reached the building, a demand was made for the gate to be opened and when the trusty prisoner awaited official orders one of the men began cutting the wires and informed the prisoner if he did not open it he would be killed as soon as entrance was effected.

Gate Unlocked; Mob Enters.

"The gate was then unlocked and C. Heister, a night guard, came forward but he was immediately covered and ordered to throw up his hands. Half way up the steps I was halted while half a dozen men rushed by me and made a dash for Frank's room. One of the prisoners who witnessed this scene declared that four men took Frank by his arms and legs while a fifth grabbed him by the hair and he was dragged out and bumped down the stone steps. While I looked on, Frank did not utter a word but apparently was suffering intensely and groaned from pain inflicted in handling him in his wounded condition. The affair was all over within five minutes, it seemed to me.

Well Ordered and Methodical.

"During the entire time I was handcuffed and under guard. When the crowd brought Frank down and started off, I asked the fellow who had snatched the handcuffs to unlock them, but he laughed and said if I would accompany them, they would take off my irons. The whole procedure was well ordered and methodical and only a few words were spoken. That evidently was agreed upon. A leader did all the talking. Just as they started off, the leader said, 'Now, boys, fast.' In the time it takes to tell it they were off and I could see the lights flashing as they went over the hill towards Marietta."

A. C. Phillips, sheriff, said over the telephone from Eatonton, at 8:30 o'clock this morning that a search for Frank's body near the bridge over Little river had so far been fruitless. Many empty rifle shells were found near where Jackson said he had heard the shots.

SLATON IN GREAT WRATH.

Former Governor of Georgia Who Commuted Frank's Sentence, Speaks.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—Former Governor John M. Slaton, of Georgia, who as chief executive of that state, commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of death passed upon Leo M. Frank, and who is here visiting the Panama-Pacific exposition, was informed this morning that Frank had been lynched.

"The act was a consummate outrage," said Mr. Slaton, "and every man engaged in the lynching should be hanged for he is an assassin. Such an act is contrary to the civilization of Georgia, and one which every good citizen will condemn."

"I could use no tongue too condemnatory. I believe the governor of Georgia will use all the power of the state to punish the malefactors who disgraced the civilization of Georgia."

"Their act was one of cowardice, which belongs alone to the assassin. I am shocked and horrified beyond expression. Any man who approves of this act of the mob of murderers is unworthy to be a Georgian."

Any man or newspaper which condones this offense ought to be driven out of the state. But the conduct of this miserable mob of assassins in the conduct of the same people who shoot a man from behind a fence or murder a woman from a cowardly heart."

PLUNGED IN DEEP GRIEF.

New York, Aug. 17. When Rudolph Frank and his wife, parents of Leo M. Frank, learned definitely today that their son had been hanged near Marietta, Ga., they drew the shades at all windows of their home in Brooklyn and refused to answer the doorbell or telephone. Neighbors said the Frank family had begun an eight-day period of mourning, which was customary under the Jewish religion. Early callers at the Frank home were met by Otto Stern, Frank's brother-in-law. He said that Mr. Frank and his wife were asleep and had not been told of the kidnapping of their son. Stern said he learned of the matter through the newspapers. Within two hours the family had received word that Frank's body had been found hanging to a tree.

RECENT LETTER BY FRANK.

Chicago, Aug. 17. A letter written by Leo M. Frank shortly after his incarceration at Milledgeville to Maurice Klein, a deputy United States marshal here, was made public today by Mr. Klein. It was dated July 4, 1915, at the office of Warden Smith in the Milledgeville prison and said:

"I have your kind letter and appreciate so much your sentiment and thoughts of me. Gov. Slaton's act was indeed courageous and wise. Just how sagacious, the near future I hope will more than amply demonstrate. I am now gradually adjusting myself to the new environment. My health is much better. I expect to improve both physically and mentally. The warden and his staff are both kind and solicitous. After a breathing space we will again take up the fight which will eventuate in vindication and liberty. With every good wish, I am cordially yours, LEO M. FRANK."

WAS FRANK'S COLLEGE MATE.

Albert Schauf, of the real estate firm of Hilgeman and Schauf, was a member of the class of 1906 at Cornell with Leo M. Frank and knew him well, being engaged with him in laboratory work at the university.

CUBS TAKE FINAL FROM EVANSVILLE

Osborne Pitches Great Ball and Fort Wayne Wins.

Had Sheehan thrown with a little more accuracy to first in the third of yesterday's contest, Archie Osborne would have had another well deserved shutout chalked up on his side of the board. But there stands that big "it" and beside it a pair of runs for the Evans.

Fromholz hurried for the Rivermen, and he didn't look anything like the formidable pitcher he was earlier in the season. Three runs in the first seemed to take the pep out of him, and he worked like a wooden man the rest of the time.

Hartle and Brant were out when the Cubs started their scoring in the first. Sheehan walking and going to third on Holderman's single to deep right. Holderman stole and Bratchi scored two with his double to left. He then moved up a peg on a wild heave and tallied when Paul Beyers singled. The third was Fort Wayne's bad inning, and it was a little grandstand alibi on the part of Fromholz that did it. He was running to first and bumped Holderman and fell, sprawling out all over the ground and playing dead. It naturally unnerved the Cubs to some extent. Sheehan heaved wild and two crossed the plate. Wolf ran for Fromholz and the big fellow went in to pitch as if nothing had happened.

Hartle hit in this frame for the locals, and was found hugging third after Sheehan's long single. Hartle scored on Holderman's out.

Let it be said for Sheehan that in spite of his one bad heave he played considerable baseball, and figured prominently in all of Fort Wayne's scores. He has developed from a rather green young thing into one of the best third sackers in the league in his summer's experience in Fort Wayne. Sheehan is there every minute, and next year will never in the world see him in the little leagues. Brubaker got away with two hits yesterday and made a couple of the prettiest plays in the field that he has made since he came to the big league. He still suffers from his bad ankle but he is overcoming the difficulty rapidly and shows a lot of class. Hart, playing out of his position in right field, made a pretty catch on a hard one, and got one of the Cubs' ten hits.

Osborne hurled steady and consistent ball, striking out three men when strikeouts were essential, and holding the Evans under his thumb through practically the entire game. Beyers and Hartle played mightily fast ball in the field and on the bases, and Brant played a great game in his position, and Holderman and Bratchi were speedy on the bases. Score:

TOSSING THE BOUQUETS.

Bade Myers strolled up to ump Sear at one point in the game and feelingly inquired after the condition of the ump's optics. He seemed to be greatly worried over B's blindness and suggested a pair of glasses.

"It's too bad you can't see any more," Myers moaned, weeping on the ump's shoulder blade.

THE CASE OF KIBBLE.

Kibble, of Evansville, peaced about the third base coach line during the past series here, doing the "Charlie Chaplin" and playing the nut in a hundred ways. Kibble is shipping and Evansville isn't trusting him any more. For a number of years he was a wildfire hitter and now he's hitting nearly down to his weight.

SATURDAY IS BADE MYERS DAY

Thursday is to Be Last Ladies' Day of the Season.

The Fort Wayne Cubs play an exhibition game at Dayton, O., Wednesday and will be back on duty here for a double bill with Terre Haute Thursday. Thursday will be the last ladies' day of the season. The season closes here Saturday and the team goes from this city to Grand Rapids for the final series.

Saturday will be Bade Myers day, and the grand old man will be the center of attraction. Baseball isn't baseball in Fort Wayne without Bade Myers, and the Cubs ought to turn out in great style to do him reverence.

Saturday will also be a field day for the Fort Wayne team and there will be field exercises of all kinds on hand for the husky Cubs.

ALEXANDER CALLS JOHNSON BEST

Says Washington American Hurler is Greatest Flinger.

(By Brown Holmes.) Grover Alexander, of the Philadelphia Nationals, has been heralded this season as the greatest pitcher in baseball, but Grover says the title belongs to Walter Johnson, of the Washington Americans.

When I asked Alex to name the best pitcher in the game he said, "Walter Johnson," without a moment's hesitation. Others who have given their opinion have named Alex in preference to the great Washington chucker.

"The test for a pitcher comes when his club is having a bad season," said Alexander. "Johnson was a winner in the years when the Washington club spent most of its time down around last place."

"The big fellow has been in the American league eight years and has always won a big share of his games. That's long enough to show that his real big seasons were not flukes. Johnson's got as much speed as any pitcher ever had, and he's got control and everything else to go with it."

"To go back and take in the pitchers of all time, I think Matty was the best. He won a big percentage of his games for fifteen years or more. That's a wonderful record."

"Some of the pitchers of the old days have been called great pitchers, but I can't see how any of them could have been better than Matty. He is not as good this year as he was formerly, and that's why I pick Johnson above him. Nobody could expect a pitcher to be a wonder forever."

NICE WEDDING CELEBRATION.

Munich, Germany, Aug. 17. To celebrate their silver wedding anniversary, the Prince and Princess of Thurn and Taxis in Regensburg, have created a charity fund of 500,000 marks for the benefit of the inhabitants of Regensburg.

FORT WAYNE HAS HAD ELEVEN PITCHERS THIS YEAR.

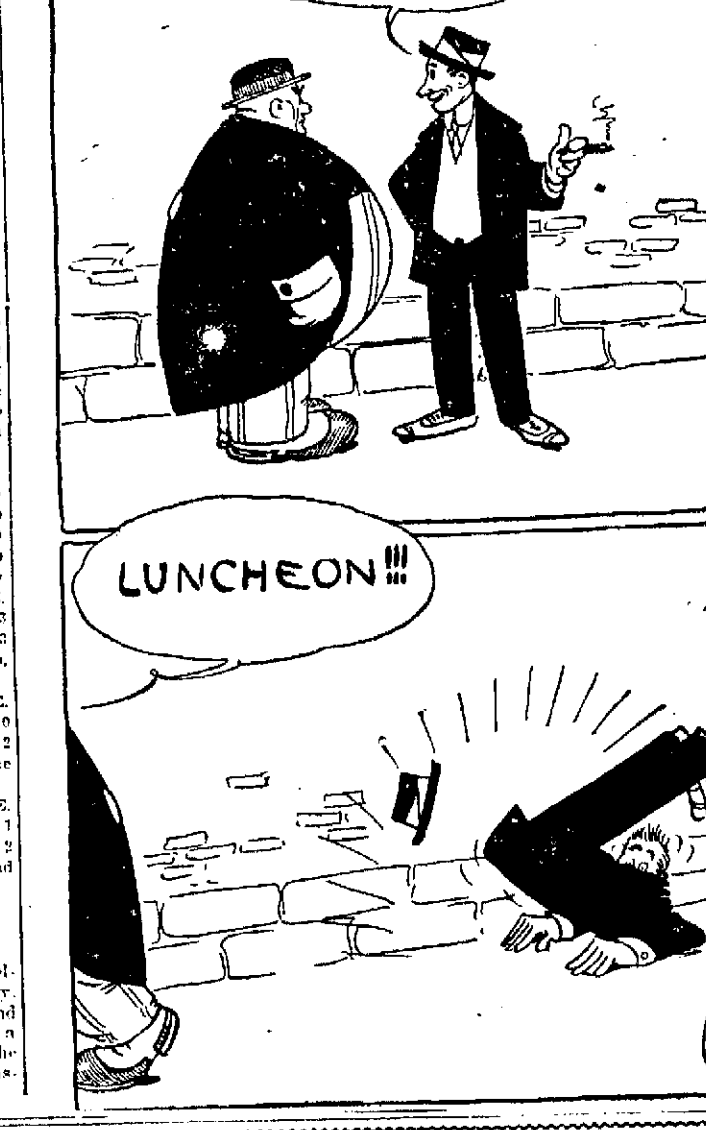

The Central league player limit is fourteen, so the following table of the number of players who participated in Central league games this year shows that twelve Fort Wayne players have fallen by the wayside. Twenty-one men have been dropped by Wheeling in the season just finishing. Eleven pitchers have tried out and only one of the originals still is on duty, reliable Red Ainsworth sticking clear through. The following list of teams and the number of men they have had in the season has been compiled by President Louis Heilbroner.

TO SAVE RUSSIAN CROPS.

Petrograd, Aug. 17.—At several points in the interior of Russia, women and school children have organized societies to handle the crops, which promise to be the most abundant for years. At Serdolsk, in the province of Saratof, and at Orenburg, the women and children are already at the point of starting for the large harvest fields, which have been without workmen since the mobilization. The town council at Tzaritzyn has passed a law providing free agricultural machinery for the harvesters.

TRAPSHOOTERS SHOOT AWAY $80,000 IN A SINGLE WEEK.

The entry fee for a shooter going into every event is $20, but the average entry fee is $40, bringing that total for 900 shooters to $36,000. The treasury of the association was tapped for $19,000, for putting up tents, erecting traps, buying targets, etc., bringing a grand total of $55,000, which may be a low estimate, if anything.

Men who follow the plow mingle with millionaires in this sport. One of the first to pull a trigger was W. E. Phillips, of Chicago, and right beside him was R. G. Weir, a machinist from Freeport, Ill. There was a ranch owner from Texas and a painter from Denver. Then there was a Concordia, Kan., farmer, who was represented by a letter of regret. He said he couldn't come because he would be busy with his crops.

Trapshooting is the most cosmopolitan sport under the sun.

A fair average of the amount spent by each for railroad fare is $25, making a total of $22,500 for transportation. Shell cost $30 per thousand, and it was estimated 100,000 would be used during the tournament, making $30,000 for ammunition.

More than $80,000 is being literally shot away this week by trapshooters attending the grand American handicap tournament at Chicago.

The event is the blue ribbon classic of the gun world. Every section of the country and every walk of life was represented in the entry list of 900 men and women which broke all entry records.

The $80,000 represents the amount spent by shooters for the fun of feeling the kick of a gun, smelling powder and hearing the yell of the scorer calling out "dead" after each "bird" is shattered into bits.

Trapshooting is amateur sport pure and simple. The shooters not only provide their own guns and shells but pay their own railroad and hotel expenses. And they travel hundreds of miles to reach the tournament city.

Trapshooters not only provide their own guns and shells but pay their own railroad and hotel expenses. And they travel hundreds of miles to reach the tournament city.

PUBLIC HAS LAUGHED HIM INTO A MILLION

Charles Chaplin, Cut-Up of Film-Land, Has Coin Coming Fast.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—If people continue to laugh one year more at his antics on the screen, Charlie Chaplin will have a million dollars stashed away in the bank, he asserts.

Seven years ago he says he was glad to get a job in a factory in London at $1.80 a week, with nothing laid aside.

Denver, Col., Aug. 17.—The supreme court of Colorado today issued a writ of prohibition barring Judge Granby Hillier from presiding at future trials resulting from disorders in the recent strike of coal miners.

The writ was granted on the application of Horace X. Hawkins and associate counsel for the United Mine workers of America, who alleged that Hillier was a former attorney for coal mining companies and therefore prejudiced against former strikers.

The supreme court also granted a supersedeas in the case of John R. Lawson, labor leader convicted in a charge of murder growing out of the Colorado coal miners' strike, and under sentence for life imprisonment. The action allows the Lawson appeal to come before the court on its merits. The court reversed its decision on the request of Lawson's counsel that he be released from jail on bond until after briefs are filed in September.

YELLS "I'M ROBBED" AND GETS PINCHED

When Frank Bolios broke out of the wilderness back of Litchfield Crossing, Mich., several days ago, he was possessed of $12.50, the wanderlust and an overpowering thirst. Guided either by the bright lights he drifted where the wanderlust wandered latest, and found himself moored alongside the bar at 1414 Calhoun street at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Anchored close by, James Hoover, of Warsaw, was swinging at his bawser.

Frank reached into his pocket for his $12.50. Casting his Pinkertonian eye over the surrounding landscape he discovered Mr. Hoover looking suspiciously. "Give me back my $12.50," he demanded.

"What?" replied Mr. Hoover. "That was sure proof, James was the hold-up guy. Before the bartender could apply the mufflers James had raised enough disturbance to bring Patrolman Harry Beverly from the next block. A search of Mr. Hoover's wearables disclosed aught but an unwashed condition, and Officer Beverly treated both the strangers within our gates to a ride. They were booked as vagrants.

TWO RAILROADS GO UNDER A RECEIVER

St. Louis, Aug. 17.—Benjamin F. Bush, president and chairman of the boards of the Missouri Pacific and the St. Louis Iron Mountain & Southern railways, was appointed sole receiver of the two lines by Circuit Judge Adams at Washburn today.

Attorneys for the Missouri Pacific went to Woodstock to present the case to Judge Adams. The Commonwealth Steel company, which brought the receivership suits, agreed with the railways to urge the appointment of President Bush sole receiver. It developed today that the receivership proceedings were agreed to because of the refusal of some of the security holders to agree to the reorganization plan recently announced.

F. AND M. OUTBREAK IN STATE.

Washington, Aug. 17.—A fresh outbreak of foot and mouth disease in a herd of hogs near Mount Vernon, Posey county, Indiana, said to have been communicated by hog cholera serum from Chicago, has thrown the county back into quarantine and has changed the government's plan to raise the quarantine on all the principal stockyards on August 23. The yards affected are at Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Richmond, Boston and Jersey City.

CUBA'S SUGAR CROP.

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 17.—Expectations now run high that Cuba's sugar crop will reach the unprecedented figure of four million tons and will not improve. The planting of additional acreage on a great scale, the fact that owing to the unseasonable rains of last season it was impossible to cut a large proportion of the cane and that this will be ground up at the close of the coming season, and reports that the growing crop is doing splendidly, combine to justify the high estimates. With this goes an unprecedented importation of sugar-making machinery for the equipment of the numerous new mills in all parts of the island.

BIEDERWOLF MAKING GOOD.

A can filled with fish caught by Charles L. Biederwolf, secretary of the Commercial club, who is spending a few days at Crooked Lake, was received by Frank Martin, Monday. A number of Biederwolf's friends enjoyed a fish fry at the club Monday evening.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL.

Titus, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Donald Crawford, of Laporte, Ind., aged 21, a sophomore at Cornell university, died at a hospital here today from a broken neck. Crawford dove headlong in the dark Saturday night to the cement bottom of a swimming tank which had been drained for cleaning.
